ITEM 1.01. ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT.

On February 3, 2006, Oscient Pharmaceuticals Corporation (Oscient) entered into an agreement (the Agreement) with Vicuron Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Vicuron), a wholly owned subsidiary of Pfizer Inc. (Pfizer), whereby Oscient, which previously licensed Ramoplanin from Vicuron for the U.S. and Canada, acquired worldwide rights and assumed full control of Ramoplanin manufacturing, development and commercialization. Ramoplanin is currently under development for the potential treatment of Clostridium difficile-associated disease (CDAD).

The Agreement supersedes the earlier License and Supply Agreement signed by the parties on October 8, 2001, as amended on August 8, 2002 and October 22, 2002.

In exchange for the assignment of the rights it received under the Agreement, Oscient has made a one-time, up-front payment to Pfizer and will make additional milestone payments for regulatory filings and approvals in various countries. Under the terms of the Agreement, Oscient will also pay mid-single-digit to low double-digit royalties to Pfizer for net sales of Ramoplanin dependent upon the territory.

Pursuant to the Agreement, Oscient assumed all responsibility for manufacture of Ramoplanin and Pfizer will assist Oscient in the transfer of technological know-how related to its manufacture. Oscient is currently in discussions with potential third-party manufacturers for Ramoplanin in order to secure long term product supply.

The Agreement provides that royalty obligations to Pfizer expire on a country by country basis ten years after the first commercial sale of product in such country.

On February 8, 2006, the Company issued a press release announcing the entering into of the Agreement. A copy of that press release is furnished with this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibit 99.1.
