Letter from the Chairman

R. JAY GERKEN, CFA

Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer

Dear Shareholder.

The U.S. economy took a step backwards and growth slowed during the six-month reporting period. After gross domestic product (GDP) increased a modest 1.7% in the last three months of 2005, the economy rebounded sharply in the first quarter of 2006. During this time, GDP rose 5.6%, its highest reading since the third quarter of 2003. In the second quarter of 2006, GDP growth was 2.6% according to the U.S. Commerce Department, and the final estimate for the third quarter GDP was 2.0%. Overseas, economic growth in the developed countries was also positive, albeit more modest than in the U.S. In particular, there were positive economic trends in the Eurozone and Japan. Growth rates were much stronger in the emerging market countries. For example, growth in China and India remained exceptionally strong. This, in turn, boosted the economies of commodity rich emerging market countries, such as Russia, Brazil and Venezuela.

In terms of interest rates, after increasing the federal funds rateⁱⁱⁱ to 5.25% in June its 1th consecutive rate hike the Federal Reserve Board (Fèd) paused from raising rates at its next three meetings during the reporting period, as well as in December. This was largely due to the cooling of the housing market and moderating oil prices tempering inflationary pressures. The Fed s next meeting is at the end of January, and we believe any further rate movements will likely be data dependent. Internationally, the European Central Bank increased rates a total of three times during the period and again in December. Elsewhere, signs of more sustained growth caused Japan to institute its first interest rate hike in six years.

After exhibiting weakness in the early part of the year, the global bond markets rebounded and generated solid results. Looking at the six-month reporting period as a whole, the global bond markets, as measured by the JPMorgan Global Government Bond Market Index^v (hedged), gained 4.80%.

Western Asset Global High Income Fund Inc.

Over the same period, the U.S. bond market, as measured by the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index^{vi}, returned 5.93%. The turnaround in the global bond markets was largely triggered by the Fed s pauses and positive developments in terms of inflation.

Riskier fixed-income asset classes, such as emerging market debt, generated superior results during the reporting period. Continued improvements in emerging market fundamentals and high commodity prices aided the asset class as a whole. In addition, given relatively low global interest rates, demand for higher yielding emerging market debt was strong throughout much of the period. During the six-month reporting period, the JPMorgan Emerging Markets Bond Index Global (EMBI Global^{fii} returned 9.90%.

Performance Review

For the six months ended November 30, 2006, Western Asset Global High Income Fund Inc. returned 7.47% based on its net asset value (NAVⁱⁱⁱ)and 12.28% based on its New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) market price per share. In comparison, the Fund s unmanaged benchmark, the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index, returned 5.93% for the same time frame. The Lipper Global Income Closed-End Funds Category Average^{ix} increased 5.88%. Please note that Lipper performance returns are based on each fund s NAV per share.

During the six-month period, the Fund made distributions to shareholders totaling $0.51 per share, (which may have included a return of capital). The performance table shows the Fund s six-month total return based on its NAV and market price as of November 30, 2006. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Information About Your Fund

As you may be aware, several issues in the mutual fund industry (not directly affecting closed-end investment companies, such as this Fund) have come under the scrutiny of federal and state regulators. Affiliates of the Fund s manager have, in recent years, received requests for information from various government regulators regarding market timing, late trading, fees, and other mutual fund issues in connection with various investigations. The regulators appear to be examining, among other things, the open-end funds response to market timing and shareholder exchange activity, including compliance with prospectus disclosure related to these subjects. The Fund is not in a position to predict the outcome of these requests and investigations, or whether these may affect the Fund.

Important information with regard to recent regulatory developments that may affect the Fund is contained in the Notes to Financial Statements included in this report.
