Dear Valued DST Client:

We have just announced a transaction under which DST will combine with SS&C Technologies to create a financial services leader with an enhanced breadth and depth of products and solutions, through which we expect to drive additional value for your business and your customers.

DST and SS&C offer complementary financial services solutions that will expand our existing full service capabilities. SS&C has particular strength in alternative assets and institutional and investment management, which will be enhanced by DST's leadership and scale in asset management, brokerage, retirement and wealth management solutions. As part of SS&C, we also expect to have access to the resources and innovative cloud and mobile technology to advance the progress DST has been making in recent years in key areas including security, compliance and technology.

In addition, DST and SS&C are already familiar with each other following the acquisition and seamless integration of DST Global Solutions by SS&C in 2014. We share a commitment to providing superior service and financial products to help advance our clients' financial management objectives, and we expect to continue building on this tradition as a combined organization.

As for next steps, the transaction is expected to close by the third quarter of 2018, subject to customary closing conditions and regulatory approvals. Until then, there will be no changes in your products, service, contract terms or the way we conduct business with you. I want to assure you that serving our clients remains our top priority, and we expect a seamless transition for you and your customers upon closing. If you have any questions, please reach out to your usual representative.

We are excited about opportunities this combination presents to continue helping our clients grow and your customers prosper. Thank you for your continued business and support.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This document may include "forward-looking" statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, including, without limitation, statements relating to the completion of the merger. In this context, forward-looking statements often address expected future business and financial performance and financial condition, and often contain words such as "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "believe," "seek," "see," "will," "would," "target," similar expressions, and variations or negatives of these words. Forward-looking statements by their nature address matters that are, to different degrees, uncertain, such as statements about the consummation of the proposed merger and the anticipated benefits thereof. These and other forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future results and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed in any forward-looking statements, including the failure to consummate the proposed merger or to make any filing or take other action required to consummate such merger in a timely matter or at all. The inclusion of such statements should not be regarded as a representation that any plans, estimates or expectations will be achieved. You should not place undue reliance on such statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from such plans, estimates or expectations include, among others, that: (1) the Company may be unable to obtain stockholder approval as required for the merger; (2) conditions to the closing of the merger, including obtaining required regulatory approvals, may not be satisfied or waived on a timely basis or otherwise; (3) a governmental entity or a regulatory body may prohibit, delay or refuse to grant approval for the consummation of the merger and may require conditions, limitations or restrictions in connection with such approvals that can adversely affect the anticipated benefits of the proposed merger or cause the parties to abandon the proposed merger; (4) the merger may involve unexpected costs, liabilities or delays; (5) the business of the Company may suffer as a result of uncertainty surrounding the merger or the potential adverse changes to business relationships resulting from the proposed merger; (6) legal proceedings may be initiated related to the merger and the outcome of any legal proceedings related to the merger may be adverse to the Company; (7) the Company may be adversely affected by other general industry, economic, business, and/or competitive factors; (8) there may be unforeseen events, changes or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the merger agreement or affect the ability to recognize benefits of the merger; (9) risks that the proposed merger may disrupt current plans and operations and present potential difficulties in employee retention as a result of the merger; (10) there may be other risks to consummation of the merger, including the risk that the merger will not be consummated within the expected time period or at all; and (11) the risks described from time to time in the Company's reports filed with the SEC under the heading "Risk Factors," including the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2016, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current Reports on Form 8-K and in other of the Company's filings with the SEC. Such risks include, without limitation: the effects of competition in the businesses in which the Company operates; changes in customer demand and the Company's ability to provide products and services on terms that are favorable to it; and the impacts of breaches or potential breaches of network, information technology or data security, natural disasters, terrorist attacks or acts of war or significant litigation and any resulting financial impact not covered by insurance. Consequences of material differences in results as compared with those anticipated in the forward-looking statements could include, among other things, business disruption, operational problems, financial loss, legal liability to third parties and similar risks, any of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results of operations, credit rating or liquidity. These risks, as well as other risks associated with the proposed merger, will be more fully discussed in the proxy statement that will be filed with the SEC in connection with the proposed merger. There can be no assurance that the merger will be completed, or if it is completed, that it will close within the anticipated time period or that the expected benefits of the merger will be realized. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date on which such statements were made. Except as required by applicable law, the Company undertakes no obligation to update forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances arising after such date.

DST Hedge Fund Administration Employee Letter

January 11, 2018

By now you've heard today's news that DST will be acquired by SS&C Technologies. Thanks to your hard work, DST and KRFS have had great success as fund administrators with more than two decades of hedge fund and private equity experience and we pride ourselves on our ability to act as a vital resource to our clients and their customers. I wanted to connect with our Hedge Fund Administration team to communicate my appreciation for everything you do and reiterate our commitment to being as transparent as possible throughout the integration process.

This transaction is about continued growth for both DST and SS&C and presents significant opportunities for our clients and employees. However, it is too early to make determinations about how the two companies will come together. We are still in the very early stages of the transition and, until the transaction closes, we will continue to operate separately from SS&C. Your relationships with your clients are key to their success and to DST's and we are looking to you and your teams to continue to deliver the outstanding level of service you always do.

I also want to underscore my commitment to communicating with you about any major changes ahead as we form our integration teams and work through the process of bringing the companies together.

On behalf of the DST Board of Directors and the rest of the management team, thank you for your commitment and continued dedication to DST. Please don't hesitate to reach out to your supervisor with additional questions.

Sincerely,

Ned Burke

ALPS Employee Letter

By now I am sure you have heard the news or read Steve Hooley's message that DST is being acquired by SS&C. Steve mentions that he expects the transaction to close by the third quarter, and we will continue to operate separately until then.

I participated in a Management presentation last week to senior management from SS&C and I can tell you that they are very excited about the ALPS business unit. That meeting focused entirely on the DST businesses, we did not focus on operations, integration plan or employee comp/benefits. That information will be forthcoming in the weeks and months ahead. Other than our AAIS business there is no overlap with the other ALPS businesses.

SS&C is a growth company focused primarily on financial services (now they will have the DST Healthcare business!) They have done 48 acquisitions since 1986 which has been a key component of their growth strategy. I see multiple opportunities where this transaction could accelerate our growth, and I will expand on those as I learn more about their operations.

On that note, I will communicate to all of you any details on how I see things developing on all fronts as I learn them. Honestly, for most of the ALPS operating businesses I see very little changing very similar to when we were acquired by DST. For now, it is business as usual!

Thanks,

Ned

DST Senior Leader Briefing Talking Points

Introduction

Thank you all for joining me on such short notice.

Before I go any further, I must remind everyone that the information I am about to provide is to be kept strictly confidential until our press release goes out. Please do not discuss this with anyone until after that time.

With that being said, tomorrow we will be announcing that DST and SS&C Technologies have entered into a definitive agreement under which SS&C will acquire all of the outstanding common stock of DST for $84 per share in cash, for a total value of approximately $5.4 billion.

In case you are unfamiliar, SS&C is a global provider of investment and financial services and software for the global financial services industry, headquartered in Windsor, Connecticut. They also own businesses such as GlobalOp, Advent, and Genesis.

I'm going to take a few minutes to outline the details of our announcement, then discuss what you can expect as far as next steps as we move forward.

Transaction Benefits

First, let me tell you a bit more about why we are so excited to announce this combination.

As the largest fund administrator in the world, SS&C brings the global scale, resources and innovative cloud and mobile technology to best position DST's businesses for the future.

SS&C is also excited to be adding our Healthcare business to their offering.

This combination significantly advances our extensive multi-year strategic transformation, while bringing together two well-respected industry leaders with substantial opportunity for continued growth.

SS&C is an ideal partner as it shares our commitment to superior service and innovation, a culture of excellence and a strong track record of performance.

Leadership, Headquarters and Structure

The combined company will be led by Bill Stone and headquartered in Windsor, Connecticut.

SS&C is also committed to maintaining a significant presence in Kansas City and across DST locations around the world.

As with any transaction between two large, publicly traded companies, we expect there will be some overlap in functions.

Similar to DST, SS&C is focused on high performance and great results, and we expect SS&C to take this into account in planning for the integration of our two companies in the months ahead.

Overall, we believe that our employees will benefit from being part of a larger company with a diversified platform.

Integration Planning

We will be forming integration teams comprising leaders from both companies to help plan for a smooth combination.

As we work through the integration process, we are committed to providing additional updates about our progress.

Business as Usual

Please keep in mind that until the transaction closes, which is expected to occur by the third quarter of 2018, DST and SS&C will continue to operate as separate companies.

It is business as usual for all of us at DST and our customers are continuing to count on our unparalleled service and support.

As such, please remind employees to remain focused on their day-to-day responsibilities and continue delivering the same level of service our clients have come to expect from us.

The tone we set as leaders plays a big role in how all of our stakeholders react to this news.

Next Steps

Shortly thereafter, we will send a letter to all employees with the press release and an FAQ attached to help address what we expect to be top of mind questions.

In addition, a video will be available to employees on DST Connect discussing the combination.

- As a reminder, until that time, this news is considered material non-public information and highly confidential.

Communicating with Employees

As leaders of DST, each of you has an important role to play in sharing the news of our combination with SS&C with our employees and other stakeholders.

Once the announcement is public, you can make yourself available to discuss the announcement and answer questions, as appropriate.

It will also be important for team members to hear from you about the benefits of this merger and what it means for our future. Again, you will set the tone for how your teams react to the news.

Stay confident and forward-looking, and encourage employees to continue focusing on their day-to-day responsibilities.

We will be providing you with a senior leader toolkit that has a copy of the press release, the employee letter and FAQ, and talking points to help guide your conversations with employees as well as additional support materials to communicate the benefits of this announcement to our customer and partners.

Please take the time to familiarize yourself with the communications materials — we want to ensure that our messages are consistent.

Of course, this announcement will be just the first step in the process, and we will not have all of the answers on day one. It's important for you not to speculate on anything that you don't know. There are still many decisions yet to be made.

As you can imagine, this announcement may lead to inquiries from the press, investors and customers, and it is important for us to speak with one voice.

Consistent with DST's policy, if you receive any external inquiries from investors or analysts, please forward them to John Riley, Chief Marketing Officer & Investor Relations, at jmriley@dstsystems.com 816 435 8763 and any media inquiries to Laura Parsons, Director of Public Relations at LMParsons@dstsystems.com 816 489 2722.

Thank you again for all of your contributions to DST – I look forward to the continued success we will achieve as part of SS&C.

With that, I would like to give you the opportunity to ask any questions you may have...
