Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 6, 2013, ThermoGenesis Corp. (the "Company") and CBR Systems, Inc. ("CBR") entered into an amendment (the "Amendment") to the License and Escrow Agreement dated June 15, 2010 (the "Original Agreement") to amend and reduce the financial covenants, as more fully set forth in section one of the amendment, that the Company must meet in order to avoid an event of default. The parties agreed to reduce the corresponding financial covenant requirements to provide the Company greater flexibility to pursue its strategic initiatives in the near term.

CBR is a significant customer of the Company and has continuously purchased AXP products through the Company's distribution partner, GE Healthcare, and was an early adopter of our AXP Platform. The Company and CBR remain committed to partnering together with the use of the AXP technology.

The foregoing description of the Amendment does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the complete text of the Amendment which is filed as Exhibit 10.1 hereto and is incorporated herein by reference.

Cautionary Statement

A copy of the Amendment has been attached as an exhibit to this Report on Form 8-K to provide investors with information regarding its terms. Except for its status as a legal document governing the contractual rights among the Company and CBR in relation to the transactions described in this Item 1.01, the Amendment is not intended to be a source of factual business or operational information about the Company, CBR or their respective businesses.
