COSTA BRAVA IS FORCED TO RESUME PROXY SOLICITATION AND CONTINUE DELAWARE 220 INVESTIGATION AGAINST TECHTEAM GLOBAL BOARD

Boston, April 3, 2006 -- Costa Brava Partnership III LP ("Costa Brava") announced that it has reluctantly terminated an attempt to settle the issues of contention between it and the current Board of Directors of TechTeam Global, Inc. (NASDAQ: TEAM). While the parties had apparently reached an agreement in principal on a joint slate of directors, the incumbent board was unable or unwilling to execute the agreed upon settlement.

"Although Costa Brava bargained in good faith, an acceptable compromise was not achieved, and Costa Brava intends to continue its proxy contest to replace the current Board with directors dedicated to maximizing value for all TechTeam shareholders" said Seth Hamot of Costa Brava. "Over a week ago, after tense and long negotiations we made in good faith, the parties agreed upon a joint slate of directors. We were excited by the chance to endorse a mutually agreeable slate and move forward quickly, without distractions, to improve the underlying value of the firm. The current board has again let the shareholders down. It is extremely frustrating."

Hamot continued, "The time for a settlement has now passed, we have no recourse other than to take our message directly to the shareholders and have them decide. We believe the current Board must be replaced with Directors focused on and committed to creating shareholder value. Our slate of Director Nominees is of the highest integrity and ability, with vast experience in the industry. We urge shareholders to consider the value of having our slate of active, experienced and interested professionals working with new CEO Chris Brown to enhance TechTeam's value."

"Furthermore, we are continuing the Delaware 220 investigation that is scheduled for an initial trial on April 11, 2006. No matter the outcome of the election for a new Board, it is our intention to "raise the bar" regarding acceptable business practices at our company." TechTeam shareholders who have questions or wish to comment on Costa Brava's campaign are welcome to contact Mackenzie Partners Inc., adviser to Costa Brava, toll-free at 800-322-2885 or e-mail: TechTeam@mackenziepartners.com.
