ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

General Philosophy / Objectives

The primary goals of our compensation program, including our executive compensation program, are to attract and retain employees whose abilities are critical to our long-term success, and to motivate employees to achieve superior performance.

To achieve these goals, we attempt to:

offer compensation packages that are competitive regionally and that provide a strong base of salary and benefits;

maintain a portion of total compensation at risk, particularly in the case of our executive officers, with payment of that portion tied to achievement of specific financial, organizational or other performance goals; and reward superior performance.

Our compensation program includes salary, performance-based annual or quarterly bonuses, long-term compensation in the form of stock options, and various benefits and perquisites.

Role of the Compensation Committee

Our Compensation Committee oversees all aspects of executive compensation. The committee plays a critical role in establishing our compensation philosophy and in setting and amending elements of the compensation package offered to our named executive officers.

The members of the Compensation Committee during fiscal 2006 were Manuel Cubero, Steven Humphreys, Simon Turner and Andrew Vought. Mr. Vought served as chairman of the Compensation Committee until his resignation from the committee on April 12, 2006, at which time Mr. Humphreys was appointed chairman. Each current member of our Compensation Committee is an independent, non-employee director. During 2006, the Compensation Committee met three times.

On an annual basis, or in the case of promotion or hiring of an executive officer, the Compensation Committee reviews and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors regarding the compensation package to be provided to our chief executive officer, our other executive officers, and our directors. On an annual basis, the Compensation Committee undertakes a review of the base salary and bonus targets of each of our named executive officers and evaluates their respective compensation based on the committee's overall evaluation of their performance toward the achievement of our financial, strategic and other goals, with consideration given to each executive officer's length of service and to comparative executive compensation data. Based on its review, from time to time the Compensation Committee has increased the salary and/or potential bonus amounts for our executive officers.

The majority of the Compensation Committee's activities in 2006 related to specific situations and near term goals, including: the hiring of a new chief financial officer; the transition and termination of employees related to cost reductions and to the consolidation of the Company's transfer of Corporate Finance and Compliance functions to Germany; the retention of key personnel during these corporate actions; and implementing incentives to achieve profitability.

During 2006, annual salary levels, target bonus amounts and option amounts for our chief executive officer, former chief financial officer and current chief financial officer were set by the Compensation Committee. Compensation for our other executive officers, including certain of our named executive officers, was generally set by the chief executive officer, subject to approval by the Compensation Committee, and was determined in part based on the outcome of annual performance reviews and on corporate and personal performance under our Management by

Objective (MBO) program, which is described below.

Table of Contents

Overview of Compensation Program

SCM was originally formed in Germany in 1990 and has continued to have an active presence in Germany and throughout Europe in our target product markets. Since our initial public offering in October 1997, our common stock has been dually traded on the U.S. NASDAQ stock exchange and the German technology exchange, originally known as the Neuer Markt and now the Prime Standard. As a result, although we are a small company, we have maintained a relatively high level of visibility in the German marketplace and financial markets. Additionally, for the past several years the majority of our executive staff has operated from our European headquarters in Ismaning, Germany, with the exception of the position of chief financial officer. In fiscal 2006, we transferred our corporate financial and compliance functions, including the chief financial officer responsibilities, from the U.S. to Ismaning as well. Currently, all of our executive officers operate out of our headquarters in Germany. Our German corporate culture directly influences the elements of our compensation program.

We do not employ an overall model or policy to allocate among the compensation elements we utilize. In general, we employ cash bonuses to motivate and reward our executive officers for the achievement of quarterly or other short-term performance objectives and we employ annual grants of stock options that vest over time to motivate and reward contributions to the Company's performance over the longer term. From time to time, however, we also utilize stock options with shorter vesting periods to provide additional incentive for the achievement of short-term objectives that are seen as critical to the Company's success, for example the transfer of our corporate functions from the U.S. to Germany during 2006.

While we utilize common elements of compensation for each of our executive officers, each compensation package takes into account the disparate backgrounds and entry points to our company of each of our executive officers. For example, our chief executive officer is also the founder of the Company and as such already owns a significant number of shares in the Company. Therefore, the Compensation Committee elected to include a higher level of cash bonus incentives in the compensation package for our chief executive officer than for our other executive officers.

We believe that our compensation practices, as described below, allow us to achieve an appropriate balance of compensation elements for our executive officers that supports our overall compensation program goals.

Compensation Elements

Base Salary. Base salary provides fixed compensation based on competitive market practice and is intended to acknowledge and reward core competence in the executive role relative to skills, experience and contributions to the Company. Base salaries for executives are reviewed annually, or more frequently should there be any changes in responsibilities.

The Compensation Committee reviewed base salary levels for our chief executive officer and former chief financial officer at the beginning of fiscal 2006. The Compensation Committee considered informal data on salaries of executive officers in similar positions based on: 1) prior access to benchmarking data from the Economic Research Institute and Salary.com; 2) the professional experience of the Compensation Committee and Board members; 3) the recommendations of management; and 4) knowledge of the specific needs of SCM at the time and in the foreseeable future. In setting executive salaries, the committee also considered each officer's salary history, scope of responsibility, prior experience and past performance, and also considered recommendations from management. Based on its evaluation, the Compensation Committee determined that salary levels for our chief executive officer and former chief financial officer should be set around the median level for companies of similar size, and left unchanged their respective annual base salaries. The Compensation Committee conducted a similar evaluation to set the salary of the current chief financial officer when he joined the Company in March 2006.

Incentive Cash Bonuses. Incentive cash bonuses are intended to motivate and reward executives for their contributions towards achieving corporate performance targets as well as specific corporate objectives that support the Company's short-term goals. During 2006, key goals of the Company were to complete the transfer of operational functions from Singapore to outside contract manufactures and to effect the additional transition of our corporate financial and compliance functions from the U.S. to Germany; to complete a transaction to sell the Company's Digital TV solutions business; and to significantly reduce fixed operating expenses. Therefore, incentive bonuses in 2006 were designed to reward not only corporate performance, but also the achievement of specific operational and strategic goals within areas under control of the relevant employees.

Table of Contents

During 2006, our chief executive officer and our former chief financial officer were eligible to receive annual incentive cash bonuses based on specific criteria set by the Compensation Committee, while our other executive officers were eligible to receive incentive cash bonuses on a quarterly basis, based on criteria established in collaboration with the chief executive officer and approved by the Compensation Committee under our Management by Objective, or MBO plan. Under the MBO Plan, each participant is eligible to receive a quarterly cash bonus, of which 50% is based on the participant's performance against specific personal objectives approved by the Compensation Committee, and 50% is based on the achievement of corporate performance targets, established by management and approved by the Board of Directors. The amount of quarterly bonus for which each participant is eligible varies by participant and for our current executive staff ranged from 16.67% to 30% of base salary in 2006.

Bonus Structure for Chief Executive Officer

At the beginning of fiscal 2006 the Compensation Committee established a target cash bonus for Robert Schneider, our chief executive officer, equal to 50% of his base salary, or 175,000. Payment of the bonus was based on the achievement of three, equally weighted, performance related criteria: an annual revenue target, quarterly operating performance targets and the judgment of the Compensation Committee. Additionally, the Compensation Committee established a target bonus of 20,000 tied to the achievement of operating profit in the fourth quarter of 2006.

Bonus Structure for Former Chief Financial Officer

Steven Moore, our former chief financial officer, was eligible to receive a target cash bonus of up to 50% of his annual base salary, or $100,000, based on criteria established by the chief executive officer. Additionally, the Compensation Committee established an additional target bonus of $75,000 for Mr. Moore for the successful sale of the Company's Digital TV solutions business.

Bonus Structure for Other Executives

The Compensation Committee established a target cash bonus for Colas Overkott, our former vice president, sales and marketing, of $100,000 for the successful sale of the Company's Digital TV solutions business. Due to his departure from the Company in January 2006, Mr. Overkott did not participate in the MBO program during 2006.

During 2006, Stephan Rohaly, our chief financial officer beginning in March 2006, and Manfred Mueller, our vice president marketing in 2006, were eligible to receive quarterly cash incentive bonus awards under our MBO program, based on the achievement of equally weighted personal objectives and corporate performance. Corporate performance criteria included the achievement of equally weighted net sales and gross profit margin targets set by the Board of Directors. In light of the Company's focus during 2006 on major restructuring efforts, including the transfer of its corporate finance compliance functions from the U.S. to Germany and the sale of a major component of its business, the Compensation Committee waived some of the criteria for corporate performance in 2006 in the determination of MBO payments to eligible executive officers. Corporate performance results for the purposes of MBO payments during 2006 were 87%, 87%, 73% and 100% for the four fiscal quarters respectively.

Mr. Rohaly was eligible to receive quarterly cash bonus awards of up to 30% of his base salary in 2006. The personal performance component of his target bonus was evaluated against key objectives including:

supporting the transition of the Company's corporate financial functions from the U.S. to Germany;

building up corporate finance capabilities in Germany; and reducing operating expenses, including developing a framework to plan, execute and measure cost reduction activities.

The Compensation Committee determined that Mr. Rohaly achieved 100% performance against his personal objectives in each of the three quarters of 2006 in which he was measured.

Table of Contents

Dr. Mueller was eligible to receive quarterly cash bonus awards of up to 16.67% of his base salary in 2006. The personal performance component of his target bonus was evaluated against key objectives related to the Company's transfer of manufacturing operations from Singapore to contract manufacturers and to the reduction of overall expenses, including:

increasing product margins through inventory reduction, competitive component sourcing and product design cost reductions;

supporting development of new processes to manage external contract manufacturers; and reducing sales and marketing program costs.

The Compensation Committee determined that Dr. Mueller achieved 88% performance against his personal objectives the first quarter; 100% in the second quarter, plus 50% of an additional target bonus tied to the objectives listed above; 40% in the third quarter plus 20% of an additional target bonus tied to the objectives listed above; and 100% in the fourth quarter of 2006. Dr. Mueller was further awarded a one-time bonus of $3,600 in the third quarter of 2006 because it was determined that Dr. Mueller's performance had in fact been superior but that Dr. Mueller had not been able to achieve some of his objectives during the third quarter due to changes in the Company's priorities during the period.

Long-Term Equity Incentives. Our stock option program is designed to attract, retain and reward talented employees and executives through long-term compensation that is directly linked to long-term performance. As the bulk of our employees are in Germany and India, where stock options are not commonly awarded to non-executive employees, we regard stock options as a competitive tool in our overall compensation program.

We grant equity incentives in the form of stock options to each of our executive officers, at the time of hiring, on an annual basis and from time to time as an incentive to achieve specific performance objectives.

We grant stock options to our executive officers when they are hired and grant additional top-up options on an annual basis. The number of stock options granted to newly hired executive officers is determined by the Compensation Committee, based on the Company's historical practices and on the position of the new executive. Initial options vest 1/4th after one year and then 1/48th per month for the next three years, at which time they are fully vested. Annual top-up grants are made based on the positive results of annual performance reviews and are generally in an amount ranging between 25% and 33% of the options received in the executive officer's initial grant. Annual top-up options must be held for four years before they begin to vest, and then vest at a rate of 1/12 per month over one year. As options are granted annually, some portion of an executive officer's options vest each year, rewarding the executive for past service, while an often greater portion remains unvested, creating a long-term incentive to remain with the Company.

In 2006, the Compensation Committee determined that special one-year vesting, performance-based option grants also should be given to senior management as incentive awards for the achievement of specific goals related to operating margin targets for the fourth quarter of 2006.

The exercise price of all options awarded is the closing price of our stock on the NASDAQ Stock Market on the date of grant.

Benefits and Perquisites. Because we have a strong regional presence in Germany and the majority of our executives and key employees have been based in Germany, we follow the standard European practice of providing either a company car or a car allowance to our executive officers in Germany. We lease BMW cars or provide a comparable allowance for our executive officers.

Retirement Payments. On behalf of our executive officers in Germany we make payments to a government-managed pension program, to government-managed or private health insurance programs, and in some cases for unemployment insurance, as mandated under German employment law. During 2006 we also made payments on behalf of our U.S.-based former chief financial officer for health and disability insurance and 401-K retirement savings.

Table of ContentsSeverance Benefits

We do not have a policy regarding severance or change of control agreements for our executive officers and historically we have not offered severance as part of our employment contracts. Under standard employment practice in Germany, notice of termination is required to be given by either the employer or the employee, generally six months before any termination, and the employer is required to continue to compensate the employee during this period. In lieu of continuing the employment relationship for six months, our employment agreements provide that we can cash out the employee who has given notice. Alternatively, we can require that the employee continue to work his or her six month notice period. This practice is included in the majority of our employment agreements with our executive officers.

In recognition of the additional risks involved and the additional effort and commitment required from our executive officers due to our various restructuring and strategic actions in 2006, during the year we entered into employment agreements containing severance or change of control provisions with each of our current executive officers, as well as with our former executive vice president, sales and marketing and our former chief financial officer.

The purpose of these agreements was to provide additional incentives for each executive officer to remain with the Company during a challenging time and to motivate our executive officers to work towards those strategic initiatives that were determined to be in the best long-term interests of the Company and of our stockholders, even if not beneficial to individual executive officers.

Table of ContentsPension Benefits

We do not offer pension benefits and have, therefore, omitted the Pension Benefits table. As described in Compensation Discussion and Analysis, on behalf of our executives in Germany we make payments to a government-managed pension program, to government-managed or private health insurance programs, and in some cases for unemployment insurance, as mandated under German employment law. These payments were detailed under the All Other Compensation column of the summary compensation table. Any use of the term pension in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis or the related tables are references to the government-managed pension program.

Termination / Change in Control Payments

We have entered into employment agreements containing severance or change of control provisions with each of our current executive officers, and also had agreements in place with Colas Overkott, our former executive vice president, sales and marketing, who left our employ in January 2006, and with Steven L. Moore, our former chief financial officer, who left our employ in June 2006. Below are the material terms of each agreement. None of our current or former executive officers included below are of retirement age and none of their respective agreements contain provisions for additional payments upon retirement. The Company does not offer our executive officers severance benefits in the case of death, disability or voluntary termination.

Employment Agreements with Robert Schneider

Through our wholly owned subsidiary, SCM Microsystems GmbH, on August 26, 1993 we entered into an employment agreement with Robert. Schneider, our chief executive officer, pursuant to which he serves as managing director of our German subsidiary. The agreement continues for an indefinite term and each party may terminate the agreement at any time with six to twelve months notice.

On May 22, 2006, SCM Microsystems GmbH entered into an amended employment agreement with Mr. Schneider pursuant to which Mr. Schneider will be entitled to receive severance, in part, for his signing a Restrictive Covenant that imposes certain restrictions on Mr. Schneider's ability to compete with Kudelski S.A., the company to which we sold our Digital TV solutions business in May 2006. Pursuant to his amended employment agreement, Mr. Schneider also received a one-time signing bonus of $80,000 in May 2006.

Under Mr. Schneider's amended employment agreement, if we were to terminate Mr. Schneider's employment without cause or if Mr. Schneider were to resign within 90 days of an event constituting good reason (defined as a material diminution in Mr. Schneider's title, reporting relationships, or scope of responsibilities or authorities without his written consent), Mr. Schneider would be entitled to receive monthly payments equal to his then-current monthly base salary payment for 24 months following his departure from us. Had Mr. Schneider been terminated as of December 31, 2006, the total severance amount payable would have been 700,000, or approximately $900,901, based on the average exchange rate for December 2006 of one dollar being equal to 0.777 euros. The right to receive the monthly severance payments is subject to Mr. Schneider's agreement to abide by the Restrictive Covenant as described above, as well as a general release of claims in customary form by Mr. Schneider and his continued compliance with SCM's policies on confidentiality of operational and business secrets. Mr. Schneider is furthermore subject to a non-compete provision for a period of one year after the termination of his employment with us.

Employment Agreements with Stephan Rohaly

On March 14, 2006, through our wholly owned subsidiary, SCM Microsystems GmbH, we entered into an employment agreement with Stephan Rohaly, who became our chief financial officer on March 21, 2006. Either Mr. Rohaly or SCM Microsystems GmbH may terminate the agreement and Mr. Rohaly's employment with us upon at least six months prior written notice.

On December 12, 2006, through SCM Microsystems GmbH, we entered into a supplemental employment agreement (the Supplement) with Mr. Rohaly, which provides Mr. Rohaly with the right to a severance payment under various circumstances following a Take Over of the Company, which is defined in the Supplement as the completed acquisition of the majority of voting stock of SCM

Microsystems, Inc. or the completed acquisition of all or substantially all assets of the Company by a third party buyer.

Pursuant to the Supplement, Mr. Rohaly is eligible to receive a one-time severance payment equal to 174,000 in the event that we, or the buyer in a Take Over, terminate Mr. Rohaly's employment for any reason other than severe and avoidable conduct or for cause within six months of such Take Over (the Notice Period). The severance amount is payable in a lump sum, through SCM Microsystems GmbH. The supplement further provides that Mr. Rohaly is eligible to receive the Severance Amount if, during the Notice Period following a Take Over, he gives ordinary notice of termination of his employment due to either a significant change in his tasks and responsibilities that is unacceptable to Mr. Rohaly, or a change in his place of employment to a location outside of Europe or to a location within Europe that is more than 100 kilometers from an international airport.

Mr. Rohaly's rights to any Severance Amount provided for by the Supplement shall be terminated if, during the Notice Period, the Company, the buyer in a Take Over, or an affiliate of either, offers Mr. Rohaly a position with the surviving company that is monetarily similar or better compared to his current position and within Europe and not more than 100 kilometers from an international airport, regardless of whether or not he accepts such an offer. Had Mr. Rohaly been terminated due to a Take Over at the end of fiscal 2006, he would have been entitled to receive approximately $223,938, based on the average exchange rate for December 2006 of one dollar being equal to 0.777 euros.

Following any termination, under his employment agreement, Mr. Rohaly agrees to keep as secret all confidential information related to SCM, including but not limited to operational and business secrets.

Employment Agreement with Dr. Manfred Mueller

On June 8, 2006, through our wholly owned subsidiary, SCM Microsystems GmbH, we entered into an amended employment agreement with Dr. Manfred Mueller, our vice president of marketing during 2006 and currently our vice president sales, EMEA. Either Dr. Mueller or SCM may terminate the agreement and Dr. Mueller's employment with us upon at least six months prior written notice. Should Dr. Mueller be terminated without cause, he is entitled to receive a severance payment at the time of termination equal to 12 months of his then-current base salary and target bonus, payable in a lump sum by SCM Microsystems GmbH. If Dr. Mueller had been so terminated at the end of fiscal 2006 he would have been entitled to 169,172, or approximately $217,725, based on the average exchange rate for December 2006 of one dollar being equal to 0.777 euros.

Following any termination, under his employment agreement, Dr. Mueller agrees to keep as secret all confidential information related to SCM, including but not limited to operational and business secrets.

Employment and Separation Agreements with Colas Overkott

In January 2006, we entered into a separation agreement with Mr. Overkott. Mr. Overkott left his position as executive vice president, sales and marketing with us effective January 15, 2006. Under the separation agreement, Mr. Overkott received a severance payment of approximately $220,000. In addition, the period during which he was able to exercise his SCM stock options was extended through December 31, 2006, subject to the provisions of our employee stock option plan. Under the separation agreement, Mr. Overkott continued to provide limited support to SCM on various matters through the end of February 2006.

Employment Agreement with Steven L. Moore

In January 2006, we entered into an employment agreement with Steven L. Moore, formerly our chief financial officer until March 21, 2006. Under the agreement, if SCM were to terminate Mr. Moore without cause or if Mr. Moore were to terminate his employment with us within 90 days of an event constituting good reason (defined as either the relocation of Mr. Moore's primary work place or the relocation of the place from which SCM directs that the responsibilities of the chief financial officer be discharged, in either case, to a location more than 50 miles from Fremont, California; or a material diminution in Mr. Moore's title, reporting relationships, or scope of responsibilities or authority, without Mr. Moore's written consent), then Mr. Moore would be entitled to a severance package consisting of 1) payment of his then-current monthly base salary for one year following the termination of his employment;

Table of Contents

2) payment of any bonus earned during 2005 (if not already paid) under our MBO Plan and a pro rata portion of any bonus earned under the MBO Plan during 2006; and 3) payment of any special bonus earned with respect to projects completed within 180 days of the date of Mr. Moore's termination. In addition, Mr. Moore would be entitled to receive coverage under SCM group health insurance program until the earlier of coverage being provided by another employer or up to one year following the date of termination. Following the announcement of our intention to move our corporate headquarters to Germany and the subsequent appointment of a new German-based chief financial officer, Mr. Moore left our employ in June 2006. Upon his departure, Mr. Moore received his full severance package, as detailed above, which included severance of $200,000 paid out in a lump sum and a prorated bonus payment for 2006 of $41,667 based on the achievement of objectives established by the chief executive officer and the Board.

Continuing members of the Board who have served for at least six months receive an annual option grant to purchase 5,000 shares of the Company's common stock, vesting 1/12th per month over one year, awarded on the date of the Company's Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

each person who is known by us to be the beneficial owner of more than 5% of our outstanding common stock;

each of our directors;

each of the Named Executive Officers (as listed below); and all of our directors and Named Executive Officers, as a group.

Except as otherwise indicated, and subject to applicable community property laws, to our knowledge, the persons named in the table below have sole voting and investment power with respect to all shares held by them. Applicable percentage ownership in the following table is based on 15,727,307 shares of our common stock outstanding as of April 13, 2007.

In computing the number of shares beneficially owned by a person and the percentage ownership of that person, shares of common stock subject to options held by that person that are currently exercisable or exercisable within 60 days of April 13, 2007 are deemed outstanding. Such shares, however, are not deemed outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of each other person.

Material features of plans not approved by stockholders

Under the Nonstatutory Plan, non-qualified stock options may be granted to our employees, including officers, and to non-employee consultants. The plan's administrators, as delegated by our Board of Directors, may set the terms for each option grant made under the plan, including the rate of vesting, allowable exercise dates and the option term of such options granted. The exercise price of a stock option under the Nonstatutory Plan shall be equal to the fair market value of our common stock on the date of grant. While our Board of Directors or its appointed committee may, at its discretion, reduce the exercise price of any option to the then current fair market value if the fair market value of the common stock covered by such option shall have declined since the date the option was granted, no such action has ever been taken by our Board of Directors. 750,000 shares are reserved for issuance under the Nonstatutory Plan, and options for 1,066,456 shares have been granted under the plan to date.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS, RELATED TRANSACTIONS AND DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE
Related Party Transactions

During fiscal 2006, we incurred license expenses of approximately $200,000 to Gemplus International S.A., a company engaged in the development and distribution of smart-card based systems. At Gemplus, Mr. Koepf serves as a director and as chairman of the compensation committee. Our business relationship with Gemplus has been in existence for many years and predates Mr. Koepf's appointment to our Board of Directors in February 2006. Approximately $76,000 of the incurred license expense for 2006 relates to continuing operations. License expenses of approximately $400,000 and $100,000 were incurred for 2005 and 2004, respectively, of which approximately $232,000 and $25,000 related to continuing operations in 2005 and 2004, respectively. As of December 31, 2006, approximately $30,000 was due as accounts payable to Gemplus. No accounts payable to Gemplus were due as of December 31, 2005 and 2004. To our knowledge, Mr. Koepf was not directly compensated for revenue transactions between the two companies.

During fiscal 2004, we recognized revenue of approximately $600,000 from sales to Conax AS, a company engaged in the development and provision of smart-card based systems. Oystein Larsen, a member of our Board of Directors until July 2005, served as executive vice president business development and new business of Conax through December 31, 2004. As of December 31, 2004, no accounts receivable amounts were due from Conax. To our knowledge, Mr. Larsen was not directly compensated for revenue transactions between the two companies.

Related Party Transaction Policy

The Audit Committee of our Board of Directors, among its other duties and responsibilities, reviews and monitors all related party transactions and in February 2007 adopted our Related Party Transaction Policies and Procedures (the Policy). Under the Policy, our Board of Directors is required to review and approve the material terms of all Interested Transactions involving a related party, subject to certain exceptions. An Interested Transaction is any transaction, arrangement or relationship or series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships (including any indebtedness or guarantee of indebtedness) in which (1) the aggregate amount involved will or may be expected to exceed $100,000 per year or $30,000 in any quarter, (2) the Company is a participant, and (3) any related party has or will have a direct or indirect interest (other than solely as a result of being a director or a less than 10 percent beneficial owner of another entity). In determining whether to approve or ratify an Interested Transaction, our Board of Directors is required to take into account, among other factors it deems appropriate, whether the Interested Transaction is on terms no less favorable than terms generally available to an unaffiliated third-party under the same or similar circumstances and the extent of the related person's interest in the transaction.

Exceptions to the Policy include Interested Transactions for which standing pre-approval has been authorized, such as the hiring of executive officers and the payment of compensation to directors, where such compensation is required to be disclosed in the Company's annual, quarterly or current filings; transactions involving competitive bids; and regulated transactions, such as for the rendering of regulated services, for example with a public utility.

To ensure the Policy is being followed, we require each of our non-employee directors and each of our executive officers to provide and update information about related party relationships and related party transactions on a quarterly and annual basis. This information is reviewed by our Corporate Accounting personnel, which also reviews our sales and purchasing transactions on an ongoing basis to identify any transactions with known related parties.

Our Related Party Transaction Policy is in writing and has been communicated by management to our employees.

Director Independence

Our Board of Directors has reviewed the independence of each of our directors and considered whether any director has had a material relationship with our company or our management that could compromise his ability to exercise independent judgment in carrying out his duties and responsibilities. As a result of this review, our Board of Directors affirmatively determined that all of our non-employee directors, with the exception of Andrew Vought, were independent of SCM and our management under the corporate governance standards of the Marketplace Rules of the NASDAQ Stock Market. Our Board of Directors further determined that Andrew Vought did not qualify as an independent director under the corporate governance standards of the NASDAQ Stock Market because Mr. Vought received compensation of $98,000 in July 2003 in connection with his services related to the sale and divestiture of our Digital Media and Video business, which disqualified him for independent status under the NASDAQ rules. Our Board of Directors further determined that, while Mr. Vought was not considered independent under the NASDAQ standards, his value and contributions to our Board of Directors justified his remaining on the Board of Directors in fiscal 2006. Mr. Vought voluntarily resigned for our Board of Directors in November 2006.

Policy on Audit Committee Pre-Approval of Audit and Permissible Non-Audit Services of Independent Auditors

In accordance with the charter of the Audit Committee of our Board of Directors, the Audit Committee pre-approves all audit and non-audit services provided by our independent auditing firm, including the estimated fees and other terms of any such engagement. In certain circumstance, the Audit Committee may provide subsequent approval of non-audit services not previously approved. Services provided by our independent auditing firm may include audit services, audit-related services, tax services and other services. The Audit Committee considers whether such audit or non-audit services are consistent with the Securities and Exchange Commission rules on auditor independence.
