Director Nominations

Edgar Filing: CHENIERE ENERGY INC - Form DEF 14A

The Company considers suggestions for potential director nominees to the Board of Directors from any source, including current members of the Board of Directors, the Company's management, advisors to the Company and stockholders of the Company. The Company does not have an official nominating committee and does not have a nominating committee charter. The Company believes that obtaining input from all independent directors in connection with nominations to the Board of Directors enhances the nomination process. The independent directors evaluate potential nominees by reviewing their qualifications, reviewing results of personal and reference interviews and reviewing such other information as may be deemed relevant. Director nominees are recommended for selection by the Board of Directors by a majority of directors who meet the independence standards of the American Stock Exchange listing standards and the Securities and Exchange Commission. The full Board of Directors then selects and recommends candidates for nomination as directors for stockholders to consider and vote upon at the annual stockholders meeting. The Board of Directors reviews and considers any candidates submitted by a stockholder or stockholder group in the same manner as all other candidates.

Qualifications for consideration as a board nominee vary according to the particular areas of expertise being sought as a complement to the existing board composition. However, minimum criteria for selection of members to serve on the Company's Board of Directors include the following:

high level of education and/or business experience,

broad-based business acumen,

network of contacts, and diversity of experiences, expertise and backgrounds among members of the Board of Directors.

Nominations made by a stockholder must be made by giving notice in writing to the Secretary of the Company before the later to occur of (i) 60 days prior to the date of the meeting of stockholders called for the election of directors or (ii) 10 days after the Board of Directors makes public disclosure of the date of such meeting. In no event shall the public disclosure of an adjournment of an annual meeting of stockholders commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above. Such stockholder's notice must set forth the following information as to each person whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election or re-election as a director: (i) the name, age, business address and residence address of such person, (ii) the principal occupation or employment of such person, (iii) the class and number of shares of capital stock of the Company that are then beneficially owned by such person, (iv) any other information relating to such person that is required by law or regulation to be disclosed in solicitations of proxies for the election of directors of the Company, and (v) such person's written consent to being named as a nominee for election as a director and to serve as a director if elected. Such stockholder's notice must also set forth the following information as to the stockholder giving the notice: (i) the name and address,

Company, of such stockholder, (ii) the class and number of shares of capital stock of the Company that are then beneficially owned by such stockholder, (iii) a description of all arrangements or understandings between such stockholder and each nominee for election as a director and any other person or persons (naming such person or persons) relating to the nomination proposed to be made by such stockholder, and (iv) any other information required by law or regulation to be provided by a stockholder intending to nominate a person for election as a director of the Company.

Director Compensation

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004, directors received no cash remuneration for serving on the Board of Directors of the Company, nor were they compensated for attending Board or committee meetings. From time to time, outside members of the Board of Directors (those who do not serve as executive officers of the Company) are compensated for their services to the Company through the grant of restricted stock and options to purchase Common Stock. During 2004, Mr. West was granted options to acquire 25,000 shares of Common Stock, which options have not yet been exercised. In February 2004, each non-employee director of the Company was awarded a bonus in the form of 10,000 shares of Common Stock for service on the Board of Directors for the period from May 2003 through May 2004. In November 2004, each non-employee director was awarded 3,006 shares of restricted stock for service on the Board of Directors for the period from May 2004 through May 2005; the shares vest equally over a three-year period beginning one year after the date of grant.

Code of Conduct and Ethics

The Company's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, which is applicable to all directors, officers and employees of the Company, is available on the Company's website at <http://www.cheniere.com>.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors has furnished the following report on executive compensation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004:

Purpose of the Committee with Respect to Executive Compensation

The Compensation Committee supervises and administers the compensation policies, practices and plans of the Company pursuant to a written charter, which is available on the Company's website. The Committee is comprised of non-employee independent directors of the Company in compliance with the rules of the American Stock Exchange. The Board of Directors created the Committee to, among other things, assist the Board in the discharge of its responsibilities with respect to the compensation of the Company's executive officers. The principal functions of the Committee with respect to executive compensation include:

establishing and reviewing periodically the Company's compensation policy and strategy;

reviewing and approving corporate goals and objectives relevant to the Chief Executive Officer's compensation, evaluating the Chief Executive Officer's performance in light of those goals and objectives, and setting the Chief Executive Officer's compensation level based on this evaluation;

establishing salary ranges for, and making recommendations to the Board with respect to the compensation of, the officers and certain key employees of the Company;

making recommendations to the Board with respect to incentive compensation plans and equity-based plans;

reviewing and approving any employment agreements, severance arrangements, change-in-control arrangements or special supplemental employee benefits, and any material amendments to the foregoing, applicable to executive officers;

overseeing the administration of the Company's 2003 Stock Incentive Plan, including (i) approving the award guidelines to be used in determining individual awards, (ii) approving maximum award levels, (iii) approving performance goals and objectives, (iv) certifying attainment of goals and approving payouts, and (v) approving grants; and overseeing the administration of the Company's 1997 Stock Option Plan.

The Compensation Committee's Philosophy on Executive Compensation

The fundamental objective of the Committee's executive compensation policies is to ensure an internally consistent and externally competitive executive compensation program in order to attract, retain and motivate qualified executives and provide incentive for the attainment of the Company's strategic goals and objectives. It is the policy of the Committee to compensate executive officers based on their performance, responsibilities and experience, the achievement of specific business objectives and established goals, and the Company's performance. Base compensation for senior executive officers is intended to afford a reasonable degree of financial security and flexibility to those individuals who are regarded by the Committee as acceptably discharging the levels and types of responsibility implicit in their respective executive positions.

In establishing compensation policies, the Committee believes that total compensation of executive officers, as well as other key employees, should be competitive with other business opportunities available to such executive officers and key employees while, within the Company, being fair and discriminating on the basis of personal performance. Outside compensation consultants have been retained by management from time to time to conduct compensation surveys and advise the Committee concerning compensation matters, and the Committee has surveyed the executive compensation levels of companies in the energy industry that are comparable to the Company.

Base Salary and Bonus Awards

Each of the Company's executive officers receives a base salary and has an opportunity to earn annual cash and/or stock bonus awards. Decisions regarding base salaries are made based upon individual performance, job responsibilities, experience and competitive practice. The Committee's objective is to provide competitive base salaries and bonuses, taking into account peer and general industry practices.

It is the Company's policy to provide executive officers with incentives that are tied to the long-term performance of the Company. The Committee is of the view that properly designed and administered stock-based incentives for executive officers closely align the executives' economic interests with those of stockholders and provide a direct continuing focus upon the goal of constantly striving to increase long-term stockholder value. Toward that goal, the Company established the Option Plan and 2003 Plan.

In order to attract qualified individuals to the Company, the Committee considers awarding stock options, restricted stock and warrants to such persons upon their employment with the Company. In addition, periodic awards of stock options and restricted stock are made in order both to retain executives and to motivate them to accomplish long-term growth objectives and improve long-term market performance.

2004 Bonus Awards

Edgar Filing: CHENIERE ENERGY INC - Form DEF 14A

Restricted stock grants under the 2003 Plan and discretionary cash bonuses were awarded to certain eligible employees, including executive officers, for the year ended December 31, 2004. The awards were allocated from a bonus pool, the amount of which was determined by the Committee based on a predetermined methodology that considered the significant increase in the market value of the Company's stock, and the increase in estimated net asset value through the achievement of significant objectives for the Company's LNG receiving terminal development business. Allocations were based on individual contributions, in absolute terms and relative to specified objectives, and were capped at a percentage of annual base salary. In 2004, the Committee also awarded stock options to each of its General Counsel and Chief Accounting Officer in connection with their employment by the Company in early 2004.

Current Approach to Executive Compensation

The Committee has historically made discretionary cash and/or stock bonus awards to the Company's executive officers. However, the Company has reviewed this approach with respect to its named executive officers and made the determination to transition toward performance awards under the 2003 Plan, which are designed to motivate and reward executive officers whose efforts impact the performance of the Company and its subsidiaries through the achievement of performance goals. The Committee is responsible for approving the performance goals that are used to determine performance awards made under the 2003 Plan.

No performance awards were granted for the year ended December 31, 2004, but the Committee has determined the form of performance award and the performance goals on which any such awards will be granted to named executive officers for the year ended December 31, 2005 (Fiscal 2005). The Committee has determined that all performance awards made to named executive officers for Fiscal 2005 will be (i) determined by a subcommittee of the Committee comprised of independent directors (as defined in Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code)) and (ii) in the form of phantom stock, which may be settled in cash or stock at the discretion of the subcommittee at the time the award is granted. The Committee further decided that one or both of the following business goals must be achieved as a condition of any such performance award to any named executive officer:

economic value added during Fiscal 2005, as measured by an increase of 15% or more in net asset value per share;

total stockholder return during Fiscal 2005 of 15% or more, as measured by an increase in the closing price of the Company's common stock from December 31, 2004 to December 31, 2005 as reported on the American Stock Exchange.

Due to the development stage nature of the Company's primary business, the Committee has historically set base salaries and annual incentives at or below the median of peer and industry averages such that a significant portion of total compensation constituted higher than average stock option and restricted stock awards. Because the Company's cash resources have increased and its cash flow is expected to increase in the future, the Committee expects to increase the cash portion of total compensation in order to provide competitive compensation.

Compensation of the CEO

The Committee determines the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer in substantially the same manner as the compensation of the Company's other executive officers. In establishing the base salary for Mr. Souki for the 2004 fiscal year, the Committee assessed the following factors: (i) the performance of the Company, (ii) the increase in total return to stockholders, (iii) progress toward implementation of the Company's strategic business plan, particularly with respect to its LNG receiving terminal development business, (iv) Mr. Souki's contributions toward the accomplishments described in items (i) through (iii), and (v) compensation levels of chief executive officers of similar-sized companies in the energy industry. The performance by the development of the Company's business segments, as measured by growth in estimated net underlying asset value and stock price. Based on these factors, the Committee established Mr. Souki's base salary for 2004 at $240,000. In November 2004, the Committee considered the same factors to set Mr. Souki's 2005 base salary at $450,000. Based on the factors discussed above for determining bonuses, Mr. Souki was awarded a bonus for 2004 performance comprised of cash and stock valued at $1,524,262.

Company is measured by, among other things, the

The Committee's Review of all Components of Executive Compensation

The Committee has reviewed all components of the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer and the other named executive officers, including salary, bonus, long-term incentive compensation and benefits. Based on this review, the Committee found the total compensation to the Chief Executive Officer and the other named executive officers in the aggregate to be reasonable and not excessive.

Tax Deductibility of Executive Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Code places a limit of $1 million on the amount of annual compensation that may be deducted by the Company in any year with respect to the Company's Chief Executive Officer and each of its other four most highly compensated executive officers. Certain performance-based compensation approved by stockholders is not subject to this deduction limitation and is, therefore, deductible.

Options granted under the Option Plan and options and performance-based awards granted under the 2003 Plan generally will qualify as performance-based compensation and should be deductible. However, to compensate executive officers in a manner commensurate with performance and the competitive market for executive talent, the Committee and/or the Board has awarded and may from time to time, in circumstances it deems appropriate, award compensation that may not be deductible.

The base salaries, restricted stock grants and discretionary cash bonuses paid or awarded to the Company's named executive officers for 2004 were not intended to qualify as performance-based under Section 162(m) and will not be deductible to the extent that such compensation with respect to any individual exceeded $1 million. During the year ended December 31, 2004, Mr. Souki's compensation exceeded $1 million and was not performance-based under Section 162(m).

Summary

The Committee believes that the total executive compensation program should link compensation to Company and individual performance. The Committee will continue to review the compensation of the CEO and other executive officers on an annual basis.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

In December 2003, Cheniere LNG Services, Inc. (Cheniere LNG), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Cheniere, entered into a shareholders' agreement with J & S Group S.A. (which subsequently assigned the agreement to J&S Energy Holding B.V.) regarding the ownership and operation of J & S Cheniere S.A., a company in which the brother of Charif Souki, Cheniere's Chairman of the Board of Directors, President and Chief Executive Officer, is a director. In January 2004, J&S Cheniere paid the Company $1 million for an option to acquire LNG regasification capacity at each of the Company's Sabine Pass and Corpus Christi LNG facilities. Cheniere LNG owns a minority interest in the stock of J&S Cheniere.

In conjunction with the Company's private placement of equity in January 2004, placement fees were paid to T. R. Winston & Company, Inc., a company in which the son of Charif Souki, Cheniere's Chairman of the Board of Directors, President and Chief Executive Officer, is employed. Placement fees to T. R. Winston for such placement totaled $965,250.

During 2002, 2003 and 2004, the Company has made office space available for use by Keith F. Carney, who serves as a member of the Company's Board of Directors, audit committee and compensation committee and is the Company's lead, non-management director. The Company instituted this arrangement to facilitate its management's ability to consult and communicate with Mr. Carney. The pro rata amount of office lease expense related to that space was approximately $3,000, $4,000 and $5,000 for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

All such transactions were approved by the Company's Board of Directors, and the Company believes that each such transaction was on terms that were comparable to, or more favorable to the Company than, those that might have been obtained by the Company on an arm's length basis from unaffiliated parties.

OTHER MATTERS

Required Vote

Only holders of Common Stock as of the Record Date will be entitled to vote in person or by proxy at the meeting. A majority of issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock as of the Record Date represented at the meeting in person or by proxy and entitled to vote thereat will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Abstentions and broker non-votes will be counted for purposes of determining the presence or absence of a quorum. Provided that a quorum is present at the meeting, (i) the three director nominees who receive the greatest number of votes cast for election by stockholders entitled to vote therefor will be elected directors and (ii) ratification of UHY Mann Frankfort Stein & Lipp CPAs, LLP as independent accountants will require approval by a majority of shares represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at the annual meeting.

Because broker non-votes are not considered shares present with respect to matters requiring the affirmative vote of a majority of shares represented in person or by proxy at the meeting, broker non-votes will not affect the outcome with respect to the ratification of UHY Mann Frankfort Stein & Lipp CPAs, LLP as independent accountants. Abstentions with respect to the ratification of UHY Mann Frankfort Stein & Lipp CPAs, LLP as independent accountants will have the same effect as a vote against approval thereof, but will have no effect with respect to the election of directors.

Stock Split

On March 14, 2005, the Company announced that its Board of Directors approved a two-for-one stock split of its Common Stock. The split is payable on April 22, 2005 to stockholders of record on April 8, 2005. Holders of Common Stock will be entitled to vote the number of shares held on the Record Date, which will not reflect the additional shares paid on April 22, 2005. All of the share-related information in this proxy statement is presented on a pre-stock split basis because the payment date for the stock dividend that accomplished the stock split (April 22, 2005) will occur after the Record Date for the Annual Meeting (March 28, 2005). For example, the Summary Compensation table on page 9, the Option Grants table on page 10 and the Beneficial Ownership table on page 12 were prepared on a pre-stock split basis.

The director or directors who receive any such communication will have discretion to determine whether the subject matter of the communication should be brought to the attention of the full Board of Directors or one or more of its committees and whether any response to the person sending the communication is appropriate. Any such response will be made through the Corporate Secretary and only in accordance with the Company's policies and procedures and applicable law and regulations relating to the disclosure of information.
