11 DECEMBER 2001

Dear Normandy Mining Shareholder:

On 10 December 2001, we announced that we had increased our off-market bid to acquire all your Normandy shares to a value of A$1.90 per share, based on the closing price of Newmont shares on the NYSE on 7 December 2001 (A$1.81 based on the closing price of Newmont common shares on the NYSE on 11 December 2001). For each Normandy share, you will receive A$0.40 cash, and 0.0385 Newmont common shares. A copy of our press release is enclosed.

SUBJECT TO THEIR FIDUCIARY DUTIES, YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS HAS APPROVED OUR BID AND AGREED TO RECOMMEND THAT YOU ACCEPT OUR BID AND THEREFORE REJECT THE OFFER THAT HAS BEEN MADE BY ANGLOGOLD LIMITED. Normandy's largest shareholder, Franco-Nevada Mining Corporation Limited, has committed its shares to our bid as well.

I know you are anxious to learn more about our company and to see the completion of this transaction. We are committed to completing this transaction and our acquisition of Franco-Nevada by early in the new year. We continue to be very confident that the various conditions to our acquisitions of Normandy and Franco-Nevada will be satisfied. We have found overwhelming Normandy, Newmont and Franco-Nevada shareholder support for our vision, and all of our regulatory filings in various jurisdictions are proceeding in the normal course. Subject to the Australian Stock Exchange approving Newmont's listing application (and the other conditions to our bid being satisfied or waived), we expect to provide the bid consideration within five business days of receipt of acceptances.

By now you will have seen AngloGold's offer to buy your shares of Normandy. You now are faced with a choice between the two offers - you need to decide which is better for you, both today and over the longer-term. I think the choice is clear: we are offering double the cash and the more secure and liquid security. I think you will come to the same conclusion.

THE NEWMONT BID IS THE BETTER BID

Significant premium to the AngloGold Offer:

The Newmont bid values Normandy at A$1.90 per share, or A$0.25 (15%) more than the value of the revised offer announced by AngloGold on November 29, 2001 (based on the closing prices of Newmont and AngloGold shares on 7 December 2001). Our bid - which is at the top end of the value range established in the Independent Expert's report prepared by Grant Samuel - is clearly full and fair value for Normandy.

Double the cash consideration:

Under the Newmont bid, Normandy shareholders will receive cash payment of A$0.40 (double the A$0.20 offered under AngloGold's offer) in addition to 0.0385 Newmont common shares for every Normandy share.

-----
* Based on the closing price of Newmont shares on 7 December 2001; shareholders are urged to obtain updated quotes on the Normandy, Newmont and AngloGold shares.

NEWMONT PROVIDES A MORE SECURE AND LIQUID SECURITY

By accepting the Newmont bid, you will immediately become a shareholder in a North American company and receive the benefit of higher market valuations. This has been an important long-term objective of Normandy's management to improve shareholder value.

Newmont is listed on the NYSE and included in the S&P 500 -- a prestigious index of the most significant companies in North America. Following these transactions, we expect to list our shares in Australia and to be the most actively traded gold stock in the world.

NEWMONT OFFERS BETTER LONG-TERM VALUE

We believe that, upon completion of the Normandy and Franco-Nevada transactions, the New Newmont will be the best gold company in the world and the best gold vehicle for investors.

The New Newmont will:

- o have the LARGEST RESERVE BASE AND HIGHEST PRODUCTION OF GOLD in the world
- o be well-capitalized, with the financial strength to develop attractive projects and ability to significantly reduce debt over time, even at current gold prices,
- o operate a diversified portfolio of WORLD-CLASS OPERATIONS around the world with limited exposure to POLITICAL RISK,
- o offer investors the most LEVERAGE TO THE GOLD PRICE of any major producer, providing significant upside potential from gold price appreciation - a US$25 increase in the gold price increases pre-tax cash flow by US$162 million per year, and

- o have the ability and OPPORTUNITIES TO GROW our reserves and production through development of attractive projects, continued exploration and further industry rationalization.

The accompanying chart contrasts the New Newmont and what we understand AngloGold would look like if it acquired Normandy.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO?

For now, DON'T DO ANYTHING. On 10 December 2001, subject to their fiduciary duties, the Normandy Board of Directors approved and agreed to recommend that you accept our revised bid and therefore reject the AngloGold offer. TO ENSURE THAT YOU CAN CONSIDER THE NEWMONT BID, YOU SHOULD NOT ACCEPT ANY OTHER OFFER - IF YOU DO, YOU MAY NOT BE ABLE TO ACCEPT OUR BID.
