* Source: IUSA proxy statements and books and records received from the Company by Dolphin pursuant to its search under Delaware law.

The footnotes on the following page are an integral part of this table.

1. Dolphin has attempted to match the related party transactions between the Company and Mr. Vinod Gupta and affiliates appearing in the Company's proxy statements with Company expense records that Dolphin obtained in its books and records search under Delaware law. Dolphin's analysis suggests that in many cases, the Company has not correctly characterized the transactions in the proxy statements, as can be seen by comparing the amounts identified in the spreadsheet above with the proxy statement disclosures summarized below. Also, in some cases the accounts and amounts of related party transactions are inconsistent in the proxy statements of different years even when purporting to describe transactions in the same year.

Year		Total Annual
		Amount	Amount
2005	Reimbursement for operating expenses, hourly costs and a proportionate amount of fixed expenses associated with the use of this aircraft	$297,000	$297,000
2004	Aircraft usage	$1.5 million	$1.5 million
2003	Aircraft usage and other travel expenses	$2.2 million	$2.2 million
2002	Aircraft usage and other travel expenses	$2.2 million
	Acquisition-related expenses paid to Everest Asset Management	$415,000	$2.615 million
2001	Usage of the aircraft and other travel and entertainment expenses	$2.1 million
	Costs related to Polk City Directory acquisition	$49,000
	Payment for rented office space to Everest Investment Management	$120,000	$2.269 million
2000	Company-related employee travel expenses	$2.0 million	$2.0 million
1999	Reimbursement of Company related executive travel expenses	$2.2 million
	Acquisition and other related expenses	$1.3 million
	Investment advisory fees to Everest Investment Management	$500,000	$4.0 million
1998	Travel and consulting services and related expenses	$1,392,000	$1,392,000

2. In response to Dolphin's books and records request, the Company stated that it could not furnish records of related party transactions prior to July 1998. Accordingly, Dolphin's data for 1998 is incomplete.
3. These charges primarily say "business development," "IUSA," "Corporate Travel," or have no stated reason whatsoever. Often, the individual signing the related payment requisition is Mr. Vinod Gupta himself.
4. Apparently included in $2.2 million of "travel expenses" disclosed in the 2000 IUSA proxy statement. There is no documentation indicating this loan has been repaid by either Annapurna or Mr. Vinod Gupta. Not included in this summary is an additional $2.6 million loan to Mr. Vinod Gupta in 1999, which appears to have been repaid.

5. Does not include a $1 million investment in Everest³ Fund. According to the 2004 proxy statement, IUSA liquidated this investment in 2004.
6. Spent before the Company purchased the Everest Building in October 2001. Does not include $78,627 in similar payments for 2001, which the Company spent after acquiring the building. It is unclear to Dolphin for whose benefit these payments were made.
7. In the log book for the American Princess Yacht that Dolphin obtained in its books and records search, there is no identification of any business purpose for which the vessel was used.
8. Dolphin has been unable to identify all $2.2 million in expense payments to Annapurna in 2003 that the Company disclosed in its proxy statements. Dolphin suspects that the Company included in its proxy disclosure the $617,400 paid by the Company to Annapurna in that year for the purchase of the University of Nebraska skybox, which was also separately disclosed. When added to the expense payments that Dolphin has identified for 2003, it sums to approximately $2.2 million.
9. The February 8, 2005 "Raval Memo" lists $277,899 in payments to Annapurna for usage of the American Princess Yacht and $195,000 in service charges for travel services. These payment totals modestly differ from those that Dolphin was able to identify.
10. Represents the total amount of payments that are payable over the term of the yacht lease.
11. Dolphin has included the records for 2005 which it received pursuant to its books and records request, but these records may not be complete.
