Sadia has faced an unfavorable environment in this first quarter of 2006, mainly due to the impact of avian flu in Europe and Asia, which reduced the world poultry consumption and led to a high level of inventory, pressuring prices, which were, until then, at historical high levels. The Russian ban on Brazilian pork imports, the main destination of this segment, also pressured prices. Despite this, Sadia managed to maintain practically the same sales volumes of 1Q05, by the increase in domestic sales of processed foods and of beef in the domestic and external markets. In the domestic market, average sales prices had a 4% decrease. In the external market, in dollar terms, average prices did not present great variations, but the 17.3% devaluation of the dollar in the 1Q06, against the 1Q05 led to a 19.7% decrease in the external market revenues. In order to improve its preventive measures, Sadia undertook rigorous efforts to adapt the breeding farms and adopted strict operating measures, aiming to minimize the risk of contamination of its commercial flock with wild birds. The recently approved National Plan for the Prevention of the Avian Flu and the Prevention and Control of the Newcastle Disease should be implemented with urgency in order to prevent these diseases from arriving in Brazil in the short term, as well as to eradicate them in the medium and long term. With this measure, the country will be able to petition for certain Brazilian states to be considered as autonomous regions. Despite that, it is expected that next quarter will still be a difficult period, but with good perspectives of improvement in the second semester of the year. For this first quarter, net income reached R$ 67.0 million, influenced by the financial results, due to the Company's operating hedge policy, which compensated the exchange devaluation of the export revenues. The expected investments for the year are maintained. The Company believes that the ongoing crisis will not last long, and it is preparing itself for the good market opportunities in the near future, taking into account the country and Sadia's excellent competitive advantages." - Gilberto Tomazoni - CEO

GROSS OPERATING REVENUES – R$ MILLION

Consolidated sales volumes in the first quarter of the year were practically constant as compared to the same period of 2005. Total sales reached 428.1 thousand tons, an increase of 0.6% from the 425.6 thousand tons sold in the 1Q05. This performance reflects the Company's commercial efforts in the domestic market in order to compensate for the adversities of poultry consumption in Europe and Asia, due to outbreaks of avian flu, and the temporary ban of pork exports to the Russian market, as a consequence of the foot and mouth disease. The sanitary crisis, which resulted in variations in demand, and the strong depreciation of the dollar against the real of 17.3% for the quarter, prevented gross operating revenues from having a similar performance in the period. There were no decreases in average prices in dollars, but the exchange rate devaluation led to a 7.9% decrease in gross revenues, which amounted to R$ 1.8 billion. There were 185.4 thousand tons of processed products sold, generating R$ 897.5 million, respectively, 2.6% and 0.8% superior to those for the 1Q05. This performance was mainly due to sales of processed products in the domestic market.	Total Sales	1Q05	1Q06	1Q06/ 1Q05

In the poultry segment, volumes reached 211.1 thousand tons, which represented a 2.5% decrease as compared to the same period of last year. Gross operating revenues had a 21% drop with the exchange rate devaluation and ended the quarter with R$ 618.6 million.

In the pork segment, the Company faced difficulties imposed by the Russian embargo, which also imposed losses in the domestic market as a consequence of the excess supply of the product. Sales volume decreased 19.6% to 21 thousand tons against 27.3 thousand tons in the 1Q05. In revenues, the segment presented R$ 85.2 million as compared to R$ 147.9 million for the same period of last year.

In 2005, Sadia decided to return to the beef segment because it believes that it represents a complementary business to the Company's activities. Besides that, the segment was positively impacted by the avian flu crisis and by the foot and mouth disease outbreaks in the states of Mato Grosso do Sul and Pará. Sadia's strategy in this segment is to concentrate sales towards the external market, for the domestic market the Company will focus its efforts on special beef cuts. Total volumes sold reached 9.7 thousand tons, which represented gross revenues of R$ 55.5 million for 1Q06.

Domestic Market

In the first quarter of the year, sales volumes in the domestic market reached 210.8 thousand tons, which represented a 6.9% increase as compared to the 1Q05. Gross operating revenues reached R$ 1.0 billion, an amount 2.8% superior to the same result from last year. As a result of excess supply of poultry and pork, the average price in the domestic market had a 4% decrease.

Processed products were the highlight of the quarter, thanks to Sadia's strategy on focusing in higher value added products. Sales in this segment increased 7% in volumes and 3.9% in revenues, which added up to R$ 811.4 million. This performance is aligned with the Company's strategic planning of adjusting its processed product portfolio to the consumer's purchasing power, releasing new products in line with the domestic market demand and expanding the Company's sales channels in order to increase sales.

Poultry segment sales achieved 34 thousand tons, a 2.5% decrease as compared to the 1Q05, and gross revenues had a 20.7% drop resulting from pressures in prices, as some export products were directed towards the domestic market.

With the embargo on pork exports to the Russian market, Sadia increased its commercial efforts in the domestic market and achieved a 16.1% increase in sales volumes, but gross revenues were stable, due to the excess supply in the market.

The beef segment presented sales volumes of 2.5 thousand tons and gross revenues of R$ 17.2 million.

EXTERNAL MARKET

Highly influenced by the appreciation of the real against the dollar, operating revenues had a 19.7% decrease in the 1Q06 as compared to last year, and amounted to R$ 728.3 million.

In the poultry segment, volumes amounted to 177.1 thousand tons, 2.5% lesser than the volumes shipped in the 1Q05. Gross revenues, however, registered a 21% drop, reaching R$ 530.5 million, a result that reflects, in great part, the exchange rate effects.

The sales of processed products sold to the external market ended the quarter with R$ 86.1 million in revenues, 21.3% inferior to the 1Q05. Volumes reached 20.4 thousand tons, an amount 22.9% inferior as compared to the same period of 2005. The increase in volumes of baked and grilled products shipped to Europe were not enough to compensate for the decrease in volumes of lesser value added products sold to the Americas. As a result of this, average prices in dollars had a 19% increase, which corresponded to 1.9% increase in reais.

With the prohibition of shipments to Russia, the main destination of Brazilian pork exports, external sales had a 34.4% drop, amounting to 12.6 thousand tons. Gross revenues, with a 54.7% decrease as compared to the 1Q05, reached R$ 51.6 million. This situation, however, is expected to be reverted soon, taking into account that Russia has already started to import Brazilian pork meat from the state of Rio Grande do Sul, where Sadia has a production plant. The Company believes that it will be allowed to export, in the next weeks, from other Brazilian states that did not have foot and mouth disease outbreaks, as occurred in the states of Mato Grosso do Sul and Paraná. The Company is prepared to enlarge its exports, as soon as the embargo is lifted from the other states where it has production units.

The beef segment presented sales volumes of 7.2 thousand tons and gross revenues of R$ 38.3 million.

AVERAGE PRICES – R$/KG – EXTERNAL MARKET

As a company that is a benchmark in the management of its breeder stock, Sadia adopted new preventive measures and has undergone a detailed readaptation of its farms, in order to minimize the risk of contamination of its commercial flock with wild birds. The goal is to strengthen the sanitary barriers in case of an eventual outbreak of avian flu in Brazil.

Facing this risk, the approval by the federal government of the National Plan for the Prevention of the Avian Flu and the Prevention and Control of the Newcastle Disease, in the first half of April, will help Brazil not to be penalized in cases of local outbreaks of avian flu. This measure will allow the country to petition for certain Brazilian states to be considered as autonomous regions, avoiding, thus, a generalized ban on exports.

It is important to mention that Sadia is already in full compliance with the National Plan for the Prevention of the Avian Flu and the Prevention and Control of the Newcastle Disease. Sadia is maintaining exports to several markets, which attests the trust in the quality of the Company's products.

OPERATING RESULT

Net revenues in the 1Q06 amounted to R$ 1.5 billion, 8.3% inferior to the 1Q05. This performance reflects the extraordinary situation caused by sanitary problems and the excess supply of meat. Exports had its average dollar prices preserved, but the devaluation of the dollar of 17.3% in the quarter led to a negative impact in revenues.

Domestic market revenues obtained a superior performance than in 2005, mainly due to the 7% increase of volumes of processed products sold.

GROSS MARGIN

Costs per ton sold were reduced in 4.5% as compared to the 1Q05, mainly due to the decrease in grain prices. However, the difficulty in maintaining revenues in high levels did not allow the fixed costs to be diluted, which led to a retraction of 3.4 percentage points in the gross margin, from 25.6% in the 1Q05 to 22.2% in the 1Q06.

Operating expenses – Sales expenses, general, administrative and others – over net revenues ratio reached 20.8% in 2006, a higher percentage than the 18.8% from 2005.

Sales expenses were at the same levels of the first quarter of 2005. However, the 8.3% decrease in net revenues hurt the sales expense margin, which reached 19.2% against 17.5% in the 1Q05.

General and administrative expenses over net revenues were stable at 1%. Earnings before interest and taxes (EBIT) of R$ 20.8 million presented a loss of 5.4 percentage points in its margin that reached 1.4%, pressured by the decrease in net revenues.

EBITDA (Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization) registered R$ 82.7 million. EBITDA margin reached 5.5% against 9.8% from last year.

FINANCIAL RESULTS

Sadia’s net financial results amounted to R$ 104 million in the 1Q06, against a R$ 8.2 million net expense registered in the 1Q05. The financial results continue to be influenced by the Company’s operational hedges, which are in conformity with the Company’s Financial Policy.

Sadia continued its conservative financial strategy, preferring low volatility investments with maturities compatible with its financial obligations. The Company also maintained its funding through export finance, receivables and rural credit with favorable interest rates, which contributed to maintain the average maturity of its debt in 6.8 years and to decrease its interest obligations.

At the end of the 1Q06, Sadia’s net debt amounted to R$ 745.6 million, a 33.1% increase as compared to the same period in 2005. However, net debt over equity ratio did not increase in the same proportion, as it finished the quarter with 33.3% ratio against 29.8% on March 2005.

EQUITY PICK UP

Edgar Filing: SADIA S.A. - Form 6-K

The R$ 49.6 million negative result in equity pick up for the 1Q06 was due to the recognition of losses in the exchange rate variation of 17.3% in the participation of the Company's offshore subsidiaries.

NET INCOME

Sadia's net income reached R$ 67.0 million for the 1Q06, a 33.4% drop against the result for the same period of 2005. This performance is below Management's expectation.

INVESTMENTS

An amount of R$ 216.0 million was invested in the 1Q06, according to the established growth plan. Sadia kept its investment schedule in new plants and in the modernization of the existing ones, believing that the sanitary crisis is momentary and will not change the local and international demand in the future. Of the total amount invested, R$ 43.2 million (20%) was directed towards the processed products segment, R$ 100.1 million (46.4%) towards poultry, R$ 45 million (20.9%) towards pork and the remaining R$ 26.7 million (12.4%) mainly towards information technology.	CAPITAL EXPEDITURES R$ million

OUTLOOK

Sadia is confident with medium and long term perspectives. There are great commercial challenges in the short term, a image of the adjustments in demand, pressure to maintain prices and a still unfavorable exchange rate situation. However, the Company expects that markets will begin to pick up from the second semester on, considering that, traditionally, European and Asian markets recover quickly, as soon as sanitary problems are solved.

Recently, China has certified Sadia plants, which will allow the Company to export chicken to this market, an agreement that is highly positive for the Company.

For the second quarter of the year, the Company believes that the exchange rate should still interfere in the results of exports. In the domestic market, average prices of processed products – leading segment in the domestic sales – should surpass the average price observed in the same period of 2005, due to the perspectives of increases in disposable income after the minimum wage is risen, even though it is still a tough period for the market.

Sadia is a company that is always looking towards the future. The difficulties and adversities that have arisen at this moment are being faced with the same firmness and creativity that brought innovative solutions, improved the Company's profitability and have permitted constant growth. In this moment of difficulties, these efforts are being directed towards the reduction of the current negative impacts while preserving our ability to react to the favorable scenario that will emerge in the close future.

Therefore, the Company maintained its investment projects in new facilities and in the operational enhancement of its existing units, convinced that its competitive advantages and those of the country will produce even better results for the shareholders.

CAPITAL MARKETS

Sadia's preferred share [Sdia4] prices had an increase of 31.5% in the last 12 months (March 31, 2005 to March 31, 2006), an inferior performance compared to the 42.6% increase of the Ibovespa for the same period.

Sadia's preferred shares are part of the theoretical portfolio of the São Paulo Stock Exchange Index (IBOVESPA). The Ibovespa portfolio lists 57 shares, and the relative weight of the Sadia shares is currently 1.19%.

The average daily traded volume grew 32.8% as compared to 1Q05, from R$ 15.0 million to R$ 20.0 million. These volumes confirm Sadia as the leading traded stock in the Brazilian food sector, with a 58% participation.

FINANCIAL VOLUME – FOOD SECTOR - BOVESPA – JANUARY TO MARCH 2006

Sadia's preferred shares kept its distribution amongst the several investor categories of Bovespa. The main highlight worth mentioning is the rise in foreign investor participation, which helped to increase the stock liquidity.
