AT&T/BELLSOUTH MERGER
CUSTOMER SERVICE REP TALK POINTS
[For Reactive Use by Customer Service Reps]
FINAL March 5, 2006

General statement

Everyone at AT&T is excited about the news that we will acquire BellSouth.

The merger is a positive step forward for our company, our customers and the whole industry.

The merger will create a stronger, broader company that will be in an ideal position to serve the needs of consumer, business and government customers. It will take months to close.

In the meantime, you can still count on the same dedication and service you have come to expect from AT&T.

Response to customer questions or concerns

Isn't this an anti-competitive move that will hurt customers and limit choices?

No. BellSouth is regional company and is not a significant player in the national or international enterprise space. AT&T established a broader national presence only recently. We worked very hard to improve our position in the enterprise space and it was very tough going; that's what led us to acquire AT&T. BellSouth does not have a national or international backbone, brand or presence. With this merger, enterprise customers in the BellSouth states will have another vigorous and more effective and efficient competitor vying for their business.

I'm an AT&T [or BellSouth] customer. How will this affect me? Do I need to do anything?

No, you don't need to do anything at this point. Whatever services you have from either company will continue and are not affected by this announcement.

I'm an AT&T stockholder. I don't like this plan.

AT&T believes this merger will create a strong, financially secure company that will be good for stockholders like you. I would suggest you direct any other questions or concerns about your stock ownership to Investor Relations, which you can reach via our Web site, www.thenewatt.com.

What affect will this have on prices for services?

Today's announcement will not have any immediate impact on pricing.

Additional factors that may affect future results are contained in AT&T's, BellSouth's, and Cingular Wireless LLC's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), which are available at the SEC's Web site (<http://www.sec.gov>).
