BMO Financial Group's focus is Customers and Community

The strong bank that will result from merging Harris, BMO Financial Group's personal and commercial bank in the U.S., and M&I will be committed to the success of our customers and the communities we serve.

Like M&I, BMO Financial Group has a strong customer focus, tradition of community banking, and commitment to the community. Our communities can be assured we will continue to be a strong and active presence in our markets.

The transaction announced in mid-December not only provides significant banking scale, an expanded reach, and a larger customer base, it provides a platform for growth for our company.

This is positive news because in every important dimension – values, business mix, customer focus, vision and culture there is consistency between our companies. The way in which we do business is highly complementary. This is true also of our branch locations, which have little overlap. See a map here. [See final page].

Here's an overview of BMO's business:

Overview of BMO Financial Group

BMO Financial Group (TSX, NYSE: BMO) serves 11 million personal, commercial, corporate and institutional customers in North America and internationally. Its three operating groups – Personal and Commercial Banking, BMO Bank of Montreal in Canada and Harris in the United States; Private Client Group; and BMO Capital Markets – share one vision: to be the bank that defines great customer experience.

Personal & Commercial

- Personal & Commercial, U.S. (Harris) serves nearly 1.3 million customers, working together with other Harris and BMO businesses in select U.S. Midwest markets to deliver clarity to our customers in the form of simplicity, guidance and financial know-how. SIDEBAR

History of BMO Financial Group

BMO Financial Group, Canada's first bank, opened for business in 1817. It provided Canada's first widely-recognized and circulated currency, and has played a major and continuing role in the development of the country. Today, it is one of Canada's preeminent financial institutions and a significant presence in United States and world markets.

BMO and Harris merged in 1984, but the Harris story started long before in 1882, when Norman Wait Harris, a 35-year-old life insurance executive, moved to Chicago and opened N.W. Harris and Company. The firm started off selling municipal bonds to fund the building of roads, schools, waterworks, and other such necessities, and became a leading investment bank.
