Moscow Arbitration Court Sides with VimpelCom

Moscow and New York (September 19, 2006) Open Joint Stock Company Vimpel-Communications (VimpelCom or the Company) (NYSE: VIP) today announced that the Moscow Arbitration Court recognized as invalid the failure by the State Commission for Radio Frequencies (SCRF) to consider VimpelCom's September 13, 2005 application for use of GSM-1800 radio frequency bands in the entire territory of the Far East Region. The Moscow Arbitration Court ordered the SCRF to issue a decision granting VimpelCom the right to use the relevant radio frequency bands within 15 days from the date when today's ruling comes into legal force.

Commenting on the ruling, VimpelCom's CEO, Alexander Izosimov, stated: "In our efforts to resolve our Far East issue we have long attempted to act without resorting to litigation, by appealing to the principles of fair competition, reason and Russian law. Unfortunately, these efforts proved to be unsuccessful. Thus, it is especially important to us that the courts have for the second time confirmed the legality of our claims to receive licenses and frequencies necessary to operate in the Far East. I think that we have taken yet another big step towards our future subscribers in the Far East."

Today's Moscow Arbitration Court ruling is subject to appeal.

The foregoing contains forward-looking statements , as the phrase is defined in Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Exchange Act. These statements relate to the court's ruling described above. There can be no assurance that the SCRF will not appeal this ruling and, if it does, that the ruling will not be overturned on appeal. There also can be no assurance that the SCRF will make a decision on VimpelCom's application on a timely basis or at all. Certain additional factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those discussed in any forward-looking statements include the risks described in the Company's Annual Report on Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2005 and other public filings made by the Company with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, which risk factors are incorporated herein by reference.
