Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition

On April 8, 2015, Mistras Group, Inc. (the “Company,” “we” or “us”) issued a press release announcing the financial results for the third quarter and first nine months of the fiscal year ending May 31, 2015. A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1 to this report.

Disclosure of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In the press release attached, the Company uses the terms “Adjusted EBITDA” and “Segment and Total Company Income (Loss) from Operations before Acquisition-Related Expense (Benefit), net,” which are not measures of financial performance under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). Information regarding these non-GAAP financial measures and their use by the Company is set forth in the Company’s annual report on Form 10-K filed August 8, 2014.

The tables attached to the press release also include the non-GAAP financial measures “Net Income Excluding Acquisition-related Items” and “Diluted EPS Excluding Acquisition-related Items,” reconciling these measures to financial measures under GAAP. These non-GAAP measures exclude from the GAAP measures net income and diluted earnings per common share (a) transaction expenses related to acquisitions, such as professional fees and due diligence costs and (b) the net changes in the fair value of acquisition-related contingent consideration liabilities. These items have been excluded from the GAAP measures because these expenses and credits are not related to the Company’s core business operations and are related solely to the Company’s acquisition activities. Changes in the fair value of acquisition-related contingent consideration liabilities can be a net expense or credit in any given period, and fluctuate based upon the then current value of cash consideration the Company expects to pay in the future for prior acquisitions, without impacting cash generated from the Company’s business operations.

Management believes that these measures provide investors with useful information and more meaningful period over period comparisons by identifying and excluding these acquisition-related costs so that the performance of the core business operations can be identified and compared. Management also believes that these measures help our investors to better understand the profitability trends of our business, and facilitate easier comparisons of our profitability to prior and future periods and to our peers.

The term "free cash flow" is also a non-GAAP financial measure used in the press release. In the paragraph under the caption "Use of Non-GAAP Measures" the Company explains this measurement and provides a reconciliation of this measure to a financial measure under GAAP. Management believes this measure assists investors in understanding the cash generated from operations net of cash needed to be re-invested in the business for capital expenditures.

These non-GAAP measures should be considered in addition to, and not as a replacement for or superior to, the comparable GAAP measures. These measures have limitations because there are no standards to determine which adjustments to GAAP measures should be made, and/or may not be comparable with similar measures for other companies. In addition, acquisitions are a part of our growth strategy, and therefore acquisition-related items are a necessary cost of our business. Segment and Total Company Income from Operations before Acquisition-Related Expense (Benefit), net, Net Income Excluding Acquisition-related Items and free cash flow are not metrics used to determine incentive compensation. Adjusted EBITDA and Diluted EPS Excluding Acquisition-related Items are used to determine a portion of the incentive compensation for executive officers.
