TURKCELL EXPECTS NEGATIVE IMPACT FROM BELARUS DEVALUATION

Subject: Statement made pursuant to Circular VIII, No: 54 of the Capital Markets Board

Istanbul Stock Exchange

ISTANBUL

Special Subjects:

There has been a 63% devaluation in Belarus from March 31, 2011 to date.

As a result of the devaluation and stemming from the foreign currency-denominated net liabilities of BeST, we foresee BeST to record a translation loss in the range of US$150 – 200 million in the second quarter of 2011.

Although this development does not result in any cash outflow impact, Turkcell's second quarter 2011 consolidated net income is, accounting-wise, expected to be affected. Additionally, as the high devaluation may have a potential impact on BeST's business plan going forward, an independent international audit firm, assigned to conduct an impairment test for the Belarus operations, has already begun its studies. Our 2011 expectation for Turkcell Group's revenue and EBITDA is for both to continue as is.

* BeST's foreign currency denominated financial debt was at US$274 million and foreign currency denominated other liabilities was at US$60 million as of March 31, 2011. The translation loss, which will impact the second quarter 2011 financial results, may change depending on the currency fluctuation to be realized in June 2011.
