Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On February 3, 2012, Bryn Mawr Bank Corporation (the Corporation), parent of The Bryn Mawr Trust Company (the Bank), entered into a definitive stock purchase agreement (the Agreement) to acquire Davidson Trust Company (DTC) from Boston Private Financial Holdings, Inc. and members of DTC's management group (collectively, the Seller Parties) for a total purchase price of up to $10.5 million, of which $7.35 million is to be paid at closing in cash and up to $3.15 million is to be paid in cash installments on the 6-, 12- and 18-month anniversaries of the date of closing, subject to certain post-closing contingencies relating to DTC's assets under management.

Pursuant to the Agreement, all issued and outstanding shares of common stock of DTC will, upon closing, be acquired by the Corporation, and immediately after closing, DTC will be merged with and into the Corporation's wholly-owned subsidiary, the Bank.

The Agreement contains (a) customary representations and warranties of DTC, the Seller Parties and of the Corporation, including, among others, representations and warranties related to corporate organization, capitalization, corporate authority, third party and governmental consents and approvals, financial statements and information, and compliance with applicable laws; (b) covenants of DTC and the Seller Parties to, among other things, (i) conduct the business of DTC in the ordinary course until the transaction is completed, (ii) remain solely responsible for any severance, retention, or other obligations related to the termination of any DTC employee at or prior to the closing, (iii) not solicit DTC employees or clients, and to keep confidential certain proprietary information relating to DTC and its business, and (iv) not solicit proposals relating to alternative business combination transactions or, subject to certain exceptions, enter into discussions concerning, or provide confidential information in connection with, any proposals for alternative business combination transactions; (c) covenants of the Corporation to, among other things, use commercially reasonable efforts to preserve intact the business, client relationships and goodwill of DTC until the 18-month anniversary of the closing date.

Consummation of the transaction is subject to certain conditions, including, among others, the filing of certain governmental applications and notices, receipt of applicable regulatory approvals and expiration of applicable waiting periods, accuracy of specified representations and warranties of each party, and absence of a material adverse change.

The Agreement also contains certain termination rights for the Seller Parties and the Corporation, as the case may be, applicable upon the occurrence or non-occurrence of certain events, including: final, non-appealable denial of required regulatory approvals or injunction prohibiting the transactions contemplated by the Agreement; if, subject to certain conditions, the transaction has not been completed by August 3, 2012; a breach by the other party that is not or cannot be cured within 30 days, or inability of a party to satisfy any of the conditions to closing set forth in the Agreement. Additionally, the Corporation may terminate the Agreement in the event that, subject to certain conditions, the DTC's assets under management drop below 60% of the assets under management prior to the signing of the Agreement.

The representations and warranties of each party set forth in the Agreement have been made solely for the benefit of the other parties to the Agreement. In addition, such representations and warranties (a) are subject to materiality qualifications contained in the Agreement which may differ from what may be viewed as material by investors, (b) were made only as of the date of the Agreement or such other date as is specified in the Agreement, and (c) may have been included in the Agreement for the purpose of allocating risk between the Seller Parties and the Corporation rather than establishing matters as facts. Accordingly, the Agreement is included with this filing only to provide investors with information regarding the terms of the Agreement, and not to provide investors with any other factual information regarding the parties or their respective businesses.

The foregoing summary of the Agreement is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the complete text of such document, which is filed as Exhibit 2.1 hereto and which is incorporated herein by reference in its entirety. The schedules to the Agreement have been omitted. The registrant hereby agrees to furnish supplementally a copy of any schedules to the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) upon its request.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains statements which, to the extent that they are not recitations of historical fact may constitute forward-looking statements for purposes of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Such forward-looking statements may include financial and other projections as well as statements regarding the Corporation's or DTC's future plans, objectives, performance, revenues, growth, profits, operating expenses or underlying assumptions. The words may, would, should, could, will, likely, possibly, expect, anticipate, intend, estimate, target, potentially, probably, outlook, predict, contemplate, continue and believe or other similar words and phrases may identify forward-looking statements. Persons reading this Current Report on Form 8-K are cautioned that such statements are only predictions, and that the Corporation's actual future results or performance may be materially different.

The Corporation's business and operations, including its business and operations following the completion of the transactions described in this Current Report on Form 8-K, are and will be subject to a variety of risks, uncertainties and other factors. A number of factors, many of which are beyond our control, could cause actual results, events or developments, or industry results, to be materially different from any future results, events or developments expressed, implied or anticipated by such forward-looking statements, and so business and financial conditions and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. Such factors include, among others, our need for capital, our ability to control operating costs and expenses, and to manage loan and lease delinquency rates; the credit risks of lending activities and overall quality of the composition of our loan, lease and securities portfolio; the impact of economic conditions, consumer and business spending habits, and real estate market conditions on our business and in our market area; changes in the levels of general interest rates, deposit interest rates, or net interest margin and funding sources; changes in banking regulations and policies and the possibility that any banking agency approvals we might require for certain activities will not be obtained in a timely manner or at all or will be conditioned in a manner that would impair our ability to implement our business plans; changes in accounting policies and practices; the inability of key third-party providers to perform their obligations to us; our ability to attract and retain key personnel; competition in our marketplace; war or terrorist activities; material differences in the actual financial results, cost savings and revenue enhancements associated with the acquisition described in this Current Report on Form 8-K; and other factors as described in our securities filings. All forward-looking statements and information set forth herein are based on management's current beliefs and assumptions as of the date hereof and speak only as of the date they are made. The Corporation does not undertake to update forward-looking statements.

For a complete discussion of the assumptions, risks and uncertainties related to the Corporation's business, you are encouraged to review the Corporation's filings with the SEC, including our most recent annual report on Form 10-K, as well as any changes in risk factors that may be identified in quarterly or other reports filed with the SEC.
