The following is a letter sent by Mr. Alfred M. Rankin, Jr., Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of NACCO Industries, Inc. to the employees of Kitchen Collection, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of NACCO Industries, Inc., in connection with the proposed spin off of by NACCO Industries, Inc. of its Hamilton Beach/Proctor Silex business to NACCO Industries, Inc.'s stockholders and subsequent merger of Applica Incorporated with and into Hamilton Beach/Proctor Silex.

July 24, 2006

I want to provide you with some important and exciting news about our businesses and the future direction of NACCO Industries, Inc. This morning, we announced our plans to spin off Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and then immediately merge Applica Incorporated into the Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex business to create an independent public company named Hamilton Beach, Inc. Kitchen Collection (KCI) will not be part of this transaction and will remain a part of NACCO. A copy of the news release announcing this proposed transaction is attached to this letter. Upon completion of the proposed transaction, I will serve as Non-executive Chairman of the Board of Directors of Hamilton Beach, Inc. Dr. Michael J. Morecroft, who currently leads Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex, will be Hamilton Beach, Inc.'s President and Chief Executive Officer. The headquarters for Hamilton Beach, Inc. will be in Richmond, VA, the current site of Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex.

Overall, we believe this proposed transaction makes sense for the Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex business for several reasons:

With estimated annual sales of approximately $1.1 billion, we expect that, upon closing of the merger, Hamilton Beach, Inc. will become the largest U.S. public company focused on the small electric household appliance industry.

The proposed combination will create a business with a broad portfolio of products that includes some of the most recognized and respected brands in the industry along with a history of strong retailer relationships.

Hamilton Beach, Inc. is expected to have the enhanced scale, improved competitive position, increased capital structure flexibility and international presence needed to compete in a consolidating and highly competitive marketplace.

Certainly, there are some important connections between KCI and Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and I fully anticipate this successful relationship to continue as it always has.

It is important to note that, as a continuing part of NACCO, we do not anticipate any changes at KCI related to today's announcement. KCI will continue to sell the Hamilton Beach[®], Proctor Silex[®] and ecletrics[®] brands as well as Black & Decker[®] branded products. KCI will also continue to sell HB-branded non-electric products such as gadgets, bakeware and cookware, among others. Kitchen Collection will continue to pursue all of its current strategic and growth initiatives.

Please understand that today's announcement is just the first step in the process. In the months ahead, we will be seeking the necessary stockholder and regulatory approvals to complete the transaction and for Applica to merge with and into Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex to become an independent public company. Until the transaction closes, Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex remains separate from Applica and each company will continue to operate independently.

If you have questions, please direct them to your immediate supervisor. You may also wish to visit a special web site we have set up to provide more detailed information. That website is accessible via the NACCO home page at www.nacco.com. If the information on the website does not answer your question, we have also established a special email address for inquiries. It is: ir@naccoind.com. Additionally, if you should receive any third-party or media inquiries, please direct them to Christina Kmetko at (440) 449-9669.

We will keep you abreast of developments as we move forward with this proposed transaction. As always, thank you for your continued efforts as we work toward our goals for this year and beyond.

Sincerely,

Alfred M. Rankin, Jr.

Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer
NACCO Industries, Inc.
