FAQs for Associates who hold stock appreciation rights, stock options or restricted stock granted under A.C. Moore's equity incentive plans, stock as participants in the A.C. Moore 401(k) Plan or otherwise

November 2, 2011

Why am I receiving these FAQs?

You may have previously received materials relating to a cash tender offer commenced on October 18, 2011, pursuant to which Sbarco Acquisition Corporation is offering to purchase all of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of A.C. Moore at a price per share of $1.60. You are receiving these FAQs to provide you with additional information regarding treatment of stock appreciation rights and stock options in the tender offer and the procedure for tendering shares held. The tender offer is subject to the terms and conditions described in an Offer to Purchase which you may have received.

Those who hold restricted stock, stock as participants in the A.C. Moore 401(k) Plan or otherwise (e.g., through a broker) should have received materials relating to the tender offer, including the Offer to Purchase. These materials will not be mailed to holders of stock appreciation rights or stock options.

What do I do with my stock appreciation rights?

You do not need to take any action at this time with respect to your stock appreciation rights. If and when the transaction closes, all stock appreciation rights outstanding at that time, whether or not exercisable, will be canceled. If your stock appreciation rights are in-the-money (i.e., issued at an exercise price below $1.60), you will receive a payment, in cash, equal to the product of (i) the excess of $1.60 over the exercise price of the stock appreciation right, and (ii) the number of shares subject to the stock appreciation right. No amount will be paid for stock appreciation rights that are out-of-the-money (i.e., issued at an exercise price at or above $1.60). This payment will be net of any amounts required to be withheld pursuant to applicable law.

Example: You have stock appreciation rights with respect to 10,000 shares with an exercise price of $1.48. Each stock appreciation right is in-the-money by $0.12 ($$1.60 - $1.48 = \0.12). Accordingly, following consummation of the transaction, you would receive $1,200 ($$0.12 \times 10,000$) less any amounts required to be withheld pursuant to applicable law.

What do I do with my stock options?

You do not need to take any action at this time with respect to your stock options. If and when the transaction closes, all stock options outstanding at that time, whether or not exercisable, will be canceled. Because all A.C. Moore stock options outstanding have exercise prices that are greater than $1.60, these stock options will be canceled and no payment will be due to the stock option holder.

What do I do with my restricted stock?

If you want to tender shares of common stock underlying restricted stock awards or performance accelerated restricted stock awards, you need to complete and return the Letter of Transmittal which was sent to you. The Letter of Transmittal contains instructions regarding what information must be provided, where to deliver the Letter of Transmittal and other steps you need to take in order to ensure that your shares are validly tendered. If you have questions in completing or returning the Letter of Transmittal, you should contact D. F. King & Co., Inc., the information agent for the tender offer, at (800) 755-7250.

Associates who were granted restricted stock or performance accelerated restricted stock during 2009 should also have received tender offer materials from Morgan Stanley Smith Barney via A.C. Moore's stock administration program. The cover letter included with those materials includes instructions regarding steps to follow in the event that you wish to tender those shares.

The payment that you will receive for the tendered shares will be net of any amounts required to be withheld pursuant to applicable law.

What happens to shares I own through the 401(k) Plan?

The trustee of the A.C. Moore 401(k) Plan is the owner of record of the shares credited to your 401(k) Plan account. As a result, only the 401(k) Plan trustee can tender shares through the 401(k) Plan. If you want to tender the shares allocated to your 401(k) Plan account, you need to direct the trustee of the 401(k) Plan to do so by completing and returning the Letter of Instruction which was sent to you. The Letter of Instruction contains instructions regarding what information must be provided, where to deliver the Letter of Instruction and other steps you need to take in order to ensure that shares allocated to your 401(k) Plan account are validly tendered. For more information about the effect of tendering shares allocated to your 401(k) Plan account, current fund balances or future contributions under the 401(k) Plan, you should contact Ascensus, Inc., the record keeper for the 401(k) Plan, at (888) 800-5359.

If I direct the trustee of the 401(k) Plan to tender my shares, where will the proceeds go?

If you elect to direct the trustee of the 401(k) Plan to tender shares allocated to your 401(k) Plan account and the shares are accepted for payment in the tender offer, the proceeds received for these shares will remain in the 401(k) Plan and will be invested in the Federated Capital Preservation Fund under the 401(k) Plan. You may elect to redirect the proceeds to any other investment fund available under the 401(k) Plan at any time once the proceeds have been allocated to your account. Additional information regarding such redirection was provided in a letter dated October 31, 2011 which was sent to you. Information regarding fund performance and investment objectives may be obtained through the website of Ascensus, Inc. located at www.planservices.com/ml.

How do I tender my shares that I own but were not purchased through the 401(k) Plan?

If you are a shareholder of record and want to tender shares in the tender offer, you need to complete and return the Letter of Transmittal which was sent to you. The Letter of Transmittal contains instructions regarding what information must be provided, where to deliver the Letter of Transmittal and other steps you need to take in order to ensure that your shares are validly tendered. If you have questions in completing or returning the Letter of Transmittal, you should contact D. F. King & Co., Inc., the information agent for the tender offer, at (800) 755-7250.

Alternatively, if your shares are held in an account through a bank, brokerage firm or other nominee, you should instruct your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee how to tender your shares by following the instructions received from your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee along with the tender offer materials. You should contact your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee directly if you have any questions regarding this process.
