Comments from the Chief Executive Officer

Jaime Rivera, Bladex's Chief Executive Officer, stated the following regarding the quarter's results:

"The second quarter saw the efforts that we have been making along a number of fronts, bear fruit in a decisive manner."

Our Treasury Division had a banner quarter, as Bladex was able to make good on our views on both trends in the market and distortions in the risk reward relationship within the Region. Importantly, the Treasury Division in its upgraded form affords the Bank the tools needed to leverage our corporate skills beyond calls on credit risk to provide us with diversification in the form of market risk based revenue.

Our Commercial Division put forth its fifth consecutive quarter of operating revenue growth. Following the Bank's strategic decision of last year, the Division has developed a growing corporate franchise that is providing fully 46% of the group's revenues. During the second quarter alone, its average credit balances increased a marked 7%, while the leasing activity is playing an increasingly important role in supporting our margins in the face of ample market liquidity. Significantly, growth took place across most of our markets, and as a result, portfolio diversification improved further. Brazilian exposure, which traditionally has represented around 45% of our commercial portfolio, is now 36%.

With efficiency levels improving further and credit quality at historically strong levels, year-to-date operating income, at $40.2 million, has already exceeded the $39.3 million operating income total of the full year 2006. Significantly, annualized ROE levels for the second quarter were 18.0%, an especially telling figure in light of our strong 21.2% Tier 1 capitalization.

On the institutional side of the business, the second quarter saw progress along several fronts as well. Among some other favorable developments, S&P upgraded the Bank's outlook to "Positive", while Moody's upgraded our BFSR. In addition, our stock was added to the Russell 3000[®] Index, and we signed a cooperation agreement with China Development Bank.

For the balance of 2007, Bladex will continue working along the path determined by our 2010 strategic plan: a selective but consistent expansion of our client franchise, combined with a gradual and well-executed deployment of new services that leverage the Bank's core competencies, and aligning our risk management methodology with Basel II standards.

Based on our results, with a well-honed team in place, and a generally favorable external environment, I am specially excited about the prospects for our company".

The Bank wishes to ensure that such statements are accompanied by meaningful cautionary statements pursuant to the safe harbor established by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements reflect the expectations of the Bank's management and are based on currently available data; however, actual experience with respect to these factors is subject to future events and uncertainties, which could materially impact the Bank's expectations. Among the factors that can cause actual performance and results to differ materially are as follows: the anticipated growth of the Bank's credit portfolio; the continuation of the Bank's preferred creditor status; the impact of increasing interest rates and of improving macroeconomic environment in the Region on the Bank's financial condition; the execution of the Bank's strategies and initiatives, including its revenue diversification strategy; the adequacy of the Bank's allowance for credit losses; the need for additional provisions for credit losses; the Bank's ability to achieve future growth, to reduce its liquidity levels and increase its leverage; the Bank's ability to maintain its investment-grade credit ratings; the availability and mix of future sources of funding for the Bank's lending operations; potential trading losses; the possibility of fraud; and the adequacy of the Bank's sources of liquidity to replace large deposit withdrawals.
