BANCOLOMBIA S.A. ANNOUNCES TECHNICAL FAILURE IN THE PROCESS OF OPERATION

In connection with the technological failures that affected the normal operations during the weekend of February 26 to 28, 2010, Bancolombia S.A. (“Bancolombia”) announces that:

1. The incident was produced by a failure in one of our technology applications on the afternoon of February 26. Bancolombia immediately engaged its contingency plans aimed at restarting normal operations, which began to progressively normalize around 6 p.m. that afternoon.
2. During the days of February 27 and 28, all actions necessary to reestablish normal processing of deposits for our clients were completed.
3. Transactional operations have been reestablished, though we continue to experience some minor technological difficulties, which is to be expected during the ongoing process of resetting our technological platform. We continue to work arduously on reestablishing normal operations.
4. These technological outages were not the result of a breach in our security systems nor were they the result of an external attack. We emphasize that at no time was the safety of our clients’ deposits or our business at risk.

Any inconveniences or claims resulting from these technological outages will be dealt with through our customer service channels.

We offer our apologies again to our clients and users for any inconvenience this technological outage may have caused and we continue to work tirelessly to guarantee our commitment to a high level of customer service.
