AMARIN CORPORATION PLC APPOINTS SIMON KUKES AND MICHAEL WALSH AS DIRECTORS

LONDON, United Kingdom, January 24, 2005 - Amarin Corporation plc (NASDAQSC: AMRN), the UK-based neuroscience pharmaceutical company, today announced the appointment of Simon Kukes and Michael Walsh as non-executive directors.

Thomas Lynch, chairman of Amarin, said:

"We are privileged that businessmen of this caliber and experience are joining

Edgar Filing: AMARIN CORP PLC\UK - Form 6-K

Amarin's board at this pivotal time as we progress the clinical development of Miraxion(TM), our exciting compound which we believe has the potential to improve the lives of thousands of Huntington's disease sufferers. Dr Kukes and Dr Walsh have been exemplary business leaders for many years and both possess a distinguished academic background."

Simon Kukes

Dr Kukes is an American citizen. He was President and Chief Executive of Tyumen Oil Company (TNK) from 1998 until its merger with British Petroleum (BP) in 2003. He then joined Yukos Oil as chairman. He also served as chief executive of Yukos in 2003 until June 2004. In 1999, he was voted one of the Top 10 Central European Executives by the Wall Street Journal Europe and in 2003 he was named by The Financial Times and PricewaterhouseCoopers as one of the 64 most respected business leaders in the world. He owns approximately 8% of the ordinary stock in Amarin.

Dr Kukes has a primary degree in Chemical Engineering from the Institute for Chemical Technology, Moscow and a PhD in Physical Chemistry from the Academy of Sciences, Moscow and was a Post-Doctoral Fellow of Rice University, Houston, Texas. He is the holder of more than 130 patents and has published more than 60 scientific papers. He is currently a member of the Council of Energy, Marine Transportation and Public Policy at Columbia University in New York.

Michael Walsh

Dr Walsh is executive director of International Investment and Underwriting ("IIU"), a private equity firm based in Dublin with numerous international investments. Dr Walsh is Chairman of Irish Nationwide Building Society, one of Ireland's largest financial institutions. He is a non-executive director of a number of companies including London City Airport, Daon, a company involved in biometric authentication and Seer Partners, a technology oriented venture capital company.

Dr. Walsh has BComm and MBS degrees from University College Dublin and MBA and PhD degrees from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. Prior to IIU, he was an executive director of NCB Group Ltd, one of Ireland's leading stockbrokers. He was previously Professor of Banking and Finance at University College Dublin.

About Amarin Corporation

Amarin Corporation is a neuroscience pharmaceutical company based in London and in Stirling, Scotland, focused on the development and commercialisation of novel drugs for the treatment of neurological disorders affecting the central nervous system. Miraxion, Amarin's lead compound, has completed one Phase III clinical trial for the treatment of Huntington's disease, a fatal genetic neurodegenerative disease causing dementia, chorea and impairment of voluntary movement resulting in the progressive loss of independence.

The company is currently finalising the protocols for a further two Phase III clinical trials of Miraxion. In addition, the company recently announced positive data analysis from two exploratory Phase II clinical studies on the use of Miraxion to treat depression.

On October 1 last, Thomas Lynch, Amarin's chairman, announced that he had purchased a 25% interest in Amarin previously owned by Elan Corporation plc. On October 7, the company announced that it had raised $12.75 million through a private placing. Amarin stock trades on NASDAQSC (ticker: AMRN) and there are approximately 38 million shares issued.
