Edgar Filing: CONCORD EFS INC - Form 425

DENVER and MEMPHIS, Tenn. December 15, 2003 First Data Corp. (NYSE: FDC), a national leader in electronic commerce and payment services, and Concord EFS, Inc. (NYSE: CE), a leading electronic transaction processor, today announced a proposed agreement with the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), eight states and the District of Columbia on terms that will allow the companies to complete their proposed merger by the end of the first quarter 2004.

In connection with the DOJ settlement, the two companies also agreed to new financial terms, with a new value of approximately $6.9 billion, based on First Data's closing price on Friday, December 12, 2003, of $39.30. The revised merger agreement also extends the original January 31, 2004 end date to April 30, 2004 to allow sufficient time to obtain the necessary shareholder approvals of the revised terms. The revised agreement increases transaction certainty by eliminating many, but not all, conditions to completing the merger. The boards of both companies have approved the revised agreement.

Upon completion of the transaction, the combined company will provide banks, merchants and their customers with more options to conveniently and securely conduct a full range of electronic payment transactions. The combined company will have approximately $10 billion in annual revenues with more than 31,000 employees worldwide.

The proposed agreement with the DOJ calls for First Data to divest its 64 percent ownership of the NYCE Corporation, an electronic funds transfer network. In addition, First Data has agreed to hold NYCE as a separate unit pending the divestiture.

We are pleased to move forward with the completion of this transaction, said First Data Chairman & CEO Charlie Fote. This combination represents a significant step in developing an open and flexible electronic payments system that will foster competition to the benefit of consumers, merchants and banks. The combined company will provide broad benefits to shareholders.

This settlement removes uncertainty and allows the companies to proceed with achieving the benefits of this merger, Fote added. We also believe the new financial terms represent a fair value for both sets of shareholders.

We are delighted that we have come to an agreement with the Department of Justice and we can move forward with this merger to the benefit of our shareholders, our clients and employees, said Dick Kiphart, chairman of the board, Concord. The revised transaction terms increase the likelihood that the merger will be completed. We look forward to joining the First Data family.

Under terms of the new agreement with Concord, First Data will exchange 0.365 First Data common shares for every Concord common share. At Friday's (December 12, 2003), closing price of First Data stock, the transaction was valued at $14.34 for each common share of Concord. This exchange ratio represents a reduction from the original exchange ratio of 0.40 shares.

To complete the transaction, First Data will issue approximately 175 million common shares to Concord shareholders. Upon completion of the transaction based on the current shares outstanding, Concord shareholders will own approximately 19 percent of the outstanding shares of the combined First Data/Concord. The exchange of shares in the merger is expected to qualify as a tax-free reorganization, allowing Concord shareholders to defer any gain on their shares for U.S. income tax purposes.

The impact of the transaction in total to First Data's earnings per share depends on the timing of realizing the anticipated synergies, which is dependent on the closing date of the merger and the timing of the divestiture of NYCE. This could result in a slightly dilutive impact to the company's 2004 earnings, prior to restructuring and integration charges. It is expected to be accretive thereafter. The company expects to generate cost savings of approximately $205 million in 2006.

The transaction is subject to necessary shareholder approvals. Closing is expected sometime in the first quarter of 2004.

Merrill Lynch and JP Morgan served as financial advisors to First Data, and Sidley Austin Brown & Wood LLP and Bingham McCutchen LLP served as legal advisors. Goldman, Sachs & Co. and William Blair & Co. served as financial advisors to Concord, and Kirkland & Ellis served as legal advisor.

Notice to Investors, Prospective Investors and the Investment Community

Cautionary Information Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Statements in this press release regarding the proposed merger of First Data Corporation and Concord EFS, Inc. which are not historical facts, including expectations of financial results for the combined companies (e.g., projections regarding revenue, earnings, cash flow and cost savings), are forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are inherently uncertain as they are based on various expectations and assumptions concerning future events and they are subject to numerous known and unknown risks and uncertainties, which could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those projected. Investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements and any such forward-looking statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to the following cautionary statements.

Important factors upon which the forward-looking statements presented in this release are premised include: (a) receipt of regulatory and shareholder approvals without unexpected delays or conditions; (b) timely implementation and execution of merger integration plans; (c) the ability to implement comprehensive plans for asset rationalization; (d) the successful integration of the IT systems and elimination of duplicative overhead and IT costs without unexpected costs or delays; (e) retention of customers and critical employees; (f) successfully leveraging First Data/Concord's comprehensive product offering to the combined customer base; (g) continued growth at rates approximating recent levels for card-based payment transactions and other product markets; (h) no unanticipated changes in laws, regulations, credit card association rules or other industry standards affecting First Data/Concord's businesses which require significant product redevelopment efforts, reduce the market for or value of its products or render products obsolete; (i) no unanticipated developments relating to previously disclosed lawsuits or similar matters; (j) successful management of any impact from slowing economic conditions or consumer spending; (k) no catastrophic events that could impact First Data/Concord's or its major customer's operating facilities, communication systems and technology or that has a material negative impact on current economic conditions or levels of consumer spending; (l) no material breach of security of any First Data/Concord's systems; and (m) successfully managing the potential both for patent protection and patent liability in the context of rapidly developing legal framework for expansive software patent protection. In addition, the ability of First Data/Concord to achieve the expected revenues, accretion and synergy savings also will be affected by the effects of competition (in particular the response to the proposed transaction in the marketplace), the effects of general economic and other factors beyond the control of First Data/Concord, and other risks and uncertainties described from time to time in First Data/Concord's public filings with United States Securities and Exchange Commission.
