Dear Forest Labs Stockholder,

We are writing this letter to address the supposed conflict issue that Forest Labs has raised about two of our director nominees. Specifically, we want to make very clear that Alex Denner and Richard Mulligan are NOT CONFLICTED to serve as Forest Labs directors.

Forest Labs nominee Christopher Coughlin serves on the board of Covidien which markets specialty pharma products for treatment of depression and pain management. Covidien's specialty pharma products comprised 4.5% OF FY 2010 NET SALES, partially driven by sales of depression and pain management products which COMPETE DIRECTLY with Forest Labs products. In contrast, Biogen Idec and Amylin Pharmaceuticals have 0.0% OF FY 2010 NET SALES that compete with Forest Labs products, representing NO COMPETITION WHATSOEVER.

Forest Labs admitted that Biogen Idec and Amylin do not currently market products that compete with Forest Labs. Instead, Forest claims that Denner and Mulligan are conflicted due to POTENTIAL COMPETITION for theoretical new business opportunities. Covidien, already currently competing with Forest Labs in marketed products, is surely seeking business opportunities in those same areas, clearly representing POTENTIAL COMPETITION. Furthermore, Forest Labs nominee Brenton Saunders is CEO and Director of Bausch + Lomb, owned by Warburg Pincus which has several biopharma companies within their investment portfolio. Warburg Pincus portfolio companies, including Bausch + Lomb, also represent POTENTIAL COMPETITION for business opportunities. IT IS ABSURD that Forest Labs claims that Denner and Mulligan are conflicted while maintaining that Coughlin and Saunders are not conflicted.

The biopharma industry has standard practices on how to deal with potential director conflicts regarding business development opportunities. Directors simply recuse themselves in the event of a vote or decision that may present a conflict. The benefit of drawing upon knowledge and experience from shared, collective service on multiple biopharma boards heavily outweighs the potential conflict in these rare situations which are easily managed through recusal.

We trust you are able to see Forest's efforts to malign our candidates' abilities to help fix Forest Labs for the DESPERATE ATTEMPT that it is. If you follow Forest's claims to their logical extreme, NO ONE WOULD BE ABLE TO SERVE ON MULTIPLE BOARDS due to the potential for conflict. Denner and Mulligan are not conflicted to serve as Forest directors and their experience and knowledge base from serving on other biopharma boards will BENEFIT ALL FOREST LABS SHAREHOLDERS.

Regards,

The Icahn Group
