PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

Chicago Bridge & Iron Company N.V. (CB&I or the Company) is not able to timely file its annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005, which was due March 16, 2006.

As previously announced, the Audit Committee of the Supervisory Board of CB&I, composed of independent outside directors, initiated an independent inquiry in October 2005 into certain alleged accounting improprieties and engaged legal counsel and accounting advisors to assist in the inquiry. As part of the Company's finalization of its financial statements for the third quarter of 2005 and for the year ended December 31, 2005, the Company has focused on certain internal control processes with respect to certain projects where weaknesses have been identified. Accordingly, we and our outside auditors have continued to perform an extensive review of certain of our existing contracts to ensure proper reporting of financial performance. This review is nearing completion.

In addition to the above, we identified certain accounting issues, not directly related to the subject matter of the inquiry, that have required further evaluation. These issues could give rise to additional adjustments that might result in restatement for items we believe are in substantial part related to timing issues. This evaluation is ongoing and may lead to a downward adjustment of previously issued guidance regarding earnings per share for the year ended December 31, 2005, but would not alter previously disclosed information concerning new business taken, backlog, and cash and cash equivalents.

The filing of our 2005 Form 10-K depends upon the completion of these processes. We will file our 2005 Form 10-K promptly upon completing the preparation and audit of our financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005.

- (2) Have all other periodic reports required under Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 30 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 during the preceding 12 months or for such shorter period that the registrant was required to file such report(s) been filed? If answer is no, identify report(s).

Yes No

The Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2005 has not been filed.

- (3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

Our 2005 results were unfavorably impacted by provisions for specific projects in loss positions within our North America and EAME segments, as well as increased selling, general and administrative costs. Also included in our 2005 results was the recognition of a $7.9 million ($0.05 per share) gain associated with the sale of non-core-business related technology.

Our North American segment was impacted by several key factors, including recognition of potentially unrecoverable costs on two projects (one that is substantially complete and another that was partially canceled and is currently on hold) and increases in forecasted costs to complete several projects in the United States resulting from higher than expected construction costs consisting primarily of third party construction sublets.

The decrease in the EAME segment was primarily attributable to provisions for a project forecasted to be in a loss position as a result of delays resulting from harsh weather conditions and material supply issues. Also impacting the segment were costs associated with pursuit of claims recovery.

To the extent adjustments are required to reflect the results of the project review effort referred to in Part III above, their impact on project costs and therefore gross profit, operating income and net income reported for 2005 will have to be quantified. Until this process is complete, we will not be able to make an accurate comparison of 2005 results with the results from the prior fiscal year.
