PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

Unless otherwise specifically referenced, all references to dollar amounts refer to United States dollars.

Our Business

We operate thehealthchannel.com web site. We focus exclusively upon the development of business strategies and the acquisition of existing operations which satisfy the following three part test:

- is the business strategy/acquisition candidate in the healthcare industry?
- does implementation of the Internet materially improve the business? strategy/acquisition candidate?
- will the proposed plan generate projected revenues within six months and a return on our investment within twelve months of the deployment of our capital.

While we are continuously researching potential business strategies consistent with our own criteria set forth above, this prospectus describes four such strategies we are currently implementing:

- deployment of the Physicians Automated Attendant, a wireless based software system intended to automate multiple facets of a physician's practice and interface with large internet based information sites;
- strategic joint venture with the Institute for Medical Studies and Academy for Continuing Medical Education by transmitting over the Internet virtual classrooms allowing healthcare industry professionals to comply with their continuing education requirements;

--providing broad healthcare information on our Internet site, coupled with advertising, on a variety of topics, with an increasing focus upon breast cancer; and
--making our web site easily accessible to wireless devices.

RISK FACTORS

The securities offered in this prospectus are very speculative and involve a high degree of risk. These securities should be purchased only by people who can afford the loss of their entire investment. Before purchasing these securities, you should carefully consider the following risk factors and the other information concerning thehealthchannel.com and its business contained in this prospectus.

We have only a limited operating history have incurred financial losses since inception and there is no assurance when, if ever, we will begin generating profits.

TheHealthChannel.com commenced implementation of its current business plan during the fourth quarter of 1999. Prior to July 1999 the assets currently comprising the internet site had been owned and operated by BioLogix, Inc. In April 1999, BioLogix launched a health oriented web site relying upon advertising on the website to generate revenues. We were unable to attract advertisers. As a result, in July 1999, we commenced development of the new business plan described in this prospectus. This new business plan has virtually no operating history and its financial success will be subject to all the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise. Additionally, thehealthchannel.com has operated at a loss for all of the periods for which financial statements are presented in this prospectus. It is uncertain whether consumers will be willing to pay for products and services over the internet at a level that will allow us to sustain long-term profitability. Further, many of our business plans for medical professionals we are currently implementing have never been deployed over the internet, thus it would be highly speculative to predict revenues or any level of profitability. We cannot assure you that we will ever operate profitably.

There is intense competition in the on-line healthcare business. Many of our competitors are more experienced and much better financed. We anticipate that competition will become increasingly severe in the future as other companies deploy medically oriented websites.

We compete with other companies which have health care websites. These competitors include WebMD, DrKoop.com, IntelliHealth, OnHealth, and YourHealth.com. These competitors have longer operating histories, larger customer bases, greater brand name recognition and significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources than we do. In addition, other companies with superior financing to our company may elect to enter the Internet health field. Competitors may devote greater resources to marketing and promotional campaigns, and devote substantially more resources to website and systems development than we can. We cannot assure you that we will be able to compete successfully against current and future competitors, and competitive pressures may have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. Further as a strategic response to changes in the competitive environment, our management may, from time to time, make certain service or marketing decisions or acquisitions that could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. New technologies and the expansion of existing technologies may increase the competitive pressures on us.

We are dependent upon the efficient deployment of our Internet site and related business strategies. In the event our Internet technology is not accessible by the public, for technical reasons, we will suffer severe negative business consequences.

Our business plans depend on the efficient and uninterrupted operation of our computer and communications hardware and software systems. Similarly, the ability to track, measure, report the delivery of advertisements, data and other information on our website depends on the efficient and uninterrupted operation of our system. These systems and operations are vulnerable to damage or interruption from human error, natural disasters, telecommunication failures, break-ins, sabotage, computer viruses, intentional acts of vandalism and similar events. While we have implemented certain systems intended to back-up our website and its data, despite these precautions, there is always the danger that human error or sabotage could substantially disrupt our website which could cause a loss of visitors to our site, damage to our systems, and bad publicity.

We may acquire businesses that are subject to governmental regulations, such as laws associated with the regulation of the distribution of drugs, the practice of medicine and the dissemination of information to the public and medical professionals.

The Internet has been the subject of constant technological change. If we are unable to successfully and timely incorporate these changes into our business plan, our services maybe rendered obsolete.

Our business is dependent on the continued growth and use of the Internet, as well as the efficient operation of the Internet.

The Federal Drug Administration and the various state-level medical licensing boards may regulate components of our business as our business plan is deployed. It is uncertain how these governmental agencies will react to the newly established Internet healthcare field. There can be no assurance that any such regulatory requirements will not have a adversely effect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

The Internet is at an early stage, especially associated with the medical industry. Technological changes will occur which virtually immediately impact upon our business strategies. If we are unable to either predict such changes in advance or rapidly adjust our plans and technologies to reflect these changes, our business plans and internet site could be rendered obsolete within a very short period of time. These changes include both the development of hardware which will allow more information to be sent using less of the bandwidth available to send information over the Internet, the development of software which may improve the presentation to users of the Internet or the deployment of business strategies focusing upon these changes, rendering the companies business plan noncompetitive.

The Internet based information market is new and rapidly evolving. Our business is heavily dependent upon an increasing Internet usage, particularly by consumers and physicians. Our business would be materially adversely affected if Internet usage does not continue to grow or grows slower than currently projected. Further our business will be adversely effected if consumers or professionals fail to use the Internet in sufficient numbers to allow our business plans to be successfully implemented. Internet usage may be inhibited for a number of reasons, such as:

- o Inadequate network infrastructure;
- o security concerns;
- o inconsistent quality of service; and,
- o unavailability of cost-effective, high-speed

access to the Internet.

While these problems may occur in deploying any Internet business plan, risks unique to our specific business plan focusing upon the Internet healthcare sector include:

- o Many consumers may have privacy concerns regarding placing personal medical information over the Internet, thus decreasing the potential traffic that our Internet site may generate and the information we may be able to secure from this traffic.
- o Certain business strategies deployed by us toward medical professionals may require that such professionals substantially change their methods of operating, many of which may be ingrained in their professional practice for many years. These professionals may resist, or even refuse to implement the changes that our new technologies and business methods present. Such resistance could prohibit the success of the Company in marketing its products and services to medical professionals, thus materially and adversely effecting our financial operations.

There are currently legal uncertainties relating to the Internet. As a result, it is difficult to predict what, if any impact these regulations will have upon our operations. It is possible that some of these regulations may substantially increase our costs of doing business and prohibit certain business strategies we wish to deploy.

Federal and state laws and regulations addressing issues such as:

- o user privacy;
- o pricing;
- o online content regulation;
- o taxation and the characteristics; and,
- o quality of online products and services.

Are under consideration by federal, state, local and foreign governments and agencies. It may take years to determine the extent to which existing laws relating to issues such as intellectual property ownership and infringement, libel, and personal privacy are applicable to the Internet. The Federal Trade Commission and government agencies in certain states have been investigating certain Internet companies regarding their use of personal information. Our business model contemplates providing physicians with patient information via our website. We could incur additional expenses if any new regulations regarding the use of personal information are introduced or these agencies chose to investigate our privacy practices. Any new laws of regulations relating to the Internet, or certain application or interpretation of existing laws, could decrease the growth in the use of the Internet, decrease the demand for a our website or otherwise adversely affect our business.

Our database will contain extremely sensitive information regarding the health condition and interests of our users. To the extent we are unable to assure absolute privacy to these users, our business maybe severely and adversely effected.

While most Internet companies have concerns about protecting the privacy of their users, these concerns are one of the primary business problems facing us. These concerns include:

- o An individual's personal health and interests in healthcare information are viewed as extremely private. Any indication that such information might be available to a third party might materially reduce traffic and interest in our internet site;
- o The increasingly aggressive and creative attacks by third parties to enter Internet data bases may increase the concerns of parties who might otherwise access our Internet site; and,
- o We will be forced to continuously monitor and upgrade our security precautions imposing increased operating costs upon our budget.

We depend on key personnel for critical management decisions.

Our success depends, to a significant extent, upon a number of key employees, including our President, Donald Shea, and our Vice President, Chief Operations Officer, Secretary, and Chief Financial Officer, Thomas Lonergan. Specifically, Mr. Shea has been involved in the development of the company's new business plan, including its increasing focus on wireless medical industry applications. Mr. Lonergan has been very active in identifying strategic joint venture and advertising opportunities, as well as, fundraising and investor relations. The loss of services of one or more of these employees could have a material adverse effect on our business. We believe that our future success will also depend in part upon our ability to attract, retain, and motivate qualified personnel. Competition for such personnel is intense. There can be no assurance that we can attract and retain such personnel. We do not have "key person" life insurance on any of our employees.

Many of our competitors have been financed with millions of dollars in debt and equity capital. As a result, we believe that it may be necessary for our company to secure financing in addition to the financing contemplated by this Prospectus.

As a result of the constantly changing environment of the Internet healthcare industry, it is difficult to predict the eventual utilization of capitalization. As of the date of this Prospectus we anticipate that our capital needs will include:

- o Computer hardware upgrades to improve the performance of our Internet site and related business strategies.
- o Computer hardware upgrades to improve the internal computers used by our development and office staff.

- o Computer software upgrades developed by third parties who may either be immediately used or customized for our purposes.
- o Computer software development by our internal staff to improve the performance of our Internet site and associated business strategies.
- o Salaries and bonuses needed to attract top-level computer programmers, administrators experienced in operating Internet companies, and office personnel.

Our common stock is currently classified as a "penny stock" which could cause investors to experience delays and other difficulties in trading shares in the stock market

Our common stock is quoted and traded on the Over-the-Counter Pink Sheets ("Pink Sheets"). As a result, an investor could find it more difficult to dispose of, or to obtain accurate quotations as to the market value of, the stock as compared to securities which are traded on the NASDAQ trading market or on an exchange. While it is our intention to apply for quotation on the Over-the-Counter Bulletin Board upon approval of this registration statement, there is no assurance that we will successfully recommence trading on the bulletin board.

In addition, trading in our common stock is covered by what is known as the "Penny Stock Rules." The penny stock rules require brokers to provide additional disclosure in connection with any trades involving a stock defined as a "penny stock," including the delivery, prior to any penny stock transaction, of a disclosure schedule explaining the penny stock market and the risks associated therewith. The regulations governing penny stocks could limit the ability of brokers to sell the shares offered in this prospectus and thus the ability of the purchasers of this offering to sell these shares in the secondary market. Our stock will be covered by the penny stock rules until it has a market price of $5.00 per share or more, subject to certain exceptions. The trading price of our stock could be subject to wide fluctuations in response to quarterly variations in operating results, announcement of technological innovations or new products by us or our competitors, and other events or factors. In addition, in recent years the stock market has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have had a substantial effect on the market prices for many Internet companies, which may be unrelated to the operating performance of the specific companies.

Investors will experience immediate and substantial dilution.

In many cases, our officers, directors, and present shareholders have acquired their securities at a cost substantially less than that which investors will pay for the common stock offered by this prospectus. As a result, investors acquiring shares registered in this prospectus will likely incur immediate, substantial dilution in the net tangible book value per share of the common stock. The net tangible book value of a share represents the amount of our tangible assets less the amount of its liabilities, divided by the number of shares outstanding.

The price of the shares offered hereby is dependent upon the price in the public market which will fluctuate.

The securities being offered in this prospectus are offered at the market price prevailing at the time of the offer. The market price of our securities have varied and may have, at times, had a limited relationship, or no relationship, to our assets, book value, results of operations, or other established criteria of value. The offering price also may not be indicative of the prices that will prevail in the subsequent trading market for our securities.

Most of our shares of common stock will become eligible for public sale over the next year, which could have a depressive effect on the stock.

As of December 31, 2000, thehealthchannel.com had outstanding approximately 27,610,954 shares that are classified as "restricted securities" as that term is defined under Rule 144 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Most of these shares have been held by shareholders for at least one year and may be entitled to be sold under Rule 144. In addition, we are registering:
--2,741,617 shares and 4,046,177 shares underlying warrants for other Selling Shareholders which include:
-- 526,556 shares for Les Dube and Irene Dube, and
--1,663,750 shares underlying warrants for Laguna Pacific Partners, L.P.

If a significant number of shares are offered for sale through the public securities markets simultaneously, it would have a depressive effect on the trading price of common stock. See "Description of Securities."

We may have contingent liabilities resulting from our recent private placement.

We have engaged in a private placement of securities from September 1999 up to the date of this prospectus. During this period of time, we sold securities to investors based on our most recent closing price on the OTC Bulletin Board or the Pink Sheets. The prices at which these securities were sold fluctuated widely, based on fluctuations in our closing prices. We cannot preclude the possibility that an investor or investors who purchased securities in the private placement will claim that we failed to fully disclose the fact that fluctuation in the market for our stock would cause adjustment in the price of the private placement. In the event any shareholder were to successfully prosecute an action against us on this issue, the shareholders who were investors in this private placement may be entitled to damages including a right to rescind their investment entitling them to a return of their gross investment. The net amount raised in the private offering was $1,410,780. According, assuming that the shareholders were entitled to a return of their investment damages to the company would, at the minimum, be equal to $1,410,780 and could exceed that amount. Such a damage award would have a severe and adverse effect on our business, including but not limited to impacting our ability to continue as a going concern.

Our termination of the Swartz transactions may expose us to liability to Swartz under the terms of the Swartz agreements.

We obtained a $30 million equity line from Swartz Private Equity LLC, subject to registration with the SEC and governed by a percentage of our trading volume. This equity line was governed by our investment agreement with Swartz that provided that we may place puts to Swartz over a three-year period. As a result of a conversation with the SEC, we determined that it was highly unlikely that the Swartz transaction would clear comments based upon certain insurmountable aspects of the Swartz deal. As such, we determined that it is not in the best interest of the company to continue with this transaction and have terminated the agreement with Swartz. We remain willing to work with Swartz on future dealings should they be able to demonstrate that their transaction structure could pass scrutiny. Nonetheless, the termination of the Swartz agreement, according to its terms, requires the payment of a "break-up" fee of $200,000. While we believe that no fee is due Swartz, based on the legal impossibility of this agreement, Swartz may attempt to pursue remedies against the company. While we firmly believe that Swartz would not prevail in any action against us, there is no guarantee that they will not recover substantial damages against us. Given the current lack of revenues and funding available to us, a damage award could have an adverse effect on our business operations.

We have been advised by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") that certain transactions involving thehealthchannel.com may have been in violation of the securities laws.

We have been advised by the Securities Exchange Commission ("SEC") that the exchange of BioLogix shares for shares of thehealthchannel.com may have constituted an unregistered public offering in violation of applicable state and federal securities laws. While we have provided correspondence to the SEC denying these allegations, the SEC has indicated that it continues to disagree with our position. If we have engaged in an unregistered public offering, this would constitute a violation of the Securities Act of 1933 and applicable state laws and would make us potentially liable to legal action by the SEC and state security regulators and our shareholders. In the event any of these parties were to successfully prosecute an action based on these allegations, it would have a severe and adverse effect on our business. We may be required to pay monetary damages and penalties, and may be subject to a court-imposed injunction, or may be forced to enter into a consent decree with the SEC. At the very least, damages could take the form of a rescission order permitting the shareholders who exchanged their shares of BioLogix for shares; of thehealthchannel.com, Inc., to receive a return of their BioLogix shares or, damages could be monetary; requiring the company to pay to the investors the fair market value of their shares at the time of the exchange. This dollar amount would be so high a number that there would be a substantial likelihood that we would be forced to cease operations.

We have never paid dividends on our common stock and don't plan to pay dividends in the future.

We have never paid dividends on our common stock and do not plan on paying cash dividends in the foreseeable future.

Special note regarding forward-looking statements.

Statements made in this prospectus regarding our funding requirements and the timing of and potential for our business constitute forward-looking statements under federal securities laws. Such statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause the rate at which we incur expenses and conduct our business to differ materially from those projected. Our ability to proceed with the marketing and development of our business in accordance with the dates anticipated is subject to all of the risks discussed in this prospectus and our ability to estimate the time period for which revenues will fund our operations is subject to substantial uncertainty. Undue reliance should not be placed on the dates and time periods discussed in this prospectus. These estimates are based on the current expectations of our management, which may change in the future due to a large number of unanticipated future developments.

TERMS OF THE OFFERING

Each selling shareholder is free to offer and sell his or her common

shares at such times, in such manner and at such prices as he or she may determine. The types of transactions in which the common shares are sold may include transactions on the pink sheets, or the OTC Bulletin Board in the event the Company is relisted on the OTC Bulletin Board. The sales will be at market prices prevailing at the time of sale or at negotiated prices. Such transactions may or may not involve NASD licensed broker-dealers.

The selling shareholders may effect such transactions by selling common stock directly to purchasers or to or through broker-dealers, which may act as agents or principals. Such broker-dealers may receive compensation in the form of discounts, concessions, or commissions from the selling shareholders. They may also receive compensation from the purchasers of common shares for whom such broker-dealers may act as agents or to whom they sell as principal, or both. Such compensation as to a particular broker-dealer might be in excess of customary commissions.

Each selling shareholder and any broker-dealer that acts in connection with the sale of common shares may be deemed to be, an "underwriter" within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Securities Act. Any commissions received by such broker-dealers and any profit on the resale of the common shares sold by them while acting as principals might be deemed to be underwriting discounts or commissions.

We have notified the Selling Shareholders of the prospectus delivery requirements for sales made pursuant to this prospectus and that, if there are material changes to the stated plan of distribution, a post-effective amendment with current information would need to be filed before offers are made and no sales could occur until such amendment is declared effective.

We are informing the Selling Shareholders that the anti-manipulation rules of the SEC, including Regulation M promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act, may apply to their sales in the market and have provided the Selling Shareholders with a copy of such rules and regulations.

Selling Shareholders also may resell all or a portion of the common shares in open market transactions in reliance upon Rule 144 under the Securities and Exchange Act, provided they meet the criteria and conform to the requirements of such rule.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Results of Operations Fiscal Year Ended December 31, 1999 compared to December 31, 2000.

REVENUE

We are a development stage company and had no revenues for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1999. Revenues for December 31, 2000 were $10,765 and were derived from advertising associated with our wireless strategy.

SELLING, GENERAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

We expended approximately $3,884,782 for the year ended December 31, 2000 compared to $3,460,728 in 1999, in selling, general and administrative expenses. This included expenses for web site development, rent for our office space, and compensation to consultants and employees.

LOSS FROM OPERATIONS

We incurred a loss from operations of $3,874,017 for the year ended December 31, 2000 compared to a loss of $3,460,728 for 1999. The operations of our predecessor company, Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation ("IVTX") in 1999 are presented as discontinued operations as a result of the transfer of its assets and liabilities to a private company. The operations of the old IVTX are not related to the operation of thehealthchannel.com business going forward.

NET LOSS

We had a net loss of $3,874,017, for the year ended December 31, 2000, compared to a loss of $3,926,992 in 1999.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Since our inception, we have primarily funded our capital requirements through private equity infusions. Commencing in September of 1999 and closing in August, 2000, we conducted a private offering, to accredited investors only, of units, each unit consisting of one share of our common stock and one warrant exercisable for a term of two years. All shares purchased in this offering, as well as all shares underlying warrants purchased in this offering, have piggyback registration rights and are entitled to be included in this prospectus. As adjusted for our one for three reverse split, we originally priced this offering at $2.25 per unit with a $2.25 exercise price on the warrants. However, the price of our publicly traded stock dropped precipitously since the beginning of this private offering and we subsequently offered the units at lower prices.

Company management has raised net proceeds of $1,410,780 under this private offering. No NASD-registered broker-dealers were involved in this offering. This private offering is exempt from the registration requirements pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

We obtained a $30 million equity line from Swartz Private Equity LLC, subject to registration with the SEC and governed by a percentage of our trading volume. This equity line was governed by several agreements with Swartz. As a result of our conversations with the SEC, we determined that it is highly unlikely that the Swartz transaction would clear comments. As such, we determined that it is not in the best interest of the company to continue with this transaction and have terminated the agreement with Swartz and canceled the warrants provided to Swartz as part of the transaction. We remain willing to work with Swartz on future transactions should they be able to demonstrate that their transaction structure could pass scrutiny. Nonetheless, termination of the Swartz agreement, according to its terms, requires the payment of a "break-up" fee of $200,000. While we believe that no fee is due Swartz and, we have the legal right to cancel the warrants and terminate the agreements, Swartz may attempt to pursue remedies against the company. While we firmly believe that Swartz would not prevail in any action against us, there is no guarantee that they will not recover substantial damages against us. These damages at a minimum would include the break up fee and an order to reissue the warrants. Given the current lack of revenues and funding available to the company, a damage award could have an adverse effect on our business operations.

We received a loan in the amount of $250,000 from Laguna Pacific Partners L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. This loan is made pursuant to a secured note that bears interest at the rate of 6% and is payable on the earlier of February 3, 2001 or the effective date of this prospectus. The due date of this loan has been extended to the earlier of May 1, 2001, or the effective date of this prospectus. The loan is secured by all of our assets. In consideration for making this loan to us, Laguna Pacific Partners received a warrant for common stock equal to the quotient of $250,000 divided by the closing bid of our stock immediately preceding the effective date of this prospectus. The term of this warrant is five years and the exercise price is $1 in the aggregate. The warrant agreement contains terms, which increase the number of shares underlying the warrants commencing February 1, 2001 at the rate of 10% per month, compounding on a monthly basis, until the effective date of our registration statement. The number of shares being registered under this registration statement includes the monthly increase for February, March and April, 2001.

On August 18, 2000, we received a loan in the amount of $250,000 from Les Dube and Irene Dube. This loan is made pursuant to a note, which bears interest at the rate of 6% and is payable on the earlier of February 18, 2001 or the effective date of this prospectus. The due date of this loan has been extended to the earlier of May 23, 2001, or the effective date of this prospectus. This loan was issued in consideration for 526,556 shares of common stock. These shares are being registered in this prospectus, and, upon repayment of this loan; these shares are to be retained by Les Dube. On the effective date of this prospectus, Les Dube may sell these shares.

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

As of December 31, 2000, we had outstanding current liabilities of $1,639,857, of which $1,033,349 has been approved by the Board of Directors to be settled by issuance of stock, the balance of $783,349 consists mainly of accounts payable of approximately $145,000, accrued professional fees of approximately $143,000, of which $95,000 will be satisfied by the issuance of common stock, and accrued officers salaries $190,000. All officers of the company have agreed to defer their compensation or receive their compensation in the form of equity until such time as the company has the financial ability to pay them. It is anticipated that loans payable will be repaid from online and wireless revenue. Our current ratio is .01. After adjusting for items that will be satisfied by stock issuance, and loans payable, the new current liabilities would be $218,000 resulting in a current ratio of .11.

While we believe that we will eventually generate the revenues necessary to fund operations, we currently do not have sufficient revenues to fund our operations over the next twelve months. We are discussing sources of private funding, but there is no assurance that such funding will be forthcoming in a timely manner, or that when forthcoming it will be sufficient to fund operations.

We do not believe that inflation has had a significant impact on our operations since our inception.

FUTURE PLAN OF OPERATION

The company's overall plan of operations for the next 12 months include significant website development in four primary areas:

- a) Further develop, promote and increase product offerings in its industry leading "Anywhere, Anytime (TM)" mobile and wireless strategy. Thehealthchannel.com was a first time mover in the health sector with this technology application.
- b) Broaden overall content offerings in the areas of general health content and delivery of health goods and services.
- c) Deliver a number of "deep vertical" products in specific health topics.
- d) Implement the business-to-business revenue generating products covering a number of health areas including some unique products not currently in the marketplace.

The company's overall plan of operation also includes completion of strategic acquisitions for the purposes of revenue/profit enhancement, content development, and increased traffic to the website.

We are is currently conducting product research and development in the areas of general health content, broadening and strengthening our health information delivery, as well as conducting research and development in the areas of premier health product offerings (deep verticals) and mobile and wireless communication. In addition we will continue to develop its business-to-business goods and services products.

We recently purchased (through the inclusion of our new operations center lease) the necessary infrastructure to grow and reduce our operational costs by bringing a majority of our software development in-house.

We expect to add approximately 5-10 new employees in the next fiscal year.

The company's expectation of results and other forward-looking statements contained in this registration statement, involve a number of risks and uncertainties. Among the factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expected are the following: business conditions and general economic conditions; and competitive factors, such as pricing and marketing efforts. These and other factors may cause expectations to differ.

ORGANIZATION OF THEHEALTHCHANNEL.COM

History

Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation, also known as "IVTX" was incorporated under the laws of the state of Delaware on September 4, 1996.

In March 1998, a market maker filed a 15c2-11 statement with the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and IVTX's stock was cleared for quotation on the Over-the-Counter Bulletin Board under the symbol "IVTX" on April 21, 1998.

In early 1999, IVTX management determined that the "public" status of IVTX was detrimental to IVTX's operations due to the time and expense burdens of being a public company.

On April 14, 1999, IVTX transferred all of its assets and liabilities based on majority stockholder approval to a newly formed private company, Innovative Tracking Solutions, Inc., a Nevada corporation.

In June 1999, IVTX met the management of BioLogix, Inc. BioLogix was a diversified public company which owned a number of assets, including a consumer-based health care website located at <http://www.thehealthchannel.com>. IVTX and BioLogix each reorganized as follows:

- o In July 1999 IVTX completed a 28.2 for 1 forward stock split. The officers of IVTX were paid $250,000 cash in exchange for their shares for the purpose of financing the operation of the IVTX assets, which had been transferred to a private corporation in April 1999.

- o The other 36 IVTX shareholders were provided with the alternative of either retaining two of their post-split IVTX shares and contributing the balance to an exchange pool (as discussed more fully below) or exchanging their shares for shares in Innovative Tracking Solutions, Inc., a Nevada corporation, the privately held corporation into which the IVTX operating assets had been transferred. Thirty-five of these 36 IVTX shareholders elected to retain two shares and contribute the balance to the exchange pool.

- o In July 1999 the Internet website and associated technology located at www.thehealthchannel.com were transferred by BioLogix, Inc. to IVTX. The name of IVTX was changed to thehealthchannel.com
- o The BioLogix shareholders were provided with the alternative of retaining their BioLogix shares or retiring their BioLogix shares, on a one for one basis, in exchange for IVTX shares contained in the exchange pool (which as noted above had changed its name to TheHealthChannel.com). There were approximately 800 BioLogix shareholders and approximately 650 of these shareholders elected to exchange their BioLogix shares for THCL shares.

The SEC has expressed certain concerns regarding whether the above reorganization was conducted in accordance with applicable state and federal securities laws. The SEC has alleged that the exchange of BioLogix shares for shares of thehealthchannel.com may have constituted an unregistered public offering. While we have provided correspondence to the SEC denying these allegations, the SEC has indicated that it continues to disagree with our position. If we have engaged in an unregistered public offering, this would constitute a violation of the Securities Act and would make us liable to legal action by both the SEC and our shareholders.

In the event the SEC or any shareholder was to take and successfully prosecute an action based on these allegations, it would have a severe and adverse effect on the company. We may be required to pay monetary damages and penalties and may be subject to a court-imposed injunction, or may be forced to enter into a consent decree with the SEC. If any of these events were to occur it would likely immediately and severely impact our operations and business, possibly impairing our ability to continue as a going concern.

In addition, we may be subject to contingent liabilities arising from our private placement of securities, which commenced in September 1999 and continued to August 2000. During this private placement, shares were sold based on our stock's most recent closing cost on the OTC Bulletin Board or on the pink sheets after we were no longer quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board. Therefore, the price of the securities sold in this private placement fluctuated widely, following fluctuations in our closing prices. It is possible that an investor or investors who participated in the private placement may claim that we did not fully disclose that the price to be paid under the private offering fluctuated with the market price for our stock. In the event such investor or investors successfully prosecuted such an action against us, we may be forced to refund investor's money and pay damages.

Finally, our conversations with the SEC has led us to conclude that transactions involving Swartz Equity will not clear comments and that there are serious problems with the legality of Swartz's form of transaction.

We obtained a $30 million equity line from Swartz Private Equity LLC, subject to registration with the SEC and governed by a percentage of our trading volume. This equity line was governed by several agreements with Swartz. We determined that it is highly unlikely that the Swartz transaction would clear comments. As such, we determined that it is not in the best interest of the company to continue with this transaction and have terminated the agreement with Swartz and canceled the warrants provided to Swartz as part of the transaction. Termination of the Swartz agreement, according to its terms, requires the payment of a "break-up" fee of $200,000. While we believe that no fee is due Swartz and, we have the legal right to cancel the warrants and terminate the agreements, Swartz may attempt to pursue remedies against the company. While we firmly believe that Swartz would not prevail in any action against us, there is no guarantee that they will not recover substantial damages against us. These damages at a minimum would include the break up fee and an order to reissue the warrants. Given the current lack of revenues and funding available to the company, a damage award could have an adverse effect on our business operations.

BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY

The Healthcare Industry

The healthcare industry is comprised of a myriad of physicians practicing through a variety of organizational entities and payment plans, hospitals, operated both for profit and not for profit, owned by a variety of small and large operators; and ancillary service providers, such as laboratories and out-patient surgical clinics, again owned and operated by many different types and sizes of companies. Large insurance companies who offer a variety of payment plans to the consumer substantially control the revenue and costs of this giant conglomeration of companies and professional personnel.

This industry generates an enormous amount of information, paperwork, data and transactions, none of which is standardized nor controlled by any single entity or organizational protocol. Different insurance companies require different forms; different providers require different intake information for patients, different hospitals require different approvals be obtained by consumers from their insurance companies.

At first glance, it would seem that such an enormous, information intensive industry would be an obvious candidate for the launch of a successful Internet company. The exact opposite has actually been the case.

The Healthcare Internet Industry

While many Internet healthcare companies have deployed extensive health information libraries useful to both consumers and medical professionals, it is our belief that none of these companies have taken the promise of the Internet and profitably applied it in the healthcare field.

In fact, a number of publicly held Internet healthcare companies, such as

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Dr. Koop, Healtheon/WebMD, and Onhealth.com have sustained large losses recently. We believe these losses have been generated primarily through the expenditure of enormous marketing budgets intended to create "brand awareness" and deliver visitors to the website among healthcare professionals and consumers.

We believe that the large losses suffered by these healthcare Internet companies demonstrate that their business models, to date, may be failing. In July 1999, simultaneous with the acquisition of thehealthchannel.com Web site by thehealthchannel.com, Inc., our management began to consider the financial and business consequences of the healthcare industry business plans deployed throughout the Internet. We focused exclusively upon deploying a diversified business plan throughout various sectors of the healthcare industry utilizing the Internet and associated technologies. This plan would focus upon immediate requirements to generate potential profits, while avoiding the massive marketing budgets currently plaguing the leading companies in the healthcare Internet sector. While there is no assurance that such profits will ever eventually be generated, the plan set forth below is intended to attempt to accomplish profitability within six months of each project's full deployment and a return on our investment within one year.

THEHEALTHCHANNEL.COM SOLUTION

Introduction

As of July 1999 we have focused exclusively upon the development of business strategies and acquisition of existing operations, which satisfy the following three-part test:

- o Is the business strategy/acquisition candidate in the healthcare industry which may be controlled by us?
- o Does implementation of the Internet materially improve the business strategy/acquisition candidate?
- o Can the proposed plan generate projected revenues within six months and a return on our investment within twelve months of the deployment of our capital?

We believe that the following discussion of our business plan provides the infrastructure that is now prepared to efficiently deploy a substantial capital raise into the healthcare Internet sector. Our plans diversify among both healthcare industry consumers and healthcare industry professionals.

Products Marketed to Healthcare Professionals

We have focused our product development efforts in identifying Internet based products and services which will increase the productivity of healthcare professionals by either automating traditional paper-based or manual processes, or by providing additional revenue sources for the healthcare professional community.

We are currently developing three products specifically directed toward physicians:

- o Our revenue sharing program with the Institute for Medical Studies, Inc., a continuing medical education company;

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

- o The Physicians Automated Attendant, a software system which will be integrated into our internet site, accessible through wireless portable devices, automating the process of drug prescription and insurance billing; and, thehealthchannel.com has entered into a revenue sharing agreement with the Institute of Medical Studies to exchange Internet links and to jointly create Internet continuing education programs. This agreement terminates on September 29, 2002. Under the terms of the agreement, thehealthchannel.com will give IMS 10% of the revenue received by thehealthchannel.com for the continuing medical education programs. In addition, IMS will receive a fee for accreditation services which is 10% of any such program's budget. As consideration for entering into the agreement, IMS received warrants to purchase 400,000 common shares at $.30 per share.
- o Physician Pro Care obesity program.

According to their management, the Institute for Medical Studies has for more than ten years provided physicians throughout the world with continuing medical education programs involving virtually every area of the medical practice, from new surgical techniques to certifications for prescribing new drugs. These programs have typically been provided in a traditional classroom setting requiring physicians to travel to the class's location. The preparation of these classes involves the development of extensive materials and the hiring of a number of prominent physicians in each field. Classes will be both "real time" allowing Internet participants to interact with the presenter, as well as archived, allowing physicians to view classes previously provided. Providing such classes over the Internet involves extremely new technologies and business models. There is no assurance that we will successfully provide such classes over the Internet or if we are successful in providing such classes that physicians will regularly access these classes through our Internet site, rather than continue to attend traditional classroom presentations. To date, thehealthchannel.com has not offered any such classes, nor has it received any revenues from the agreement.

We are also developing a web-based product entitled the Physicians Automated Attendant. This product is at an early stage of development. However, it is our intention that this software system would be installed on wireless devices which shall access our website providing patient prescriptions and adjudication of insurance claims. We anticipate that the initial prototypes of this product will be completed during the first quarter of the year 2001. We believe that there are a number of companies developing products, which will directly compete with the Physicians Automated Attendant. Further, since this product involves newly deployed technology, there is no assurance that the technology will be successfully developed or that if it is successfully developed, that physicians will utilize such technology at a level that will be financially practicable for our business plan.

Medical professionals are embracing handheld devices to write prescriptions, access drug databases, remotely access and manage front office operations and communicate more effectively with patients, staff and other health care providers. No company is currently providing medical professionals with up to the minute news and information about the profession and/or their medical specialty.

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

designed for people who are clinically obese (50 lbs. overweight). The supplemental products that are offered as part of the program will be further distributed through our website. It is anticipated that this can be significant revenue enhancement due to the increased exposure related to the distribution through the Internet.

Healthcare Industry Consumer Products

The centerpiece of our consumer products strategy is our website located at www.thehealthchannel.com. We have engineered our website completely in-house, through the efforts of our web design team and in close collaboration with new content and database integration partners. The site provides increased ease of navigation, enhanced personalization, and interaction through on-line chat communities, increased ad and sponsorship banner space and healthcare management via the "Conditions & Symptoms" research tool. The site focuses on alternative care as well as traditional medicine and provides offerings for consumer and professional users. The site was built utilizing the latest hardware and back end systems that have been tested and configured for optimal performance, reliability, stability and efficiency. We have entered into an agreement with NewsEdge, to provide eHealth content consisting of approximately 90 articles daily, which are added to thehealthchannel.com's growing content database. Our agreement requires that we pay NewsEdge one installment of $15,000. We have entered into an agreement with Integrative Medicine, to provide various eHealth content databases and weekly medical-alert newsletters. Our agreement requires that we pay Integrative Medicine an annual fee of $80,000 in monthly installments of $6,667 each. To date, we have made three installment payments totaling $20,001. We have renegotiated this agreement to decrease the amount owed on a monthly basis to $5,000 per month commencing February 1, 2001 and continuing until June 30, 2002.

We have entered into an agreement with EarthLink.com, a general Internet portal, to provide ready access to our site for EarthLink subscribers clicking the healthcare heading on the EarthLink portal. Our agreement with EarthLink provides for a one-year commitment and requires that we pay EarthLink.com $36,000 in four installments of $9,000 each. To date, we have made three installment payments to EarthLink.com totaling $27,000. Lastly, thehealthchannel.com has an arrangement with the National Institute of Health to incorporate, publish and "private label" content and content links from the National Library of Medicine's MEDLINEplus web site. Our agreement with the National Institute of Health requires no payment of money.

We also develop health-related content and programming for the World Wide Web targeted at consumer access vis-a-vis the Internet, web-TV and/or other means of network access.

We intend to enter into strategic alliances and business relationships. These come in many different forms. For example, medical education, alternative medicine, pharmacy, library, and journals may enter into relationships with us to provide information to our web site. We currently have such relationships with NewsEdge and Integrative Medicine as discussed above.

We also expect to have numerous relationships with third party e-commerce companies offering their products and services to thehealthchannel.com users. This will either be through direct advertising of the third party e-commerce site on thehealthchannel.com site or through a commission agreement whereby we would receive a commission for any product purchased from the third party e-commerce site by thehealthchannel.com user. In this regard, we have entered into eight affiliate agreements with other health oriented websites such as vitamins.com and mothernature.com. These agreements provide us with revenues (ranging from 10% to 20% of the sale) in the event users are introduced to our affiliate sites through our website and products or services are ordered. We have only recently commenced these affiliate relationships and have received only a nominal amount of revenue as of the date of this prospectus. As a result of the recent commencement of these relationships, it would be speculative to forecast any future sales or sales growth.

On September 9, 1999, we entered into an agreement with 24/7 Media, Inc. 24/7 operates a network of Internet websites (the "24/7 Network") for which it solicits advertisers, advertising agencies, buying services or others ("Advertisers") regarding the placement of advertising banners and similar devices and sponsorships

("Advertising") for display on pages, screens, and other segments or spaces on Internet websites. We granted 24/7 the worldwide exclusive right to sell all Advertising on the Company's website for a term of one year. For all advertising revenues generated by 24/7, we will pay 24/7 a percentage based upon the number of impressions on our website according to the following chart:

Number of Impressions Delivered in Preceding Month -----	Percentage Retained by 24/7 for Current Month -----
0 to 2,000,000	50%
2,000,000 to 2,999,999	45%
3,000,000 to 4,999,999	40%
5,000,000 to 14,999,999	35%
15,000,000+	30%

To date, we have generated only minimal revenue from this agreement with 24/7. We have begun accruing advertising revenue from the 24/7 agreement since July 2000. We have received additional revenue from website development projects.

We have implemented an "anywhere, anytime" strategy whereby we intend to attract a segment of the market that may not be reachable through traditional browser limited websites. Our website is already available to Palm and Pocket PC device users through <http://www.avantgo.com> and to wireless Palm devices through <http://www.palm.net> as well as <http://www.omnisky.com>. We intend to extend our reach in this market by launching WAP (wireless application protocol) or web-enabled phone applications in the coming weeks. We are the only healthcare website to receive a four star rating on the palm.net web site. A four star rating is only awarded to web sites that are considered to be "good" in meeting 3Com's criteria (see <http://beta.palm.net/apps/users/main/1,10190,00.html?ACTION=Rating>) (see <http://beta.palm.net/apps/users/download/1,1051,1477,00.html>).

The emergence of the Internet as a significant communications medium is driving the development and adoption of web content and commerce applications that offer both convenience and value to consumers, as well as unique marketing opportunities and reduced operating costs to business. A growing number of consumer and trade customers have begun to conduct business on the Internet including paying bills, booking airline tickets, trading securities and purchasing consumer goods such as personal computers, consumer electronics, compact disks, books, groceries and vehicles. Moreover, online transactions can be faster, less expensive and more convenient than transactions conducted through a human intermediary.

Competition

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

The online commerce industry, particularly on the Internet, is new, rapidly evolving and intensely competitive, which we expect to intensify in the future. Barriers to entry are minimal, allowing current and new competitors to launch new websites at a relatively low cost. We currently or potentially compete with other companies which have health care websites. These competitors include InteliHealth, OnHealth, Web MD, Koop.com, and YourHealth.com.

We believe that the principal competitive factors in this market are brand name recognition, wide selection, personalized service, ease of use, 24-hour accessibility, customer service, convenience, reliability, quality of search engine tools, and quality of editorial and other site content. Many of our current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, larger customer bases, greater brand name recognition and significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources than we do. In addition, other websites may be acquired by, receive investments from or enter into other commercial relationships with larger, well-established and well-financed companies as use of the Internet and other online services increases. Certain of our competitors may be able to devote greater resources to marketing and promotional campaigns, and devote substantially more resources to website and systems development than we do.

Increased competition may result in reduced operating margins, loss of market share and a diminished franchise value. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully against current and future competitors, and competitive pressures that we face may have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. Further as a strategic response to changes in the competitive environment, we may, from time to time, make certain service or marketing decisions or acquisitions that could have a material adverse effect on its business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. New technologies and the expansion of existing technologies may increase the competitive pressures on us. In addition, companies that control access to transactions through network access or Web browsers could promote our competitors or charge us a substantial fee for inclusion.

We face well-financed competition from other companies competing in the health sector on the Internet, such as Healtheon, WebMD, and Dr. Koop. Recently, Healtheon and WebMD merged. There is no guarantee that we will be able to compete against these companies or any other companies that might enter the Internet health sector.

Intellectual Property

We currently have an application pending with the United States Patent and Trademark Office for registration of the name "thehealthchannel.com" as a trademark. We have also registered the website domain name of www.thehealthchannel.com.

We do not rely on proprietary technology in providing its healthcare information over the Internet. We have developed some proprietary technology related to our wireless applications and strategy. While we use technology which has been customized for its own purposes, we have deliberately avoided becoming overly dependent on any one technology. By avoiding reliance on any one technology, we will be able to take advantage of technological advances to provide improved accessibility to its content.

We have no collective labor agreements.

be in excess of customary commissions.

The Selling Shareholders, Les Dube and Irene Dube, Laguna Pacific Partners and any broker-dealers acting in connection with the sale of the Shares hereunder may be deemed to be "underwriters" within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Act. Under the Exchange Act and the regulations thereunder, any person engaged in a distribution of the Shares offered by this prospectus may not simultaneously engage in market making activities with respect to the Common Stock of the Company during the applicable "cooling off" periods prior to the commencement of such distribution. In addition, and without limiting the foregoing, the Selling Shareholders will be subject to applicable provisions of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations thereunder, including, without limitation, Rules 10b-6 and 10b-7, which provisions may limit the timing of purchases and sales of Common Stock by the Selling Shareholders.

Selling Shareholders may also use Rule 144 under the Act to sell the Shares if they meet the criteria and conform to the requirements of such Rule.

Les Dube and Irene Dube

In return for making a loan to us, we are issuing shares to Les Dube and Irene Dube. These shares are being registered in this prospectus and Les Dube and Irene Dube may continue to hold these shares or sell them on the market if this prospectus is effective.

The warrant agreement contains terms which increase the number of shares underlying the warrants commencing February 1, 2001 at the rate of 10% per month, compounding on a monthly basis, until the effective date of our registration statement. The shares, adjusted for February, March and April 2001 are being registered in this prospectus and once it exercises these warrants, Laguna Pacific Partners may sell the underlying shares on the market if this prospectus is effective.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors
thehealthchannel.com, Inc.
Newport Beach, California

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of thehealthchannel.com, Inc. (a development stage enterprise) as of December 31, 2000, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' deficit and cash flows for the two years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements for the period from inception of operations on September 4, 1996 to December 31, 1998 was audited by other auditors whose report dated April 1, 1999, included an explanatory paragraph which expressed substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of thehealthchannel.com, Inc. as of December 31, 2000, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As shown in the financial statements, the Company has incurred net losses from operations, has negative cash flows from operations, and its current liabilities exceeds its current assets. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 1. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

THEHEALTHCHANNEL.COM, INC.
(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE ENTERPRISE)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2000 AND 1999

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

GOING CONCERN:

The Company's financial statements are prepared using the generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has no current source of material revenues. Without realization of additional capital, it would be unlikely for the Company to continue as a going concern. This factor raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Management recognizes that the Company must generate additional resources to enable it to continue operations. Management's plans also include the sale of additional equity and debt securities. However, no assurance can be given that the Company will be successful in raising additional capital. Further, there can be no assurance, assuming the Company successfully raises additional funding, that the Company will achieve profitability or positive cash flow. If management is unable to raise additional capital and expected significant revenues do not result in positive cash flow, the Company will not be able to meet its obligations and will have to cease operations.

GENERAL:

With headquarters in Newport Beach, California, thehealthchannel.com (formerly Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation or "IVTX") is a comprehensive health information Internet portal that offers a one-step access point for consumers and professionals who want to explore a broad array of health topics. The portal currently indexes other Internet health and health-related sites, has direct links with online health-care information service centers and provides detailed coverage of medical conditions. Consumers may access a global library of health-care information while searching for products and services. The site offers a complete Internet portal for state-of-the-art continuing medical education for professionals.

The Company was incorporated under the laws of the state of Delaware on September 4, 1996.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY:

In early 1999, IVTX management determined that the "public" status of IVTX was detrimental to IVTX' operations due to the time and expense burdens of being a public company. IVTX management then decided to take the operations of IVTX "private" by transferring all IVTX assets and liabilities to a newly formed private company and selling the public shell to a suitable company, preferably in the healthcare industry. On April 13, 1999, IVTX obtained written approval of 64.4% of the total voting stock of IVTX, voting "for" taking the operations of IVTX private and selling the public shell to a suitable company.

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, CONTINUED:

company, Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation, a private Nevada corporation, incorporated on March 29, 1999. Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation was formed by IVTX management specifically for the purpose of taking the operations of IVTX private. The former IVTX officers and directors, Dianna Cleveland, Lee Namisniak and Lou Weiss are the officers and directors of Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation, the private company. The consideration for the transfer of assets was the assumption of all IVTX's liabilities by the newly formed private company. As a result of this transfer of assets and liabilities and the disposal of the segment of business on April 14, 1999 (which is unrelated to the present business of thehealthchannel.com), the Company recorded a loss on discontinued operations of $367,014 and a loss on disposal of a segment of $99,250 for the year ended December 31, 1999.

In June 1999, IVTX was introduced to thehealthchannel.com, a consumer-based health Internet web site (HTTP://WWW.THEHEALTHCHANNEL.COM). On July 28, 1999, IVTX, pursuant to its bylaws and general Delaware corporate law, acquired a certain asset of Biologix International, Ltd., a Delaware corporation ("Biologix") consisting of thehealthchannel.com web site and its related technology in exchange for the controlling interest in IVTX. In connection with this change of control, IVTX's name was changed to thehealthchannel.com, Inc. on July 28, 1999. The acquisition closed on July 28, 1999.

USE OF ESTIMATES:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

FAIR VALUE:

Unless otherwise indicated, the fair values of all reported assets and liabilities which represent financial instruments, none of which are held for trading purposes, approximate the carrying values of such amounts.

CASH:

The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts.

YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2000 AND 1999

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, CONTINUED:

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT:

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to earnings as incurred, whereas, additions, renewals, and betterments are capitalized. When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed of, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is included in operations. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets. Website and related technology is being amortized straight-line over its estimated useful life of three years.

INCOME TAXES:

The Company accounts for income taxes under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes," which adopts the asset and liability approach to measurement of temporary differences between financial reporting and income tax return reporting. The principal temporary difference is the net operating loss carryforward of approximately $8,000,000 at December 31, 2000. Due to business activity during 1999 (Note 1), there are significant limitations on the Company's ability to utilize this operating loss carryforward. A deferred asset has been provided and completely offset by a valuation allowance, because its utilization does not appear to be reasonably assured. The federal net operating loss carryforward starts to expire on December 31, 2019 and the California state net operating loss carryforward starts to expire on December 31, 2004.

DEVELOPMENT STAGE ENTERPRISE:

The Company is a development stage company as defined in Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7, "Accounting and Reporting by Development Stage Enterprises." The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business, which is unrelated to the business of Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation ("IVTX"), and its planned principal operations have not yet commenced. All losses accumulated since inception of thehealthchannel.com (Note 1) have been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities. The operations of IVTX are presented as discontinued operations as a result of the transfer of its assets and liabilities to a private company (Note 1).

NET LOSS PER SHARE:

Net loss per share has been computed using the weighted average number of shares outstanding. Common stock equivalents have been excluded since their inclusion would reduce loss per share.

YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2000 AND 1999

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, CONTINUED:

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS:

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the Commission) issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements, which is to be applied beginning with the fourth fiscal quarter of fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1999, to provide guidance related to recognizing revenue in circumstances in which no specific authoritative literature exists. The adoption by the Company in the application of the Staff Accounting Bulletin to the Company's financial statements did not have a material change in the amount of revenues the Company ultimately realized.

In March 2000, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued FASB Interpretation No. 44 (Interpretation 44), "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation". Interpretation 44 provides criteria for the recognition of compensation expense in certain stock-based compensation arrangements that are accounted for under APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. Interpretation 44 is effective July 1, 2000, with certain provisions that are effective retroactively to December 15, 1998 and January 12, 2000. Interpretation 44 is not expected to have any material impact on the Company's financial statements.

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." SFAS No. 133, as amended by SFAS No. 137, is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000. SFAS No. 133 requires the Company to recognize all derivatives as either assets or liabilities and measure those instruments at fair value. It further provides criteria for derivative instruments to be designated as fair value, cash flow and foreign currency hedges and establishes respective accounting standards for reporting changes in the fair value of the derivative instruments. Upon adoption, the Company will be required to adjust hedging instruments to fair value in the balance sheet and recognize the offsetting gains or losses as adjustments to be reported in net income or other comprehensive income, as appropriate. The Company is evaluating its expected adoption date and currently expects to comply with the requirements of SFAS 133 in fiscal year 2001. The Company does not expect the adoption will be material to the Company's financial position or results of operations since the Company does not believe it participates in such activities.

(3) STOCKHOLDERS' DEFICIT:

Biologix paid $250,000 for 850,000 shares of common stock of IVTX, representing the majority controlling interest held by the officers and directors of IVTX (see Note 2 for the recording of this issuance). This purchase was made pursuant to the exemption from registration set forth in Section 4(1) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act"), as a non-issuer transaction. This exemption was available since the officers and directors of IVTX sold their stock to Biologix; IVTX itself did not issue any new stock. Further, Biologix agreed to contribute thehealthchannel.com assets and technology to IVTX in exchange for the IVTX shareholders agreeing to split their stock and exchange shares with the shareholders of Biologix. This exchange was made pursuant to the exemption set forth in Section 4(1) of the Act as a non-issuer transaction. This exemption was available since IVTX shareholders transferred their shares of IVTX (newly named thehealthchannel.com, Inc.) to the shareholders of Biologix who elected to exchange their shares. The shares of stock of IVTX were forward split 28.22-for-one and the IVTX shareholders opted to exchange each share they held of IVTX stock for two shares of common stock of IVTX under its new name of thehealthchannel.com, Inc. and contributed the remaining 26.22 shares each into a share exchange pool as presented in the statement of stockholders' equity. Then approximately 800 Biologix shareholders were provided with the alternative of retaining their Biologix shares or retiring their Biologix shares in exchange for IVTX shares (thehealthchannel.com shares) contained in the exchange pool on a one for one share basis. Approximately 630 Biologix shareholders elected to exchange their Biologix shares for thehealthchannel.com shares from the pool (the "Exchange").

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

During October 2000, the shareholders approved a stock split of 1:3 shares, the effect of which has been retroactively applied in the accompanying financial statements. The number of authorized shares of common stock was increased to 175,000,000.

(3) STOCKHOLDERS' DEFICIT, CONTINUED:

After the forward stock split, the Company (thehealthchannel.com, Inc. formerly Innovative Tracking Solutions Corporation) had 35,606,519 post split shares of common stock issued and outstanding. The Exchange began on August 6, 1999 and ended on October 31, 1999 to ensure that all shareholders had enough time and notice to exchange their shares. Following the conclusion of the Exchange period, the Company had approximately 12,667,000 post split shares reserved for exchange with Biologix shareholders that were not exchanged. During 2000, 1,528,369 shares were exchanged with Biologix shareholders.

During the year ended December 31, 1998, the Company sold 3,334,252 restricted (post split) shares of the Company's common stock for total proceeds of $476,464 under Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933.

During the year ended December 31, 1998, the Company recorded an expense from the issuance of approximately 7,000,000 post split shares in exchange for services and license agreements. Expense amounts totaling $1,061,539 were determined based on share value of consideration given and/or consideration received, which ever was more clearly determinable.

Prior to the April 14, 1999 transfer of the IVTX assets and liabilities (Note 1), the Company had concluded a private placement offering under Rule 504 of Regulation D, whereby 113,043 (post split) shares of common stock were sold at an offering price of $1.52 (post split) per share. This offering resulted in net proceeds of $172,199. Also, the Company issued 34,800 (post split) shares of common stock for services rendered. The private placement offering was closed on August 29, 2000. The shares issued and the shares issuable upon exercise of the warrants have piggyback registration rights in the event the Company files a Registration Statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The warrants vest immediately and expire two years from the date of issuance.

The Company issued 501,667 shares of common stock for satisfaction of legal settlement agreements the Company entered into for a total of $1,797,345.

During July 1999, the Company entered into a Consulting Agreement with Ocean View Management, LLC. Under the Consulting Agreement, Ocean View Management received a one time payment of 25,000 post split shares of common stock of the Company, which is recorded in accrued stock based compensation on the balance sheet. This issuance was exempt from the registration provisions of the Act by virtue of Section 4(2) of the Act, as transactions by an issuer not involving any public offering. The securities issued pursuant to the Consulting Agreement are restricted securities as defined in Rule 144.

During August 1999, the Company entered into an Agreement for Financial Public Relation Services with Market Pathways Financial Relations Incorporated. Under the Agreement for Financial Public Relations Services, Market Pathways Financial Relations Incorporated received a one time payment of 28,333 post split shares of common stock of the Company and is included in accrued stock based compensation on the balance sheet. Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

During 2000, the Company entered into a Consulting Agreement with Lawrence W. Horwitz pursuant to which Mr. Horwitz agreed to provide business development and advisory services. For services rendered under this Consulting Agreement, the Company issued 666,667 post split shares of common stock of the Company (the "Shares"). The Shares were registered on Forms S-8, for which, an expense of $500,000 has been recorded.

On August 5, 2000, the Company approved the issuance of 508,319 post split restricted shares to 12 officers, directors and consultants in payment for services rendered to the Company. The related expense amounts of $457,487 have been recorded in accrued stock based compensation as shares had not yet been issued.

BRIDGE FINANCING

During August 2000, the Company entered into an agreement to borrow $250,000 from Laguna Pacific Partners L.P., ("Laguna Partners") a Delaware limited partnership. This loan is secured by all assets of the Company, bears interest at 6% per annum and is payable on the earlier of 180 days or within 30 days from the effective date of the Form SB-2 above. This loan has been extended to May 1, 2001. In consideration for this loan, Laguna Partners will receive warrants for common stock equal to the quotient of $250,000 divided by the closing bid of the Company's stock price immediately preceding the effective date of the Form SB-2 above. The term of this warrant is five years and the exercise price is $1. The Company will record interest expense using the fair value of $0.165 per warrant granted, measured at the date of grant using the Black Scholes model with a 70% volatility. This discount of $250,000 is being amortized over the loan term using the imputed interest method.

During August 2000, the Company entered into an agreement to borrow $250,000 from Les and Irene Dube, ("Dube") individuals. Stock Option Plan (the "Plan"), which has reserved for issuance, 5,000,000 options to purchase shares of Common Stock of the Company for key employees and consultants. To date, no options have been granted under the plan.

(4) ADVERTISING COSTS:

Advertising costs are expensed when incurred and amounted to approximately $615,000 and $400,000 for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

(5) EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS:

The Company has employment agreements with its chief operating officer and president. The employment agreements provide for a monthly salary of $12,000 each. The agreements commenced on September 1, 1999 and are in effect for three years from that date.

(6) CONTINGENCIES:

The Company is involved in other various routine legal proceedings incidental to the conduct of its normal business operations. The Company's management believes that none of these legal proceedings will have a material adverse impact on the financial condition or results of operations of the Company.

The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") has alleged that the exchange of shares involving the Biologix shareholders may have been in violation of the Securities Act of 1933 and thereby constituted the making of an unregistered public offering to which the Company continues to disagree. If the SEC were to prevail in its position, it would have a severe and adverse impact on the Company, and the Company's ability to continue as a going concern would be adversely affected. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty, as the amounts are not estimable.

The Company initiated a private placement of securities during September 1999 which closed on August 29, 2000. During this period of time, the Company sold securities to investors based on the most recent closing price on the OTC Bulletin Board or the Pink Sheets. The prices at which these securities were sold fluctuated widely, based on fluctuations in the closing prices. The Company is contingently liable in the event that an investor or investors who purchased securities in this private placement asserts a claim that the Company failed to fully disclose the fact that fluctuations in the market would cause adjustments in the price of the private placement. The Company believes that they fully disclosed this risk, however, in the event any shareholder(s) were to successfully prosecute an action against the Company, it may have a severe and adverse effect on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty, as the amounts are not estimable.

TERMINATION OF SWARTZ EQUITY LINE

During 2000, the Company entered into an agreement with Swartz Private Equity LLC ("Swartz") for a $30,000,000 equity offering, subject to registration with the SEC and governed by a percentage of our trading volume. This equity line was governed by the investment agreement with Swartz that provided that the Company may place puts to Swartz over a three-year period. The Company has determined that it was highly unlikely that the Swartz transaction would clear comments based upon certain insurmountable aspects of the Swartz deal. As such, the Company terminated the agreement with Swartz. Termination of the Swartz agreement, according to its terms, requires the payment of a "break-up" fee of $200,000. While the Company believes that no fee is due Swartz, based on the legal impossibility of this agreement, Swartz may attempt to pursue remedies against the company. Based on discussions with legal counsel, management does not believe that Swartz would prevail in any action against the Company. Accordingly, no amounts have been recorded in the accompanying financial statements as the probability of a negative outcome is remote.

LITIGATION

During 2000, the Company was named as a cross-defendant in a cross-complaint filed by its Former President in an action pending in the Superior Court State of California for the County of San Francisco, Case No. 307364. This action was initiated by Biologix International, Ltd. ("Biologix") against the Former President on October 22, 1999 alleging causes of action against the former President for: (1) temporary restraining order and preliminary and permanent injunction; (2) breach of fiduciary duty; (3) fraud by intentional misrepresentation; (4) conversion; (5) possession of personal property; (6) declaratory relief; and (7) accounting. The claims alleged by Biologix relate to the actions and conduct of the former President as an officer and director of Biologix. Thehealthchannel.com was named as a cross-defendant in the cross-complaint of the former President in a cause of action for breach of contract based upon an alleged employment agreement between the former President and Biologix. The former President claimed that the alleged employment agreement was the responsibility of thehealthchannel.com based upon thehealthchannel.com's purchase of the internet related assets from Biologix. Thehealthchannel.com was served with the cross-complaint on December 14, 1999. The former President seeks $400,000 in damages and options to purchase one million shares of Biologix stock. The Company entered into a Settlement Agreement and Release with its Former President. Pursuant to the settlement agreement, (a) the Former President was required to transfer 266,667 thehealthchannel.com post split shares which had erroneously been issued to a Company under his control and contribute the proceeds from the sale of 66,667 thehealthchannel.com post split shares to the Company, withdraw all pending claims or rights to any monetary compensation, whether asserted or unasserted, stock options or stocks and waive his right to future claims or lawsuits against the Company and (b) the Company was to issue approximately 333,333 post split shares immediately, 166,667 post split shares if the weighted average trading price as determined in the agreement was at least $2.25, 166,666 post split shares if the weighted average trading price as determined in the agreement was at least $3.75 and 66,667 post split shares if the weighted average trading price as determined in the agreement was at least $6.00. Pursuant to this agreement, the Company recorded an obligation of $300,000 arising from the initial 333,333 shares at $0.90 per share, which approximated the post split trading price per share. This obligation of $300,000 is included in accrued stock based compensation on the balance sheet. The Company is contingently liable to issue 400,000 additional post split shares based upon certain stock price goals as disclosed above, and no amounts have been recorded in the accompanying financial statements

To the best knowledge of management, there is no other material litigation pending or threatened against the Company.

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

Item 24. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

We are required by our Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation to indemnify, to the fullest extent permitted by law, each person that the Company is permitted to indemnify. Our Charter requires it to indemnify such parties to the fullest extent permitted by Sections 102(b)(7) and 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law.

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law permits us to indemnify its directors, officers, employees, or agents against expenses, including attorneys fees, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlements actually and reasonably incurred in relation to any action, suit, or proceeding brought by third parties because they are or were directors, officers, employees, or agents of the corporation. In order to be eligible for such indemnification, however, our directors, officers, employees, or agents must have acted in good faith and in a manner they reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, our best interests. In addition, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, the officer, director, employee, or agent must have had no reason to believe that the conduct in question was unlawful.

In derivative actions, we may only indemnify our officers, directors, employees, and agents against expenses actually and reasonably incurred in connection with the defense or settlement of a suit, and only if they acted in good faith and in a manner they reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, our best interests. Indemnification is not permitted in the event that the director, officer, employee, or agent is actually adjudged liable to the Corporation unless, and only to the extent that, the court in which the action was brought so determines.

Our Certificate of Incorporation permits us to indemnify our directors except in the event of:

- o a breach of the duty of loyalty to us or our stockholders;
- o an act or omission that involves intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of the law and an act or omission not in good faith;
- o liability arising under Section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, relating to unlawful stock purchases, redemption, or payment of dividends; or
- o a transaction in which the potential indemnity received an improper personal benefit.

Edgar Filing: THEHEALTHCHANNEL COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Act") may be permitted to our controlling directors, officers, or persons pursuant to the foregoing provisions, we have been informed that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission, such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is therefore unenforceable.

In the offering, IVTX sold 45,667 shares to five accredited investors for the total proceeds of $137,000 and the remaining 166,667 shares offered were subscribed for investment intent by an additional accredited investor for purchase at $3.00 per share. general solicitation or general advertising. Each investor was provided with IVTX's private placement memorandum and business plan. The issuances were exempt from the registration provisions of the Act by virtue of Section 4(2) under the Act.

3. In July 1997 through February 1999, in order to raise capital that would be needed to launch and maintain the marketing of IVTX' lead product, IVTX conducted a private offering of Common Stock pursuant to Regulation D, Rule 504. The pending sale of the 166,667 shares mentioned in Item B1 above and the potential dilution of the sale once consummated was fully disclosed in IVTX' offering circular which was provided to each investor in the offering. IVTX initially offered 41,667 units of Common Stock at $2.00 per unit. Each Unit consisted of one (1) share of Common Stock ($.001 par value) and three (3) Stock Purchase Warrants. Each Warrant entitled the holder thereof to purchase one (1) share of Common Stock of IVTX. The Warrants were exercisable at $2.00 per share and were set to expire on July 21, 1998. The total offering price of the offering was $250,000 and upon the exercise of all warrants, the total offering price and proceeds of the offering would be $1,000,000. IVTX sold 30,904 units at $2.00 per unit which included 93,179 warrants.

After IVTX' stock became publicly traded, the price of the stock dropped precipitously and IVTX cancelled all remaining unsold warrants and offered individual shares at a reduced purchase price ranging from $4.50 per share to $1.50 per share. Specifically, IVTX sold 2,000 shares at $4.50 per share; 4,822 shares at $3.36 per share; 17,167 shares at $3.00 per share; 6,666.67 shares at $2.70 per share; 20,000 shares at $2.25 per share; and 10,000 shares at $1.50 per share. IVTX sold a total of 274,677 shares of Common Stock to 72 investors in consideration of total cash proceeds of $339,938. IVTX extended the Warrants purchased to expire on December 31, 1998. However, none of the Warrants purchased were ever exercised and all Warrants expired on December 31, 1998.

Further and as part of the Rule 504 offering, in order to purchase designs and services necessary to the development and marketing of IVTX' product line and to minimize further reductions in IVTX' limited capital raised, IVTX offered a portion of the Rule 504 shares to consultants, vendors and professionals in exchange for product engineering and development, mold design, equipment and production services and consulting and marketing services. IVTX made such offers only when potential contractors of service were not interested in restricted stock as payment for services. IVTX issued a total of 42,667 shares of Common Stock to 10 purchasers in exchange for services rendered or to be rendered on behalf of the Company and for total proceeds of $155. The total "value" of the shares issued (total offering price and proceeds) and the services performed or to be performed was $256,000 and was based on a price of $6.00 per share consistent with IVTX offering price for Rule 504 shares. The total shares issued in the Rule 504 offering for both cash and services (all listed above) was 134,226 to 82 purchasers and the total proceeds of the offering for same was $315,380 net of $24,713 of offering costs. Each purchaser in the total offering was provided with IVTX' offering circular. There was no underwriter involved in these issuances and no commissions were paid to any person. 4. In December 1997, the sale of the 166,667 shares subscribed to by an accredited investor indicated in Item B1 above had not yet been consummated by the investor. However, IVTX was still in need of additional research and development capital. Therefore, the accredited investor who subscribed for the shares offered and agreed to assign his $3.00 subscription rights back to IVTX for all 166,667 shares for designation by IVTX to other investors so that IVTX could continue to raise its ongoing Research & Development capital for its expanding product line. From April 1998 to December, 1998, IVTX offered these subscription rights to 166,667 shares of restricted Common Stock at $3.00 per share via a private offering pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Act for a total offering price of $500,000. Each purchaser was provided with IVTX's current offering circular which disclosed all potential dilution. None of the transactions involved general solicitation or general advertising. The issuances were exempt from the registration provisions of the Act by virtue of Section 4(2) under the Act.

All IVTX' sales of stock were made directly with purchasers whom IVTX' officers had a pre-existing relationship with or that came from personal referrals. None of the transactions involved general solicitation or general advertising. Proceeds from the sale of the shares were applied towards the continuing development and marketing of its products and working capital.

Additionally, BioLogix agreed to contribute its thehealthchannel.com assets and technology to IVTX in exchange for the IVTX shareholders agreeing to split their stock and exchange shares with the shareholders of BioLogix.
