Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On February 4, 2008, Rick A. Bright's employment with Novavax, Inc. (the "Company") as the Vice President of Global Influenza Programs ended. The Company has offered Dr. Bright an agreement (the "Agreement"), which provides that Dr. Bright will receive accrued base pay plus compensation for accrued unused vacation, three months of his current base salary ($15,686.49 per month), less tax withholdings and authorized deductions, payable in accordance with the Company's normal payroll practices and payment of his premium for continuation group health coverage under COBRA for three months. All vested stock options that are not exercised within 90 days of Dr. Bright's separation date will expire.

As a condition to receiving the payments described above, the Agreement requires that Dr. Bright provide a general release of claims against the Company and acknowledge his continuing obligations not to compete with or solicit from the Company for a period of six months following his separation date and to keep all of the Company's proprietary information confidential until such time that the Company publicly discloses such information. Dr. Bright has a statutory 21 day period during which he can decide whether to accept the offer set forth in the Agreement.
