PROSPECTUS

Commerce Bancshares, Inc.

602,591 Shares of Common Stock

$5.00 par Value

The Boards of Commerce, CBI-Kansas and South Tulsa have agreed to the merger of South Tulsa into CBI-Kansas. The total merger consideration value is estimated to be $26,250,000. If the merger is approved, each South Tulsa shareholder will receive Commerce common stock with a value of $340.54 per share of South Tulsa common stock. The per share merger consideration will be equal to $340.54 in Commerce common stock if the Commerce stock price is between $45.30 and $50.06. Thus, if the Commerce stock price is within this range, each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive between approximately 6.80 and 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock.

If the Commerce stock price is less than $45.30, each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (which results in the value of the Commerce stock received being less than $340.54). On the other hand, if the Commerce stock price is greater than $50.06, each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 6.80 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (which results in the value of the Commerce stock received being more than $340.54). This result is because the parties agreed not to adjust the amount of Commerce common stock received beyond these limits. See What South Tulsa Shareholders Will Receive in the Merger on page iv, Summary The Merger Consideration on page 1, and The Merger Conversion of South Tulsa Common Stock on page 14. Commerce common stock is traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol CBSH.

WHAT SOUTH TULSA SHAREHOLDERS WILL RECEIVE IN THE MERGER

The number of shares of Commerce common stock into which one share of South Tulsa common stock will be converted in the merger is referred to in this document as the merger consideration. The total merger consideration value is estimated to be $26,250,000. Shares of South Tulsa common stock will be converted into merger consideration of $340.54 per share of South Tulsa common stock, consisting of shares of Commerce common stock, if the Commerce stock price (as determined under the Agreement and Plan of Merger) is between $45.30 and $50.06. Thus, if the Commerce stock price is within this range, each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive between approximately 6.80 and 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock.

If the Commerce stock price is less than $45.30, the Commerce stock price will nevertheless be deemed to be $45.30 and therefore the merger consideration will consist of approximately 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (which results in the merger consideration being less than $340.54 per share of South Tulsa common stock). If the Commerce stock price is greater than $50.06, the Commerce stock price will nevertheless be deemed to be $50.06 and therefore the merger consideration will consist of approximately 6.80 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (which results in the merger consideration being more than $340.54 per share of South Tulsa common stock). The last reported sales price on January 30, 2007 for Commerce shares as reported by The Nasdaq Stock Market was $48.99. You should obtain current market prices for the Commerce common stock. See Risk Factors beginning at page 10. Please refer to the table below for an illustration of how the per share merger consideration will be determined under the various possible Commerce stock price scenarios. See Summary The Merger Consideration on page 1 and The Merger Conversion of South Tulsa Common Stock on page 14.

Possible Per Share Merger Consideration Scenarios

Commerce stock price	Per Share Merger Consideration ($)	Exchange Ratio (Shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock)
Less than $45.30	Less than $340.54	7.52
$45.30 - $50.06	$340.54	6.80 - 7.52
Greater than $50.06	Greater than $340.54	6.80

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

Q: What is the purpose of this document?

A: This document serves as both a proxy statement of South Tulsa and a prospectus of Commerce. As a proxy statement, this document is being provided to you by South Tulsa because the South Tulsa Board of Directors is soliciting your proxy for use at the special meeting of shareholders called to vote on the proposed merger of South Tulsa with and into CBI-Kansas, a subsidiary of Commerce. We have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger with Commerce and CBI-Kansas. A copy of the Agreement and Plan of Merger is attached to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as Appendix A. In order to complete the merger, our shareholders must vote to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger. The South Tulsa Board of Directors is providing this Proxy Statement/Prospectus to give you information for use in determining how to vote on the proposal submitted to the shareholders at the special meeting of our shareholders. You should read this Proxy Statement/Prospectus and the appendices carefully. The enclosed proxy card allows you, as our shareholder, to vote your shares without attending the special meeting.

As a prospectus, this document is being provided to you by Commerce because Commerce is offering shares of its common stock in exchange for your shares of South Tulsa common stock in connection with the merger.

Q: When and where will the special meeting be held?

A: The special meeting will be held on March 30, 2007 at 10:00 a.m., local time, at 6130 East 81st Street, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Q: What matters will be voted on at the special meeting?

A: You will vote on a proposal to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger.

Q: What vote of the shareholders is required to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger?

A: To approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger, shareholders of record as of February 20, 2007 holding at least a majority of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock must vote FOR the approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger. There are 72,189 shares of South Tulsa common stock entitled to be voted at the special meeting.

In order to induce Commerce and CBI-Kansas to enter into the Agreement and Plan of Merger, certain holders of approximately 50.61% of the shares of South Tulsa common stock have executed Voting Agreements, pursuant to which each of them has agreed to vote all shares of South Tulsa common stock that each of them owns respectively FOR the approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the merger and have given Commerce, CBI-Kansas and a certain employee of Commerce proxies to vote their shares in such manner. Therefore, the Agreement and Plan of Merger and merger will be approved. As of the record date, those shareholders who executed voting agreements owned 36,538 shares of our common stock, representing 50.61% of our outstanding common stock. A form of the Voting Agreement entered into by such shareholders is attached as Appendix B to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

Q: What will I receive for my South Tulsa common stock?

A: You will receive merger consideration with a value of $340.54 per share of South Tulsa common stock you hold immediately prior to the Effective Time (as defined in the Agreement and Plan of Merger). This amount will consist of shares of Commerce common stock with an approximate exchange ratio between 6.80 and 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock.

Q: Is the per share value of $340.54 fixed?

A: Only if the Commerce stock price falls between $45.30 and $50.06. If the price is above the range, the per share value will be more, and if it falls below the range, the per share value will be less. This occurs because the Agreement and Plan of Merger only adjusts the number of shares of Commerce common stock to be issued when the price is between $45.30 and $50.06. For example, if the Commerce stock price is less than $45.30, each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (which results in the value of the Commerce stock received being less than $340.54). On the other hand, if the Commerce stock price is greater than $50.06, each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 6.80 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (which results in the value of the Commerce stock received being more than $340.54). See What South Tulsa Shareholders Will Receive in the Merger on page iv, and Summary The Merger Consideration on page 1.

Q: Why should South Tulsa merge with Commerce?

A: South Tulsa's Board of Directors believes that the merger will benefit South Tulsa and its shareholders because, among other reasons:

The advantages of combining with a larger, publicly traded financial institution, thereby enabling the South Tulsa shareholders to become shareholders of a larger combined entity having more liquid shares and greater resources to compete in the banking industry;

The expected financial strength of the combined company following the merger and the ability of the combined company to realize cost savings and to take advantage of various business opportunities with greater financial resources;

The creation of significant synergies and a stronger competitor in the changing banking industry following the merger;

The creation of a stronger banking franchise by combining South Tulsa's strong banking presence in Oklahoma with Commerce's strong banking presence in the Kansas, Missouri and Illinois areas; and

The favorable position of Commerce among South Tulsa's and Commerce's peer group of national and regional financial institutions in terms of profitability, capital adequacy and asset quality.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: You should carefully read and consider the information contained in this document. If you hold stock in your name as a shareholder of record, you should complete, sign, date and mail your proxy card in the enclosed return envelope as soon as possible. If the card does not specify a choice, your shares will be voted FOR the merger and all other proposals. If you hold your stock in street name through a bank or broker, you must direct your bank or broker to vote in accordance with the instructions you have received from your bank or broker. Submitting your proxy card or directing your bank or broker to vote your shares will ensure that your shares are represented and voted at the special meeting.

Q: Why is my vote important?

A: If you do not vote by proxy or vote in person at the special meeting, it will be more difficult for us to obtain the necessary quorum to hold our special meeting. In addition, your failure to vote, by proxy or in person, will have the same effect as a vote against the merger. The merger must be approved by the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Commerce shareholders do not have to approve the merger; accordingly, Commerce shareholders will not vote on approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger. Completion of the merger is also subject to other specified conditions. See The Merger Conditions to the Merger, beginning at page 25. The South Tulsa Board of Directors unanimously recommends that you vote to approve the merger.

Q: Are there regulatory or other conditions to the completion of the merger?

A: Yes. The merger must be approved by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Office of the Comptroller of Currency, and by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the South Tulsa special meeting, assuming a quorum is present. Commerce will complete the filing of applications and notifications to obtain the required regulatory approvals.

Q: Do I have rights to dissent from the merger?

A: Yes. Under Oklahoma law, South Tulsa shareholders have the right to dissent from the Agreement and Plan of Merger and to exercise appraisal rights to receive a payment in cash for the fair value of their shares of South Tulsa common stock. This value may be more or less than the value you would receive in the merger if you do not dissent. If you dissent and properly exercise your appraisal rights, you will receive a cash payment for the value of your shares that will be fully taxable to you. To perfect your appraisal rights, you must follow precisely the required statutory procedures. See The Merger Rights of Dissenting Shareholders, beginning at page 28 and the information in Appendix D.

Q: What if I abstain from voting?

A: If you abstain from voting, the abstention will be counted toward a quorum at the special meeting, but it will have the same effect as a vote against the merger.

Q: If I am not going to attend the special meeting, should I return my proxy card?

A: Yes. Returning your proxy card ensures that your shares will be represented at the special meeting, even if you are unable or do not want to attend.

Q: Can I change my vote after I mail my proxy card?

A: Yes. You can change your vote at any time before we vote your proxy at the special meeting. You can do this in three ways. First, you can send a written notice stating that you would like to revoke your proxy. Second, you can complete and submit a new proxy card. If you choose either of these two methods, you must submit your notice of revocation or your new proxy card to South Tulsa Financial Corporation, c/o Bank South, 6130 East 81st Street, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74137-2101, Attention: Corporate Secretary. Third, you can attend the special meeting and vote in person. Simply attending the meeting, however, will not revoke your proxy; you must request a ballot and vote the ballot at the meeting.

Q: Should I send in my stock certificates now?

A: No. You will receive separate instructions for exchanging your stock certificates for certificates of Commerce common stock once the merger is approved and certain other conditions are met.

Q: When do you expect to complete the merger?

A: We expect to complete the merger in the second quarter of 2007. However, we cannot assure you when or if the merger will occur. We must first obtain the approval of the South Tulsa shareholders at the special meeting and the necessary regulatory approvals and satisfy the other conditions to the merger.

Q: Who can help answer questions?

A: You should not contact Commerce other than to request Commerce SEC filings incorporated by reference. If you have more questions about the merger, you should contact:

Commerce's common stock is traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol CBSH.

South Tulsa Financial Corporation
6130 East 81st Street
Tulsa, Oklahoma 74137-2101
Telephone: (918) 492-2882
Website: www.banksouth.com

South Tulsa is a bank holding company whose principal activity is the ownership and management of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Bank South. Bank South is an Oklahoma state-chartered bank that serves the Tulsa metropolitan area through two full-service community banking branches. Through Bank South, South Tulsa provides a full range of banking and financial services to individuals and corporate customers in the Tulsa metropolitan and surrounding areas. At December 31, 2006, South Tulsa's total consolidated assets were approximately $130 million.

The Merger

Commerce and Commerce's wholly owned subsidiary, CBI-Kansas, Inc., entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger on December 4, 2006 with South Tulsa. In the proposed merger, South Tulsa will be merged with and into CBI-Kansas, with CBI-Kansas as the surviving corporation. In addition, simultaneously with the merger of South Tulsa with and into CBI-Kansas, Bank South will be merged with Commerce Bank, N.A., with Commerce Bank, N.A. as the surviving corporation.

The Merger Consideration

As more fully set forth below, the Agreement and Plan of Merger provides, generally, that each share of South Tulsa common stock, par value $1.00 per share, outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (as defined in the Agreement and Plan of Merger) will be converted into the right to receive $340.54 of Commerce common stock, par value $5.00 per share, in the merger (or between approximately 6.80 and 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock). The total merger consideration value is estimated to be $26,250,000.

The Agreement and Plan of Merger provisions are intended, within certain limits, to adjust the value of the Commerce stock consideration in the merger so that the total merger consideration will equal $340.54 of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock (and the exchange ratio of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock will be between approximately 6.80 and 7.52). This adjustment will occur if the Commerce stock price is between $45.30 and $50.06. If the Commerce stock price is less than $45.30, the value of Commerce stock received will be less than $340.54, and each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock. On the other hand, if the Commerce stock price is greater than $50.06, the value of Commerce stock received will be greater than $340.54, and each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 6.80 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock. See Summary The Merger Consideration, beginning at page 1 and The Merger Conversion of South Tulsa Common Stock on page 14.

We have attached the Agreement and Plan of Merger to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as Appendix A. We encourage you to read the Agreement and Plan of Merger as it is the legal document that governs the merger.

Reasons for the Merger

South Tulsa and Commerce are proposing to merge because we believe, among other things, that this combination can create a stronger and more diversified company that will provide significant benefits to our shareholders and customers alike. See The Merger Reasons for the Merger, beginning at page 17.

Recommendation to Shareholders

The South Tulsa Board of Directors believes that the merger is fair to you and in your best interests and unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger.

Vote Required

At the special meeting of South Tulsa shareholders, the Agreement and Plan of Merger and merger must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of South Tulsa common stock outstanding at the close of business on February 20, 2007. Each share of South Tulsa common stock is entitled to one vote.

As of February 20, 2007, South Tulsa's directors and officers held in the aggregate, directly or indirectly, approximately 15,261 shares of outstanding South Tulsa common stock, representing approximately 21.14% of the total number of outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock. All directors and officers of South Tulsa owning South Tulsa common stock have agreed to vote in favor of the Agreement and Plan of Merger. In addition, certain other holders of South Tulsa common stock owning a total of 21,277 shares (29.47%) of South Tulsa common stock have agreed to vote in favor of the Agreement and Plan of Merger. As such, shareholders owning a total of 50.61% of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock have agreed to vote in favor of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, which assures that the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the merger will be approved.

Approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and merger by Commerce shareholders is not required. Accordingly, Commerce has not called a special meeting of its shareholders.

Regulatory Approvals

We cannot complete the merger unless we obtain approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Office of the Comptroller of Currency. Commerce will complete the filing of applications and notifications to obtain the required regulatory approvals. As of the date of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus, we have not received any of the necessary regulatory approvals. We cannot be certain of when or if we will obtain them.

Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences

The consummation of the merger is conditioned upon the receipt by Commerce and South Tulsa of an opinion of counsel that for federal income tax purposes, the merger will constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code).

A South Tulsa shareholder who exchanges all of such shareholder's shares of South Tulsa common stock solely for Commerce common stock in the merger will not recognize gain or loss. See Federal Income Tax Consequences, beginning at page 30. The receipt of cash in lieu of a fractional share of Commerce common stock will result in the recognition of taxable gain or loss.

All South Tulsa shareholders should read carefully the discussion in Federal Income Tax Consequences and the other sections of the Proxy Statement/Prospectus referred to therein and are urged to consult their own tax advisors as to specific consequences to them of the merger under federal, state, local or any other applicable tax laws.

Conditions to Completing the Merger

The completion of the merger depends on the satisfaction of a number of conditions, including, but not limited to, the following:

approval by the South Tulsa shareholders;

the continued accuracy of each company's representations and warranties and compliance by each company with its obligations contained in the Agreement and Plan of Merger; receipt of a legal opinion from Commerce's counsel as to the tax consequences of the merger;

receipt of legal opinions from Commerce's counsel and South Tulsa's counsel covering customary corporate law matters;

receipt of the required regulatory approvals;

the absence of any legal action or court order that prohibits the merger;

the declaration of effectiveness of this registration statement;

the absence of any material adverse change in the financial condition or assets of either Commerce or South Tulsa;

the satisfaction of certain financial measures applicable to South Tulsa;

the delivery to Commerce of a letter by each person who is an affiliate (as defined in Rules 145 and 405 adopted under the Securities Act of 1933) of South Tulsa at the time the Agreement and Plan of Merger is submitted to approval of the shareholders of South Tulsa;

dissenters' rights shall not have been exercised with respect to more than 10% of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock on the closing date;

the removal of certain loans from the Bank's loan portfolio;

the cancellation of all outstanding unexercised stock options under South Tulsa's stock option plans; and the execution of non-competition agreements between Commerce and certain directors and officers of South Tulsa.

Termination of the Agreement and Plan of Merger

Commerce, CBI-Kansas and South Tulsa can agree to terminate the Agreement and Plan of Merger without completing the merger, and either company can terminate the Agreement and Plan of Merger on its own without completing the merger under various circumstances, including if any of the following occur:

by any of the companies if the merger has not been consummated by June 30, 2007, but such date may be extended in certain circumstances;

by any of the companies if any banking regulatory approval of the merger is denied or if any governmental entity has issued an order imposing a burdensome condition on any of the companies;

by Commerce or CBI-Kansas, on the one hand, or South Tulsa on the other, if the other party has materially breached the Agreement and Plan of Merger and has not cured such breach within 45 days of notice of the breach;

by Commerce or CBI-Kansas if the South Tulsa Board of Directors fails to recommend adoption of the Agreement and Plan of Merger by the shareholders of South Tulsa, or amends or modifies such recommendation in a manner materially adverse to Commerce, or withdraws such recommendation;

by any of the companies if the shareholders of South Tulsa fail to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger;

by Commerce or CBI-Kansas, on the one hand, and South Tulsa, on the other hand, if there has been a material adverse change in the business or financial condition of the other party and such change has not been cured within 45 days of notice of the change or the closing date, whichever is earlier; or by South Tulsa prior to the vote of the shareholders if South Tulsa desires to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to a superior proposal.

Voting Agreements

Concurrent with the execution of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, the directors and executive officers of South Tulsa and certain other shareholders have each executed a shareholder voting agreement, which we refer to as a Voting Agreement, pursuant to which they have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the merger, have granted Commerce, CBI-Kansas and a certain employee of Commerce proxies to vote their shares and have agreed to vote, or execute proxies to vote their shares against any agreement or alternative transaction or any amendment of South Tulsa's certificate of incorporation or bylaws or other proposal, action or transaction involving South Tulsa or any of its subsidiaries or any of its shareholders, which amendment or other proposal, action or transaction could reasonably be expected to prevent or materially impede or delay consummation of the merger or the transactions contemplated by the Voting Agreement or to deprive Commerce of any material portion of the benefits anticipated by Commerce to be received from the consummation of the merger or the other transactions contemplated by the Voting Agreement or change in any manner the rights of the Commerce common stock presented to the shareholders of South Tulsa (regardless of any recommendation of the South Tulsa Board of Directors) or in respect of which vote or proxy of the shareholder is requested or sought, unless the such transaction has been approved in advance by Commerce.

The Voting Agreement terminates on the earlier of (i) the Effective Time, and (ii) the date the Agreement and Plan of Merger is terminated. Subject to certain limited exceptions, these shareholders are also not able to transfer their shares of South Tulsa common stock, enter into any agreement for the transfer of South Tulsa common stock, grant any proxies with respect to their shares of South Tulsa common stock (other than pursuant to the Voting Agreement or to Commerce or CBI-Kansas or their designees) or enter into any other voting agreement with respect to their shares of South Tulsa common stock.

The shareholders that have entered into Voting Agreements in which they have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the approval and adoption of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the merger have granted Commerce, CBI-Kansas and a certain employee of Commerce proxies to vote their shares unless the Voting Agreements are terminated in accordance with their respective provisions own approximately 50.61% of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock as of the record date. Therefore, the Agreement and Plan of Merger and merger will be approved. A form of the Voting Agreement entered into by such shareholders is attached as Appendix B to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

Stock Certificates and Dividend Withholding

When instructed, South Tulsa shareholders, other than those South Tulsa shareholders who perfect their dissenters rights of appraisal, must surrender the certificates for their shares of South Tulsa common stock to Commerce and inform Commerce of their federal taxpayer identification number before receiving a certificate for the number of shares of Commerce common stock and any cash in lieu of fractional shares to which such shareholders are entitled. Until a South Tulsa shareholder surrenders the certificates for his or her South Tulsa common stock and informs Commerce of his or her federal taxpayer identification number, Commerce may withhold the payment of any or all dividends which would otherwise be payable to such shareholder as a shareholder of Commerce. See The Merger Conversion and Exchange of Shares and Related Matters on page 14.

Comparative Stock Prices

Shares of Commerce common stock are traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market. The last sale price of Commerce common stock as reported on Nasdaq on December 1, 2006 (the last trading day preceding the execution of the Agreement and Plan of Merger) was $48.43. The last sale price for Commerce common stock as reported on Nasdaq on March 1, 2007 (the most recent date for which it was practicable to obtain market price data prior to the printing of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus) was $49.36.

There is no public or active market for South Tulsa common stock. The last sale price of South Tulsa common stock, of which management is aware preceding both the execution of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the printing of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus) was $141.00. As of March 1, 2007, there were approximately 110 holders of record of South Tulsa common stock. See Commerce Common Stock and South Tulsa Common Stock Comparative Per Share Prices and Dividends on page 44.

Dissenters Rights

Under the Oklahoma General Corporation Act (OGCA), each holder of South Tulsa common stock who dissents from the merger has the right to have the fair value of his or her shares appraised by a court and paid to him or her in cash. In order to exercise dissenters rights, the shareholder must comply with specific procedural requirements. If the shareholder fails to comply with these requirements, dissenters rights will not be available. See The Merger Rights of Dissenting Shareholders beginning on page 28.

Comparison of Shareholder Rights

When the merger closes, South Tulsa shareholders will become Commerce shareholders. Their rights will be governed by Missouri law and Commerce s governing corporate documents rather than Oklahoma law and South Tulsa s governing corporate documents, as is currently the case. Accordingly, in a number of respects, the rights of South Tulsa s shareholders will change as a result of the merger. For a description of these changes, see Differences in Rights of Shareholders beginning on page 36.

Opinion of Financial Advisor

In deciding to approve the merger, the South Tulsa Board of Directors considered the opinion from its financial advisor, Hovde Financial, Inc. (Hovde), as to the fairness from a financial point of view of the consideration to be received by the holders of South Tulsa common stock in the merger. This opinion is attached as Appendix C to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus. Shareholders of South Tulsa are urged to, and should, read Hovde s opinion in its entirety.

Accounting Treatment

The merger will be accounted for as a purchase, as that term is used under generally accepted accounting principles, for accounting and financial reporting purposes. Under purchase accounting, tangible and identifiable intangible assets and liabilities (including executory contracts and other commitments) of South Tulsa as of the Effective Time will be recorded at their respective fair values and added to those of Commerce. Any excess of purchase price (Commerce common stock totaling $26,250,000) over the fair values is recorded as goodwill. Financial statements of Commerce issued after the merger would reflect these fair values and would not be restated retroactively to reflect the historical financial position or results of operations of South Tulsa.

COMPARATIVE UNAUDITED PER SHARE DATA

The following table sets forth per share data of:

Commerce on a historical basis.

South Tulsa on a historical basis.

Commerce and South Tulsa combined on a pro forma basis.

Commerce and South Tulsa combined on a pro forma basis stated on an equivalent South Tulsa basis.

The table below should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements and notes thereto for Commerce incorporated by reference into this Proxy Statement/Prospectus and the selected financial date for South Tulsa contained herein.

Pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, Commerce has agreed to pay $340.54 for each outstanding share of South Tulsa common stock. The exchange ratio is based on a ten-day average closing price of Commerce common stock as reported on the Nasdaq Stock Market with limits such that it can be no higher than $50.06 nor lower than $45.30. Thus, the actual price may vary from $340.54 per South Tulsa common share to the extent the Commerce common stock price falls outside those limits. For purposes of the pro forma and equivalent pro forma calculations, it has been assumed that at the Effective Time there will be 77,083 shares of South Tulsa common stock outstanding (assuming all options to purchase shares of South Tulsa common stock are exercised prior to the Effective Time and that certain holders of options use shares of South Tulsa common stock to pay the exercise price of such options), and the Commerce common stock price will be $48.43 (the closing Commerce common stock price on December 1, 2006, the business day prior to the announcement of the Agreement and Plan of Merger). Based on these assumptions, the pro forma per share amounts assume an exchange ratio of 7.03 shares of Commerce common stock for each share of South Tulsa common stock. This exchange ratio has been used to calculate the South Tulsa equivalent pro forma per share information below. See The Merger Conversion of South Tulsa Common Stock on page 14.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This document contains or incorporates by reference a number of forward-looking statements, including statements about the financial conditions, results of operations, earnings outlook and prospects of Commerce, South Tulsa and the potential combined company and may include statements for the period following the completion of the merger. You can find many of these statements by looking for words such as plan, believe, expect, intend, anticipate, project, potential, possible or other similar expressions.

The forward-looking statements involve certain risks and uncertainties. The ability of either Commerce or South Tulsa to predict results or the actual effects of its plans and strategies, or those of the combined company, is subject to inherent uncertainty. Factors that may cause actual results or earnings to differ materially from such forward-looking statements include, among others, the following:

projected business increases following process changes and other investments are lower than expected;

competitive pressure among financial services companies increases significantly;

general economic conditions are less favorable than expected;

political conditions including the threat of future terrorist activity and related actions by the United States abroad may adversely affect either company's businesses and economic conditions as a whole;

changes in the interest rate environment reduce interest margins and impact funding sources;

changes in foreign exchange rates increase exposure;

changes in market rates and prices may adversely impact the value of financial products;

legislation or regulatory environments, requirements or changes may adversely affect businesses in which either company is engaged;

litigation liabilities, including costs, expenses, settlements and judgments, may adversely affect either company or its businesses; completion of the merger is dependent on, among other things, receipt of shareholder and regulatory approvals, the timing of which cannot be predicted with precision and which may not be received at all;

the merger may be more expensive to complete than anticipated, including as a result of unexpected factors or events;

the integration of South Tulsa's business and operations with those of Commerce may take longer than anticipated, may be more costly than anticipated and may have unanticipated adverse results relating to South Tulsa's or Commerce's existing businesses;

the anticipated cost savings and other synergies of the merger may take longer to be realized or may not be achieved in their entirety, and attrition in key customer, partner and other relationships relating to the merger may be greater than expected; and decisions to downsize, sell or close units or otherwise change the business mix of either company.

Because these forward-looking statements are subject to assumptions and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these statements, which speak only as of the date of this document or the date of any document incorporated by reference in this document.

All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements concerning the merger or other matters addressed in this document and attributable to Commerce or South Tulsa or any person acting on their behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this document. Except to the extent required by applicable law or regulation, Commerce and South Tulsa undertake no obligation to update these forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this document or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

RISK FACTORS

Because the Market Price of Commerce Common Stock Will Fluctuate, South Tulsa Shareholders Cannot Be Sure of the Value of the Merger Consideration They Will Receive.

Upon completion of the merger, each share of South Tulsa common stock will be converted into merger consideration consisting of $340.54 of Commerce common stock (or between approximately 6.80 and 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock). The market value of the Commerce common stock may vary from the closing price of Commerce common stock on the date we announced the merger, on the date that this document was mailed to South Tulsa shareholders, on the date of the special meeting of the South Tulsa shareholders and on the date we complete the merger and thereafter. While the exchange ratio will be appropriately adjusted if the Commerce common stock price is between $45.30 and $50.06, any change in the market value of Commerce common stock prior to completion of the merger outside of that range will affect the value of the merger consideration that South Tulsa shareholders will receive upon completion of the merger. Accordingly, at the time of the special meeting, South Tulsa shareholders may not know or be able to calculate the market value of the merger consideration they would receive upon completion of the merger. Stock price changes may result from a variety of factors, including general market and economic conditions, changes in South Tulsa's and Commerce's respective businesses, operations and prospects, and regulatory considerations. Many of these factors are beyond South Tulsa's and Commerce's control. You should obtain current market quotations for shares of Commerce common stock and for shares of South Tulsa common stock.

The Market Price of Commerce Common Stock after the Merger May Be Affected by Factors Different from Those Affecting the Shares of South Tulsa or Commerce Currently.

The businesses of Commerce and South Tulsa differ in important respects and, accordingly, the results of operations of the combined company and the market price of the combined company's shares of common stock may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the independent results of operations of South Tulsa. For a discussion of the businesses of Commerce and South Tulsa and of certain factors to consider in connection with those businesses, see the documents incorporated by reference in this document and referred to under "Where You Can Find More Information," and the "Information About South Tulsa Financial Corporation"

The Opinion Obtained by South Tulsa from its Financial Advisor Will Not Reflect Changes in Circumstances between Signing the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the Merger.

South Tulsa has not obtained an updated opinion as of the date of this document from its financial advisor. Changes in the operations and prospects of Commerce or South Tulsa, general market and economic conditions and other factors which may be beyond the control of Commerce and South Tulsa, and on which the financial advisor's opinion was based, may significantly alter the value of Commerce or South Tulsa or the prices of shares of Commerce common stock or South Tulsa common stock by the time the merger is completed. The opinion does not speak as of the time the merger will be completed or as of any date other than the date of such opinion. Because South Tulsa currently does not anticipate asking its financial advisor to update its opinion, the opinion will not address the fairness of the merger consideration, from a financial point of view, at the time the merger is completed. For a description of the opinion that South Tulsa received from its financial advisor, please refer to "The Merger" Opinion of South Tulsa Financial Advisor. For a description of the other factors considered by the South Tulsa Board of Directors in determining to approve the merger, please refer to "The Merger" Reasons for the Merger - South Tulsa.

The Agreement and Plan of Merger Limits South Tulsa's Ability to Pursue Alternatives to the Merger.

The Agreement and Plan of Merger contains no shop provisions that, subject to limited exceptions, limit South Tulsa's ability to discuss, facilitate or commit to competing third-party proposals to acquire all or a significant part of South Tulsa. These provisions might discourage a potential competing acquiror that might have an interest in acquiring all or a significant part of South Tulsa from considering or proposing that acquisition even if it were prepared to pay consideration with a higher per share market price than that proposed in the merger, or might result in a potential competing acquirer proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire South Tulsa than it might otherwise have proposed to pay.

The Merger is Subject to the Receipt of Consents and Approvals from Government Entities that May Impose Conditions that Could Have an Adverse Effect on Commerce.

Before the merger may be completed, various approvals or consents must be obtained from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Office of the Comptroller of Currency. These governmental entities may impose conditions on the completion of the merger or require changes to the terms of the merger. Although Commerce and South Tulsa do not currently expect that any such conditions or changes would be imposed, there can be no assurance that they will not be, and such conditions or changes could have the effect of delaying completion of the merger or imposing additional costs on or limiting the revenues of Commerce following the merger, any of which might have a material adverse effect on Commerce following the merger.

South Tulsa Executive Officers and Directors Have Financial Interests in the Merger that Are Different from, or in Addition to, the Interests of South Tulsa Shareholders.

Executive officers of South Tulsa negotiated the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger with their counterparts at Commerce, and the South Tulsa Board of Directors approved the Agreement and Plan of Merger and unanimously recommended that South Tulsa shareholders vote to approve the merger. In considering these facts and the other information contained in this document, you should be aware that South Tulsa's executive officers and directors have financial interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of South Tulsa shareholders. For example, certain directors and executive officers have entered into agreements with South Tulsa and Commerce that provide, among other things, the grant by Commerce of Commerce restricted stock and the payment of other benefits following the merger in consideration for such directors' and executive officers' agreements related to non-competition, non-solicitation and non-disclosure. In addition, each of the current directors of South Tulsa has entered into agreements with Commerce that provide, among other things, the election of each director to an advisory board of the Bank, which is a paid position. These and some other additional interests of South Tulsa directors and executive officers may create potential conflicts of interest and cause some of these persons to view the proposed transaction differently than you may view it, as a shareholder. Please see "Financial Interests of Directors and Officers" for information about these financial interests.

Certain shareholders representing approximately 50.61% of the shares of South Tulsa common stock have executed voting agreements to vote in favor of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the merger.

THE SPECIAL MEETING

Matters to be Considered

At the special meeting, South Tulsa's shareholders will consider and vote upon a proposal to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger. The Agreement and Plan of Merger provides, among other things, for the merger of South Tulsa with and into CBI-Kansas. CBI-Kansas will be the surviving corporation and the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws, directors and officers of CBI-Kansas will remain the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws, directors and officers of CBI-Kansas. Shareholders of South Tulsa will receive shares of Commerce common stock in the merger.

Record Date; Quorum

The South Tulsa Board of Directors has established the close of business on February 20, 2007 as the date to determine those record holders of South Tulsa common stock entitled to notice of and to vote at the South Tulsa special meeting. On that date, there were 72,189 shares of South Tulsa common stock outstanding held by approximately 110 holders of record. A majority of the shares outstanding and entitled to vote on the record date are required to be represented in person or by proxy in order for a quorum to be present for purposes of approving the merger at the special meeting, and a vote of a majority of the outstanding shares is required for approval of the merger. In the event a quorum is not present at the special meeting, it is expected that the meeting will be adjourned or postponed to solicit additional proxies. Holders of record of South Tulsa common stock on the record date are each entitled to one vote per share on the merger to be considered at the special meeting.

Votes Required

The approval and adoption of the Agreement and Plan of Merger requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock outstanding on February 20, 2007. Shares which are present but not voted, either by abstention or non-vote (including broker non-vote) will be counted for purposes of establishing a quorum but will not be counted to determine whether the merger is approved.

In order to induce Commerce and CBI-Kansas to enter into the Agreement and Plan of Merger, holders of approximately 50.61% of the shares of South Tulsa common stock have executed Voting Agreements, pursuant to which each of them has agreed to vote all shares of South Tulsa common stock that each of them owns respectively FOR the approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the merger and have given certain employees of Commerce proxies to vote their shares in such manner. Therefore, the Agreement and Plan of Merger and merger will be approved. As of the record date, those shareholders who executed voting agreements owned 36,538 shares of our common stock, representing 50.61% of our outstanding common stock.

Security Ownership of Management

As of March 2, 2007, there were 72,189 shares of South Tulsa common stock outstanding. As of March 2, 2007, the directors and officers of South Tulsa beneficially owned, directly and indirectly, approximately 21.14% of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock. All officers and directors of South Tulsa owning South Tulsa common stock have indicated they intend to vote in favor of the Agreement and Plan of Merger.

Voting and Revocation of Proxies

All shares of South Tulsa common stock represented at the special meeting by properly executed proxies received before or at the special meeting, unless the proxies have been revoked, will be voted at the special meeting, including any postponement or adjournment of the special meeting. If no instructions are indicated, the proxies will be voted FOR approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger. In addition, the persons designated in the proxies will have the discretion to vote upon any adjournment of the special meeting to solicit additional proxies.

A person giving a proxy pursuant to this solicitation may revoke it at any time before the proxy is voted at the special meeting. A proxy may be properly revoked by:

filing with the Corporate Secretary of South Tulsa, at 6130 East 81st Street, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74137-2102, before the voting of the proxy, a written instrument revoking the proxy; completing a new proxy card and sending it to the address above, in which case the new proxy card will automatically replace any earlier dated proxy card; or voting in person at the special meeting.

Attendance at the special meeting will not, in and of itself, constitute the revocation of a proxy.

South Tulsa will appoint one or more inspectors, who may be employees of South Tulsa to determine, among other things, the number of shares of South Tulsa common stock represented at the special meeting and the validity of the proxies submitted for vote at the special meeting. The inspector(s) of election appointed for the special meeting will tabulate votes cast by proxy and in person.

Solicitation of Proxies

This Proxy Statement/Prospectus is being furnished to the shareholders of South Tulsa in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the South Tulsa Board of Directors for use at the special meeting and at any adjournment or adjournments of the special meeting. Except for the cost of preparing this Proxy Statement/Prospectus, the cost of solicitation of proxies for the South Tulsa special meeting will be borne by South Tulsa. In addition to solicitation by mail, South Tulsa may cause proxies to be solicited personally or by telephone or email by South Tulsa's regular employees.

South Tulsa

South Tulsa Financial Corporation, which was organized in 1998, is a one-bank holding company that is registered under the 1956 BHC Act. Like other bank holding companies in the United States, South Tulsa is subject to regulation, supervision and periodic examination by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. South Tulsa owns all of the capital stock of Bank South, an Oklahoma state-chartered bank, which is South Tulsa's sole subsidiary and accounts for substantially all of its consolidated assets, liabilities and operating results.

Bank South, which also commenced business operations in 1998, was originally organized as a national bank, operating under the name Bank South, National Association. In 2000, Bank South converted from a national banking association to an Oklahoma state-chartered bank. The head office of the Bank is located at 6130 E. 81st Street in Tulsa, Oklahoma. In 2001, Bank South established a second banking facility located at 2054 Utica Square in Tulsa to better serve its mid-town customers. These are the only banking offices operated by Bank South.

Bank South offers a variety of traditional loan and deposit products, together with personal service, to its customers who include individuals, professionals, executives, small to medium size businesses, and builders and developers. Bank South emphasizes personalized service, convenience and the ability to customize services to meet the banking needs of its customers in order to attract business within its market area. Walk-up facilities are available at both of the banking offices, and the 81st Street facility offers drive-through and 24-hour ATM service. Bank South also offers internet banking services to its customers, enabling them to conduct many of their banking transactions online, from their businesses or residences. THE MERGER

General

The Agreement and Plan of Merger and certain related matters are summarized below. This summary does not purport to be a complete statement of the terms and conditions of the merger and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, which is attached as Appendix A to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference.

Conversion of South Tulsa Common Stock

South Tulsa shareholders will receive Commerce common stock with a value of $340.54, which equates to an exchange ratio within the range of approximately 6.80 and 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock. The value of Commerce common stock that a holder of South Tulsa common stock would receive in an exchange will vary if the price of Commerce common stock falls outside the range of $45.30 and $50.06 because the merger consideration is not further adjusted if the Commerce stock price is below $45.30 or above $50.06.

For example, if the Commerce stock price is below $45.30, the value of Commerce stock received will be less than $340.54, and each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 7.52 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock. On the other hand, if the Commerce stock price is greater than $50.06, the value of Commerce stock received will be greater than $340.54, and each shareholder of South Tulsa will receive approximately 6.80 shares of Commerce common stock per share of South Tulsa common stock.

If between the date of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the Effective Time, the outstanding shares of Commerce common stock shall have been further changed into a different number of shares or a different class, by reason of any issuance of common stock, recapitalization, reclassification, split-up, combination, exchange, readjustment, reorganization, merger, consolidation, distribution, stock split, stock or other dividend, or similar transaction, the Agreement and Plan of Merger shall be adjusted to the extent appropriate to reflect such event.

Stock Options

As of March 2, 2007, options to purchase 7,970 shares of South Tulsa common stock were issued and outstanding to certain officers and directors of South Tulsa and its subsidiary, Bank South. All of these options are fully vested and exercisable. Prior to the merger, South Tulsa expects to amend certain of its option award agreements which will enable the option holders under those agreements to surrender vested stock options to satisfy the option exercise price with respect to other stock options which such persons hold. As a result, although options to purchase 7,970 shares currently are outstanding, fewer than 7,970 shares of South Tulsa common stock may be issued by South Tulsa prior to the merger if option holders surrender vested stock options to satisfy the option exercise price. If any options to purchase shares of South Tulsa stock are outstanding at the closing of the merger, the Agreement and Plan of Merger provides that such options will be cancelled as of the Effective Time.

Conversion and Exchange of Shares and Related Matters

Prior to the completion of the merger, Commerce will appoint Commerce Bank, N.A. or a commercial bank or trust company that is acceptable to South Tulsa, to act as the Exchange Agent. The Exchange Agent will effect the exchange of shares of South Tulsa common stock into shares of Commerce common stock.

Holders of unexchanged South Tulsa shares will not be entitled to receive any dividends or other distributions payable by Commerce until their certificates are surrendered after the merger is completed. Upon surrender, however, subject to applicable laws, the holders will receive accumulated dividends and distributions, without interest, together with cash in lieu of any fractional shares.

Promptly after the completion of the merger, the Exchange Agent will mail to holders of unexchanged South Tulsa stock certificates (other than South Tulsa stock certificates representing dissenting shares) a letter of transmittal and instructions for surrendering South Tulsa stock certificates in exchange for the merger consideration that a holder of shares of South Tulsa common stock is entitled to receive, along with any dividends and other distributions and any cash in lieu of fractional shares. After a holder of South Tulsa stock certificates sends the South Tulsa stock certificates to the Exchange Agent together with the properly completed letter of transmittal, and any other documents that the Exchange Agent may reasonably require, the holder of South Tulsa stock certificates will be entitled to receive such consideration. No interest will be paid or will accrue on any cash paid to holders of South Tulsa stock certificates.

If there has been a transfer of ownership of South Tulsa common stock that is not registered in the transfer records of South Tulsa, such holder must present to the Exchange Agent the certificate representing such shares of South Tulsa common stock, along with all documents required to evidence and effect the transfer of ownership and to evidence that any applicable stock transfer taxes have been paid prior to receiving any merger consideration.

Fractional Shares

No fractional shares will be issued by Commerce in connection with the merger. If you are a South Tulsa shareholder who would otherwise have been entitled to a fraction of a share of Commerce common stock, you will be paid the cash value of such fraction determined by multiplying such fraction by the average of ten (10) closing sale prices of Commerce common stock as reported by Nasdaq on each of the ten (10) consecutive trading days preceding the fifth trading date prior to the Effective Time.

Background of Negotiations

In February 2004, Nevyle Cable and Carl Hudgins, the President and Vice President of South Tulsa, met with representatives from an Oklahoma based bank significantly larger than Bank South regarding the bank's interest in acquiring South Tulsa and its subsidiary, Bank South. The parties agreed that South Tulsa would entertain an offer of interest based on their discussions. Carl Hudgins had a second meeting with the bank's representatives regarding the bank's continuing interest in South Tulsa. On March 2, 2004, the bank's representatives communicated a verbal offer to purchase South Tulsa and to pay additional consideration for non-compete agreements with three of Bank South's executive officers, Carl Hudgins, Steve Austin and Bruce Humphrey. Ultimately, management of South Tulsa determined that the offer was insufficient and discussions were terminated after the inquiring bank made it clear that it would not increase the amount of its initial offer.

For the next several months and during 2005, South Tulsa received several inquiries regarding its possible interest in being acquired. Carl Hudgins met with representatives of several different Oklahoma banks, spending considerable time with each bank's representatives. Additionally, in October 2005, South Tulsa received an inquiry from a financial holding company in Missouri. Carl Hudgins subsequently met with the attorneys representing that company. However, following this initial meeting, the company failed to respond to additional questions asked by South Tulsa, and South Tulsa did not receive further communication from the representatives or the company.

In January 2006, Carl Hudgins met again with representatives of the Oklahoma bank that had approached South Tulsa in 2004, and that bank again expressed an interest in proceeding with a transaction. Shortly thereafter, however, the bank contacted South Tulsa and advised that it had elected to pursue an alternative transaction.

As South Tulsa continued to receive inquiries and overtures regarding its interest in a possible sale, South Tulsa contacted Hovde in early March 2006 and requested Hovde provide a valuation of South Tulsa in order to assist management in considering its options in a sale. Based on projected financials through March 31, 2006, representatives of Hovde provided an initial valuation of South Tulsa. The Board of Directors of South Tulsa agreed to take the Hovde valuation under consideration while contemplating its desired course of action. Within approximately two weeks following receipt of this valuation, Hovde advised management of South Tulsa that a financial institution had indicated to Hovde its interest in making an offer to acquire South Tulsa. The Board of Directors of South Tulsa then requested Hovde to assist South Tulsa in its negotiations with this potential acquiror. On April 17, 2006, South Tulsa received a non-binding letter of interest from this Oklahoma City-based bank, expressing the bank's interest in acquiring South Tulsa and its willingness to pay additional consideration for non-compete agreements from Messrs. Hudgins, Austin and Humphrey. After a meeting of the joint Boards of South Tulsa and Bank South on April 18, 2006, South Tulsa made a counter-offer which proposed a higher purchase price. Upon receiving South Tulsa's counter-offer, the Oklahoma City-based bank determined that it did not wish to pursue further discussions regarding the proposed acquisition.

At a May 11, 2006 meeting of the executive committee of South Tulsa's Board of Directors, the executive committee formally agreed to recommend to South Tulsa and Bank South's Boards of Directors that Hovde be hired to assist in marketing South Tulsa to potential purchasers. Nevyle Cable and Carl Hudgins were appointed as representatives to negotiate the terms of South Tulsa's arrangement with Hovde. Upon finalizing that arrangement in early June 2006, Hovde began preparing offering materials with respect to South Tulsa and its subsidiary, Bank South, with the intention that these offering materials would be distributed to prospective purchasers as the initial step in soliciting bids from parties interested in acquiring South Tulsa. However, in early July 2006 and before the offering materials could be completed and distributed, Hovde advised South Tulsa that Commerce had indicated to Hovde its interest in acquiring South Tulsa.

On August 2, 2006, representatives of Commerce attended a joint meeting of the Boards of Directors of South Tulsa and Bank South to discuss matters relevant to a possible transaction between Commerce and South Tulsa, including the manner in which Bank South would be operated if a transaction were to occur. Following this meeting, representatives of South Tulsa authorized Hovde to provide a variety of both public and non-public information with respect to South Tulsa and Bank South to Commerce. Following execution of a Confidentiality Agreement by Commerce on August 7, 2006, this information was provided.

On September 8, 2006, Commerce provided to Hovde a formal written proposal with respect to Commerce's possible acquisition of South Tulsa. This proposal contemplated an initial total purchase price of $25 million which would be paid half in Commerce's common stock and half in cash. Following additional negotiation between representatives of South Tulsa and Commerce, Commerce modified its original proposal in a letter dated September 25, 2006. Included among the changes to its proposal was an increase in the total consideration for South Tulsa to $26.25 million, all of which would be paid in the form of Commerce common stock.

A joint meeting of South Tulsa and Bank South's Boards was held on September 25, 2006, to review Commerce's modified proposal and to discuss the potential transaction with Commerce. A representative of Hovde participated in this meeting by telephone and discussed the Commerce offer as well as the possibility of any other acquisition proposals which might arise. At this meeting, South Tulsa's Board of Directors decided to proceed with negotiations with Commerce, subject to completion of Commerce's final due diligence which was completed during the week of October 9, 2006.

Shortly following completion of its due diligence, Commerce provided to South Tulsa a proposed form of acquisition agreement, as well as related agreements to be entered into between South Tulsa, Commerce and Bank South's directors and certain executive officers in conjunction with entering into a definitive acquisition agreement. Negotiations with respect to the terms of these agreements continued through November, 2006. At a special joint meeting of the Boards of Directors of South Tulsa and Bank South held November 20, 2006, South Tulsa and Bank South's Boards of Directors considered the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the related agreements to which South Tulsa would be a party. At that meeting, counsel for South Tulsa reviewed the terms and conditions of each of these agreements, and responded to questions from the directors. The Company's financial advisor, Hovde, also delivered an oral opinion at that meeting, subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of the date of its opinion, and based upon and subject to the considerations described in its opinion, the consideration to be received by holders of shares of South Tulsa common stock in the merger pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Merger was fair to the holders of South Tulsa's common stock from a financial point of view. In support of its opinion, representatives of Hovde provided a presentation to South Tulsa and Bank South's Boards of Directors summarizing its analysis and responding to questions from the directors. Following these presentations and after further discussions by the directors, South Tulsa's Board of Directors unanimously approved the Agreement and Plan of Merger as well as the related agreements to which South Tulsa would be a party and submitted the Agreement and Plan of Merger for approval to South Tulsa's shareholders with its recommendation that the Agreement and Plan of Merger be approved.

On December 4, 2006, Commerce and South Tulsa executed the Agreement and Plan of Merger and related agreements to which South Tulsa was a party. In conjunction with entering into the Agreement and Plan of Merger, shareholders of South Tulsa owning a majority of South Tulsa's common stock entered into the Voting Agreements pursuant to which they agreed to vote in favor of the Agreement and Plan of Merger.

Reasons for the Merger

South Tulsa. South Tulsa's Board of Directors has determined that the merger is advisable and in the best interests of South Tulsa and its shareholders. The South Tulsa Board of Directors believes that the merger presents an opportunity to merge with a similar financial institution and create a combined company that will have significantly greater financial strength and earnings power than South Tulsa would have on its own. Accordingly, the South Tulsa Board of Directors has approved the merger. In reaching its decision to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger and recommend its approval by South Tulsa's shareholders, the South Tulsa Board of Directors consulted with South Tulsa's management, as well as South Tulsa's legal and financial advisors, and considered a number of factors, including, but not limited to, those discussed below.

Financial Considerations. The South Tulsa Board of Directors considered the financial terms of the merger based on, among other things, the following factors:

The belief that the value of the consideration to be received by South Tulsa represents a fair multiple of South Tulsa per share book value and earnings, based on historical and anticipated trading ranges for Commerce common stock;

The potential for stock price appreciation to South Tulsa shareholders;

The current and prospective competitive regulatory environments in which South Tulsa operates;

The quality and history of Commerce's earnings and the ability to maintain those earnings given the management quality and depth, diversification of risk, representation in growing market areas and ability to grow internally;

The belief that the merger will result in significant dividend income, as compared to other alternatives, based on the assumption that Commerce would continue to pay cash and stock dividends at its current rate and with the understanding that current dividends are not necessarily indicative of future dividends;

The advantages of combining with a larger financial institution, thereby enabling the South Tulsa shareholders to become shareholders of a larger combined entity having greater resources to compete in the banking industry;

The expected financial strength of the combined company following the merger and the ability of the combined company to realize cost savings and to take advantage of various business opportunities with greater financial resources;

The written opinion of Hovde dated December 4, 2006, which stated that the merger consideration was fair from a financial point of view to holders of South Tulsa common stock; and

The expected treatment of the merger as a tax-free reorganization under the Code.

Strategic Considerations. The South Tulsa Board of Directors also considered a number of strategic advantages of the merger in comparison to a stand-alone strategy, including, but not limited to, the following factors:

The creation of significant synergies and a stronger competitor in the changing banking industry following the merger;

The complementary nature of South Tulsa's and Commerce's geographic markets for consumer financial service products; and

The creation of a stronger banking franchise by combining South Tulsa's strong banking presence in Tulsa, Oklahoma with Commerce's strong banking presence in the Kansas, Missouri and Illinois areas.

Social Considerations. The South Tulsa Board of Directors considered the social and economic effect on the South Tulsa shareholders, employees, customers and community, including, but not limited to, the following factors:

The improbability that there would be customer and employee disruption from the merger, based on the merger record of Commerce;

The favorable position of Commerce among South Tulsa's and Commerce's peer group of national and regional financial institutions in terms of profitability, capital adequacy and asset quality;

Commerce's large menu of banking and banking related products and services;

Commerce's strong management record;

Commerce's acquisition experience and history of operating acquired banking locations as community banks; and

The opportunity for South Tulsa shareholders to participate in the future growth of a larger and more diversified bank holding company having greater financial resources, competitive strengths and business opportunities than would be possible for South Tulsa as a stand alone entity.

While the South Tulsa Board of Directors considered the foregoing and other factors individually, the South Tulsa Board of Directors did not collectively assign any specific or relative weight to the factors considered and did not make any determination with respect to any individual factor. The South Tulsa Board of Directors collectively made its determination with respect to the Agreement and Plan of Merger based on the unanimous conclusion reached by its members, in light of the factors that each of them considered appropriate, that the Agreement and Plan of Merger is fair and in the best interests of the South Tulsa shareholders.

Commerce. In reaching its decision to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger, the Board of Directors of Commerce considered a variety of factors, including the following:

The merger will allow Commerce to increase its market share in the demographically attractive market of Tulsa, Oklahoma;

Commerce's belief that the merger will provide an opportunity for Commerce to improve South Tulsa's operating performance and funding mix, and to expand South Tulsa's product offering;

Commerce's familiarity with and review of South Tulsa's business, operations, management, markets, competitors, financial condition, earnings and prospects;

South Tulsa's financial strength, stable credit quality and concentration in the attractive metropolitan area of Tulsa, Oklahoma;

Commerce's belief that after the merger the combined company will be able to continue to generate high revenue and growth rates; and

The merger will allow Commerce to continue its strategy of geographically diversifying its revenues and earnings.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by Commerce is not intended to be exhaustive. In reaching its determination to enter into the Agreement and Plan of Merger, Commerce did not assign any relative or specific weights to the foregoing factors.

Opinion of South Tulsa Financial Advisor

In early June 2006, South Tulsa formalized its retention of Hovde to provide its financial services to South Tulsa, including a potential sale of South Tulsa. Hovde has delivered to the Board of Directors of South Tulsa its opinion that, based upon and subject to the various considerations set forth in its written opinion dated December 4, 2006, the merger consideration to be paid to the shareholders of South Tulsa is fair from a financial point of view as of such date. In requesting Hovde's advice and opinion, no limitations were imposed by South Tulsa upon Hovde with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed by it in rendering its opinion. The full text of the opinion of Hovde, which describes the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken, is attached as Appendix C to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference. South Tulsa's shareholders should read this opinion in its entirety. The following summary of the opinion of Hovde is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion.

Hovde is a nationally recognized investment banking firm and, as part of its investment banking business, is continually engaged in the valuation of financial institutions in connection with mergers and acquisitions, private placements and valuations for other purposes. As a specialist in securities of financial institutions, Hovde has experience in, and knowledge of, banks, thrifts and bank and thrift holding companies. The Board of Directors of South Tulsa selected Hovde to act as its financial advisor in connection with the merger on the basis of the firm's reputation and expertise in transactions such as the merger.

Hovde received a fee from South Tulsa for performing a financial analysis of the merger and rendering a written opinion to the Board of Directors of South Tulsa as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger to the shareholders of South Tulsa. South Tulsa has agreed to pay Hovde fees upon the consummation of the merger equal to one and one-half percent of the final value of the transaction with certain adjustments for its services as financial advisor in connection with the merger. If the merger is consummated Hovde will receive approximately $467,500 for its services. In addition to its fees and regardless of whether the merger is consummated, Hovde will be reimbursed for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. South Tulsa has also agreed to indemnify Hovde against any claims, losses and expenses arising out of the merger or Hovde's engagement that did not arise from Hovde's gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Hovde's opinion is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration, and, as such, does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder of South Tulsa as to how the shareholder should vote at the Special Meeting. The summary of the opinion of Hovde set forth in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion.

The following is a summary of the analyses performed by Hovde in connection with its fairness opinion. Certain of these analyses were discussed in a presentation to the Board of Directors of South Tulsa by Hovde made on November 20, 2006. The summary set forth below does not purport to be a complete description of either the analyses performed by Hovde in rendering its opinion or the presentation delivered by Hovde to the Board of Directors of South Tulsa, but it does summarize all of the material analyses performed and presented by Hovde.

The preparation of a fairness opinion involves various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analyses and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. In arriving at its opinion, Hovde did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor considered by it, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. Accordingly, Hovde believes that its analyses and the following summary must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses, without considering all factors and analyses, could create an incomplete view of the process underlying the analyses set forth in its report to the Board of Directors of South Tulsa and its fairness opinion.

In performing its analyses, Hovde made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of South Tulsa and Commerce. The analyses performed by Hovde are not necessarily indicative of actual value or actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Such analyses were prepared solely as part of Hovde's analysis of the fairness of the merger consideration, from a financial point of view, to the shareholders of South Tulsa. The analyses do not purport to be an appraisal or to reflect the prices at which a company might actually be sold or the prices at which any securities may trade at the present time or at any time in the future. Hovde's opinion does not address the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other business combination in which South

Tulsa might engage. In addition, as described above, Hovde's opinion to the Board of Directors of South Tulsa was one of many factors taken into consideration by the Board of Directors of South Tulsa in making its determination to approve the merger agreement.

The Commerce average closing price amounts described below under the caption "Trading Price Analysis" have not been adjusted for the 5% common stock dividend announced by Commerce on October 20, 2006 and paid on December 13, 2006 to shareholders of record as of November 29, 2006. Because the Agreement and Plan of Merger was entered into after the record date of the stock dividend, the terms of the acquisition, as originally proposed by Commerce, with respect to the price range in which the number of shares of Commerce common stock to be issued would be increased or decreased in order to equal the $340.54 per share in merger consideration were modified in the final terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger to proportionately lower the price range in order to reflect the effect of the Commerce stock dividend. Accordingly the Commerce common stock dividend has no effect on Hovde's analysis of the Commerce common stock trading price or any of the other analyses performed by Hovde which are described herein.

The opinion expressed by Hovde was based on market, economic and other relevant considerations as they existed and could be evaluated as of the date of the opinion. Events occurring after the date of issuance of the opinion, including changes affecting the securities markets, the results of operations or material changes in the financial condition of either South Tulsa or Commerce could materially affect the assumptions used in preparing this opinion.

During the course of its engagement, and as a basis for arriving at its opinion, Hovde reviewed and analyzed material bearing upon the financial and operating conditions of South Tulsa and Commerce and material prepared in connection with the merger, including, among other things, the following:

the Agreement and Plan of Merger and all attachments thereto; certain historical publicly available information concerning the South Tulsa and Commerce;

certain internal financial statements and other financial and operating data concerning South Tulsa;

certain financial projections prepared by the management of South Tulsa;

certain other information provided to Hovde by members of the senior management of South Tulsa and Commerce for the purpose of reviewing the future prospects of South Tulsa and Commerce, including financial forecasts related to its business, earnings, assets and liabilities;

the historical market prices and trading volumes of Commerce common stock;

the nature and terms of recent merger and acquisition transactions to the extent publicly available, involving banks, thrifts and bank and thrift holding companies that Hovde considered relevant; and the pro forma ownership of Commerce common stock by the holders of South Tulsa common stock relative to the pro forma contribution of the South Tulsa's assets, liabilities, equity and earnings.

In addition, Hovde:

analyzed the pro forma impact of the merger on the combined company's earnings, consolidated equity capitalization and financial ratios;

took into account its assessment of general economic, market and financial conditions and its experience in other transactions, as well as its knowledge of the commercial banking industry and its general experience in securities valuations; and performed such other analyses and considered other factors as it deemed appropriate.

In rendering its opinion, Hovde assumed, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of the financial and other information provided to it and relied upon the accuracy of the representations of the parties contained in the merger agreement. Hovde also assumed the financial forecasts furnished to or discussed with Hovde by South Tulsa and Commerce were reasonably prepared and reflected the best currently available estimates and judgments of senior management of South Tulsa and Commerce as to the future financial performance of South Tulsa, Commerce or the combined company, as the case may be. Hovde has not made any independent evaluation or appraisal of any properties, assets or liabilities of South Tulsa.

Contribution Analysis. Hovde prepared a contribution analysis showing percentages of assets, net loans, deposits, equity and tangible equity at September 30, 2006 for South Tulsa and Commerce, and the trailing twelve months and estimated calendar-year 2006 net income that would be contributed to the combined company on a pro-forma basis. These contribution percentages were compared to the approximately 0.77% of the pro forma common shares outstanding that holders of South Tulsa common stock would own.

Hovde calculated the medians of the following relevant transaction ratios in the Four-State Merger Group and the Nationwide Merger Group: the multiple of the offer value to the acquired company's tangible book value; the multiple of the offer value to the acquired company's core 6.5% adjusted tangible book value; the multiple of the offer value to the acquired company's earnings for the twelve months preceding the announcement date of the transaction; and the tangible book value premium to core deposits. Hovde compared these multiples with the corresponding multiples for the merger, valuing the per share consideration that would be received pursuant to the merger agreement at $340.54 per diluted share of South Tulsa. In calculating the multiples for the merger, Hovde used South Tulsa's earnings for the twelve months ended September 30, 2006 and South Tulsa's tangible book value, core 6.5% adjusted tangible book value and core deposits as of September 30, 2006. The results of this analysis are as follows:

Offer Value to:	Ratio of Tangible
Core 6.5%

	Tangible Book Value (x)	Adjusted Tangible Book Value (x)	12 Months Preceding Earnings (x)	Book Value Premium to Core Deposits (%)
Commerce	2.14	2.74	18.0	19.2
Four-State Merger Group median	1.95	2.08	19.5	10.8
Nationwide Merger Group median	1.97	2.70	18.3	17.1

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Hovde estimated the present value of all shares of the South Tulsa common stock by utilizing South Tulsa's estimated future earnings stream. Reflecting South Tulsa's internal projections and historical averages, we assumed a 10.0% annual asset growth and 2006-2010 net income of $1.6 million, $1.7 million, $1.9 million, $2.1 million, and $2.3 million, respectively. No dividends were projected to be paid.

In all cases, the present value of these cash flows was calculated based on a range of discount rates of 13.0%, 14.0%, and 15.0%. These rates and values were chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding the required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of South Tulsa common stock.

Hovde derived the take-out value of South Tulsa common stock using both the terminal value earnings multiple and book value approaches. In arriving at the terminal value of South Tulsa's earnings stream in 2010, Hovde assumed a terminal earnings value multiple at a range of 19.0x, 20.0x and 21.0x. Similarly, in arriving at the terminal value of South Tulsa's book value in 2010, Hovde assumed a terminal book value multiple at a range of 175.0%, 200.0% and 225.0%. The terminal values were then discounted, along with annual cash flows, to arrive at the present value for South Tulsa common stock. These analyses and its underlying assumptions yielded a per share range of value for South Tulsa common stock of approximately $286.87 to $343.44 with a midpoint of $314.14 based on the earnings approach and $238.59 to $329.61 with a midpoint of $282.31 based on the book value approach.

Comparable Company Analysis. Using publicly available information, Hovde compared the stock market valuation and operating characteristics of Commerce on standalone basis with other Midwestern banks with assets between $5.0 billion and $25.0 billion (the Comparable Group). The Comparable Group consisted of the following 14 publicly traded institutions:

Company Name	Headquarters	Ticker
AMCORE Financial, Inc.	Rockford, IL	AMFI
Associated Banc-Corp.	Green Bay, WI	ASBC
Citizens Banking Corp.	Flint, MI	CBCF
Corus Bankshares, inc.	Chicago, IL	CORS

Sky Financial Group, Inc.	Bowling Green, OH	SKYF
TCF Financial Corp.	Wayzata, MN	TCB
UMB Financial Corp.	Kansas City, MO	UMBF
Wintrust Financial Corp.	Lake Forest, IL	WTFC

Indications of such financial performance and stock market valuation included the calculation of price-to-book value, price-to-tangible book value, price-to-2006 estimated GAAP earnings and price-to-2007 estimated GAAP earnings.

	Book Value (x)	Price to:
		Tangible Book Value (x)	2006 Estimated Earnings (x)	2007 Estimated Earnings (%)
Commerce	2.36	2.56	15.9	15.2
Comparable Group median	1.91	2.56	16.1	14.6

Based upon the foregoing analyses and other investigations and assumptions set forth in its opinion, without giving specific weightings to any one factor or comparison, Hovde determined that the merger consideration was fair from a financial point of view to the shareholders of South Tulsa.

Operations and Management After the Merger

At the Effective Time the separate corporate existence of South Tulsa will terminate as it merges with and into CBI-Kansas. The Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of CBI-Kansas as in effect immediately prior to the effective time will remain the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of CBI-Kansas from and after the effective time until amended as provided by law. The officers and directors of CBI-Kansas will remain the officers and directors of CBI-Kansas from and after the Effective Time. It is expected that existing management of the surviving corporation will be supplemented with personnel from Commerce who will assist in bringing new methods and systems to the surviving corporation which have been developed by Commerce. Commerce also expects to enhance the net interest margin and non-interest income of the surviving corporation by expanding the products and services offered. Commerce will also analyze the surviving corporation's operations for potential efficiencies and anticipates achieving operating cost savings through the proposed consolidation and the elimination of redundant costs. While there can be no assurances that operating cost savings will be realized or in what fiscal period the savings will actually be recorded, plans are currently being developed to realize operating cost savings. It is expected that the annualized level of operating cost savings achieved will be realized unevenly throughout the period of consolidation, with the majority of any savings realized in the latter part of the period. The extent to which the operating cost savings will be achieved depends, among other things, on the regulatory environment and economic conditions, and may be affected by unanticipated changes in business activities, inflation and operating costs.

Conditions to the Merger

The merger is conditioned on the fulfillment prior to the closing of certain conditions set forth in the Agreement and Plan of Merger, including, among other things, the following:

The approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger by the holders of a majority of all of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock;

The accuracy of representations of Commerce, CBI-Kansas and South Tulsa made in the Agreement and Plan of Merger and the performance of their respective obligations thereunder;

The absence of a material adverse event since December 4, 2006 affecting the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, rights or business of South Tulsa;

The absence of a material adverse event since December 4, 2006 affecting the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, rights or business of Commerce or CBI-Kansas;

The receipt by Commerce and South Tulsa of an opinion from Blackwell Sanders Peper Martin LLP relating to certain tax matters;

The receipt by Commerce of an opinion from McAfee & Taft, A Professional Corporation, as to certain corporate matters regarding South Tulsa;

The receipt by South Tulsa of an opinion from Blackwell Sanders Peper Martin LLP as to certain corporate matters regarding Commerce;

The receipt of necessary regulatory approvals;

A minimum amount of equity and minimum loan loss reserve of South Tulsa;

The delivery to Commerce of a letter by each person who is an affiliate (as defined in Rules 145 and 405 adopted under the Securities Act of 1933) of South Tulsa at the time the Agreement and Plan of Merger is submitted to approval of the shareholders of South Tulsa;

The removal of certain loans from the Bank's loan portfolio;

Dissenters' rights shall not have been exercised with respect to more than 10% of the outstanding shares of South Tulsa common stock on the Closing Date;

The absence of any temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other order or legal restraint that would prevent the consummation of the merger;

The cancellation of all outstanding unexercised options for South Tulsa common stock under South Tulsa's stock option plans; and

The execution of non-competition agreements between Commerce and certain directors and officers of South Tulsa.

Conduct of Business Pending the Merger

Pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, South Tulsa has agreed to carry on its business and cause the Bank and its other subsidiaries to carry on their respective businesses in the usual, regular and ordinary course in substantially the same manner as conducted prior to the execution of the Agreement and Plan of Merger. South Tulsa has agreed to certain limitations on its ability to engage in material transactions.

No Solicitation

The Agreement and Plan of Merger provides that unless and until the Agreement and Plan of Merger has been terminated, neither South Tulsa nor any of its subsidiaries will solicit or encourage or, subject to the fiduciary duties of their directors as advised by counsel, hold discussions or negotiations with, or provide information to, any person in connection with any proposal from any person relating to the acquisition of all or a substantial portion of the business, assets or stock of South Tulsa, the Bank, or any other subsidiary of South Tulsa. South Tulsa is required to promptly advise Commerce of its receipt of, and the substance of, any such proposal or inquiry.

Waiver and Amendment

Prior to or at the Effective Time, any provision of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, including, without limitation, the conditions to consummation of the merger, may be (i) waived, to the extent permitted under law, in writing by the party which is entitled to the benefits thereof; or (ii) amended at any time by written agreement of the parties, whether before or after approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger by the shareholders of South Tulsa; provided, however, that after any such approval, no such amendment shall alter the amount or change the form of the consideration or alter or change any of the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger if such alteration or change would adversely affect the holders of South Tulsa common stock or would legally require further approval of such holders. It is anticipated that a condition to consummate the merger would be waived only in those circumstances where the Board of Directors of Commerce, CBI-Kansas or South Tulsa, as the case may be, deems such waiver to be in the best interests of such company and its shareholders.

Termination of the Agreement and Plan of Merger

The Agreement and Plan of Merger and the merger may be terminated at any time prior to the closing date, provided that the terminating party is not then in material breach of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, by:

The mutual consent of Commerce, CBI-Kansas and South Tulsa;

Commerce, CBI-Kansas or South Tulsa if the merger has not been consummated by June 30, 2007 unless extended up to 60 days thereafter by Commerce or South Tulsa under certain circumstances;

Commerce, CBI-Kansas or South Tulsa if regulatory approval has been denied or the merger has been enjoined or if any regulator has issued an order with respect to the merger which imposes a non-customary restriction or condition on South Tulsa that would materially and adversely affect the Bank's operations;

Commerce or CBI-Kansas, on the one hand, or South Tulsa, on the other hand, if the other party has materially breached the Agreement and Plan of Merger and has not cured such breach within 45 days of notice of the breach;

Commerce or CBI-Kansas if the South Tulsa Board of Directors fails to recommend adoption of the Agreement and Plan of Merger by the South Tulsa shareholders or amends or modifies the recommendation in a manner materially adverse to Commerce or CBI-Kansas or withdraws such recommendation;

South Tulsa prior to the vote of the shareholders if South Tulsa desires to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to a superior proposal

Commerce, CBI-Kansas or South Tulsa if the South Tulsa shareholders do not approve the merger at a duly held meeting of the South Tulsa shareholders; or Commerce, or CBI-Kansas, on the one hand, or South Tulsa on the other hand, if there has been a material adverse change or event with respect to the other party's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects and such change or effect has not been cured within 45 days or the closing date, whichever is earlier.

Effect of Termination. If the Agreement and Plan of Merger is terminated, it will become void, and there will be no liability on the part of Commerce or South Tulsa, except that (1) both Commerce and South Tulsa will remain liable for any willful breach of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and (2) designated provisions of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, including the payment of fees and expenses, the confidential treatment of information and publicity restrictions, will survive the termination.

Termination Fee. If the Agreement and Plan of Merger is terminated because South Tulsa desires to enter into an acquisition agreement with another party that it considers to be a superior proposal, South Tulsa must pay Commerce a termination fee of $1.25 million (the Termination Fee). The Termination Fee is also payable if the Agreement and Plan of Merger is terminated and, within 12 months, South Tulsa enters into an agreement to be acquired by another party, if the Agreement and Plan of Merger was terminated because (i) the South Tulsa board of directors did not recommend approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger to the stockholders, (ii) the stockholders of South Tulsa failed to approve the Agreement and Plan of Merger, (iii) there was a voluntary breach of a material representation of warranty by South Tulsa or (iv) required regulatory approvals have not been obtained by June 30, 2007 or the relevant later date, as applicable.

Effective Time

It is presently anticipated that the Effective Time will occur in the second quarter of 2007, but no assurance can be given to that effect.

Federal Securities Laws Consequences and Resales of Commerce Stock by Affiliates

The shares of Commerce to be issued pursuant to the merger have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. The provisions of Rule 145 under the Securities Act allow such shares to be sold without restriction by shareholders of South Tulsa who are not deemed to be affiliates (as that term is defined in the rules under the Securities Act) of South Tulsa. An affiliate of South Tulsa is a person who directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, South Tulsa. These restrictions are expected to apply to the directors and executive officers of South Tulsa and the holders of 10% or more of the outstanding South Tulsa common stock. The same restrictions apply to the spouses and certain relatives of those persons and any trusts, estates, corporations or other entities in which those persons have a 10% or greater beneficial or equity interest. Shareholders not falling into the category of affiliate have no restrictions on when they may sell the Commerce stock received in the merger.

If you are considered an affiliate of South Tulsa or become an affiliate of Commerce after the merger, you may resell the shares of Commerce common stock acquired in connection with the merger only pursuant to an effective registration statement under the securities laws, pursuant to Rule 145 under the Securities Act of 1933, or in transactions otherwise exempt from registration under the securities laws. Under Rule 145, during the first calendar year after the merger becomes effective, affiliates of South Tulsa at the time of the special meeting who are not affiliates of Commerce at or following the effective time of the merger may publicly resell the Commerce common stock they receive in the merger but only within certain limitations as to the number of shares of Commerce common stock they can sell in any three-month period and as to the manner of sale. After the one-year period, affiliates of South Tulsa who are not affiliates of Commerce may resell their shares without restriction. Commerce must continue to satisfy its reporting requirements under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in order for affiliates to resell, under Rule 145, shares of Commerce common stock received in the merger. Commerce is not obligated and does not intend to register for resale the shares issued to affiliates of South Tulsa. Pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, each affiliate of South Tulsa has signed a written agreement to the effect that he will not offer or sell or otherwise dispose of any of the shares of Commerce common stock issued to him in the merger in violation of the Securities Act of 1933.

Rights of Dissenting Shareholders

Under Oklahoma law, the relevant provisions of which are attached to this document as Appendix D (Section 1091 of the OGCA), each South Tulsa shareholder who dissents from the merger and who complies with various procedural requirements of Section 1091 of the OGCA is entitled to appraisal rights, pursuant to which the shareholder will receive the fair value of his or her shares of South Tulsa common stock in cash, with accrued interest. Specifically, a South Tulsa shareholder may dissent from the merger, and CBI-Kansas, as the merger's surviving corporation, must pay to the shareholder, upon the surrender of certificates representing his or her shares, the fair value of the shares as of the day prior to South Tulsa's special meeting, with accrued interest. If CBI-Kansas and you cannot agree on the fair value of your shares, then the OGCA provides for a judicial determination of these amounts. The value as determined by an Oklahoma court may be more or less than the value you are entitled to under the Agreement and Plan of Merger. If you desire to dissent and exercise your appraisal rights, you should refer to the Section 1091 of the OGCA in its entirety and should consult with legal counsel prior to taking any action to ensure that you comply strictly with the applicable statutory provisions.

To dissent and exercise your appraisal rights, you must do all of the following:

deliver to South Tulsa a written demand for appraisal of your shares before the March 30, 2007 meeting of South Tulsa shareholders to vote on the merger; not vote in favor of the merger (note that a vote, in person or by proxy, against the merger will not satisfy the statutory requirements that you make a written demand for an appraisal of your shares); and continue to hold your shares of South Tulsa common stock through the Effective Time.

If you do not vote against the merger, it will not constitute a waiver of your appraisal rights under the OGCA if you make written demand for payment before the vote is taken at the March 30, 2007 shareholders' meeting. Conversely, voting against the merger will not, by itself, be sufficient to satisfy your obligations if you dissent and want to exercise your appraisal rights. You must follow the procedures set forth in Section 1091 of the OGCA to exercise your appraisal rights.

Each outstanding share of South Tulsa common stock as to which a legally sufficient demand in accordance with Section 1091 of the OGCA has been made and that did not vote in favor of approval of the merger retains all other rights of a shareholder until those rights are cancelled by consummation of the merger. However, after the Effective Time, no dissenting shareholder who has demanded appraisal rights shall be entitled to vote the stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends (except dividends payable to shareholders of records prior to the Effective Time).

Within 10 days after the effective date of the merger, CBI-Kansas will notify the dissenting shareholders who have complied with the provisions of Section 1091 that the merger has become effective. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, CBI-Kansas will send to such dissenting shareholders, upon written request, a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of the shares. The written statement will be mailed to the dissenting shareholders within 10 days after the written request is received by CBI-Kansas or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal, whichever is later.

Also within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, any dissenting shareholder who has complied with the provisions of Section 1091 or CBI-Kansas may file a petition in district court demanding a determination of the value of the stock of the dissenting shareholders; however, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger, each of the dissenting shareholders has the right to withdraw the shareholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered in the Agreement and Plan of Merger. The court shall provide notice to CBI-Kansas of any such petition filed by a shareholder, and upon receipt of that notice, CBI-Kansas shall provide to the court a list of all shareholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements regarding the value of their shares have not been reached by CBI-Kansas. After providing proper notice of the proceeding, the court will determine the shareholders who are entitled to appraisal rights and will direct CBI-Kansas to pay the fair value of the shares, together with interest, to the shareholders entitled to such payment. The court will determine the costs of the proceeding and may tax the parties as it deems appropriate. Upon request by a dissenting shareholder, the court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any shareholder, including attorneys' fees and expenses of experts, be charged pro rata against the value of all of the shares entitled to an appraisal.

The shares for which a dissenting shareholder has properly exercised appraisal rights and followed the required procedures in the OGCA will not be converted into, or represent, the right to receive Commerce common stock as provided under the Agreement and Plan of Merger. None of these shares will, after the Effective Time, be entitled to vote for any purpose or receive any dividends or other distributions. If, however, the holder of such shares fails to properly perfect, effectively withdraw, waive or lose, or otherwise become ineligible to exercise dissenting shareholder's rights of appraisal under the OGCA, then at that time shares held by you will be converted into Commerce common stock as provided in the Agreement and Plan of Merger.

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger

The regulatory approvals required to complete the transactions contemplated by the Agreement and Plan of Merger include approval from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Office of the Comptroller of Currency. Commerce will complete the filing of applications and notifications to obtain the required regulatory approvals.

Federal Reserve System. The merger is subject to approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to Section 3 of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System is prohibited from approving any transaction under the applicable statutes that (1) would result in a monopoly, (2) would be in furtherance of any combination or conspiracy to monopolize or to attempt to monopolize the business of banking in any part of the United States, or (3) may have the effect in any section of the United States of substantially lessening competition, tending to create a monopoly or resulting in a restraint of trade, unless the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System finds that the anti-competitive effects of the transaction are clearly outweighed in the public interest by the probable effect of the transaction in meeting the convenience and needs of the communities to be served. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System may not approve an interstate acquisition without regard to state law if the applicant controls, or after completion of the acquisition the combined entity would control, more than 10 percent of the total deposits of insured depository institutions in the United States.

In addition, in reviewing a transaction under the applicable statutes, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System will consider the financial and managerial resources of the companies and their subsidiary banks and the convenience and needs of the community to be served as well as the companies' effectiveness in combating money-laundering activities. In connection with its review, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System will provide an opportunity for public comment on the application for the merger, and is authorized to hold a public meeting or other proceeding if it determines that would be appropriate.

Under the Community Reinvestment Act of 1977, as amended (the "CRA"), the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System must take into account the record of performance of each of Commerce and South Tulsa in meeting the credit needs of the entire communities, including low- and moderate-income neighborhoods, served by the company and its subsidiaries. Each of Commerce's and South Tulsa's principal depository institution has received an outstanding CRA rating from the United States Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and its other depository institutions have received either an outstanding or satisfactory CRA rating.

Antitrust Considerations. At any time before or after the acquisition is completed, the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice or the United States Federal Trade Commission, which we refer to as the Antitrust Division and the FTC, respectively, could take action under the antitrust laws as it deems necessary or desirable in the public interest, including seeking to enjoin the acquisition or seeking divestiture of substantial assets of Commerce or South Tulsa or their subsidiaries. Private parties also may seek to take legal action under the antitrust laws under some circumstances. Based upon an examination of information available relating to the businesses in which the companies are engaged, Commerce and South Tulsa believe that the completion of the merger will not violate U.S. antitrust laws. However, Commerce and South Tulsa can give no assurance that a challenge to the merger on antitrust grounds will not be made, or, if such a challenge is made, that Commerce and South Tulsa will prevail.

In addition, the merger may be reviewed by the state attorneys general in the various states in which Commerce and South Tulsa operate. Although Commerce and South Tulsa believe there are substantial arguments to the contrary, these agencies may claim the authority, under the applicable state and federal antitrust laws and regulations, to investigate and/or disapprove the merger. There can be no assurance that one or more state attorneys general will not attempt to file an antitrust action to challenge the merger.

Timing. We cannot assure you that all of the regulatory approvals described above will be obtained, and, if obtained, we cannot assure you as to the date of any approvals or the absence of any litigation challenging such approvals. Likewise, we cannot assure you that the Antitrust Division, the FTC or any state attorney general will not attempt to challenge the merger on antitrust grounds, and, if such a challenge is made, we cannot assure you as to its results.

Pursuant to the Bank Holding Company Act, a transaction approved by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System may not be completed until 30 days after approval is received, during which time the Antitrust Division may challenge the merger on antitrust grounds. The commencement of an antitrust action would stay that is, suspend-the effectiveness of an approval unless a court specifically were to order otherwise. With the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the concurrence of the Antitrust Division, the waiting period may be reduced to no less than 15 days.

Commerce and South Tulsa believe that the merger does not raise substantial antitrust or other significant regulatory concerns and that they will be able to obtain all requisite regulatory approvals on a timely basis without the imposition of any condition that would have a material adverse effect on Commerce or South Tulsa.

We are not aware of any material governmental approvals or actions that are required for completion of the merger other than those described above. It is presently contemplated that if any such additional governmental approvals or actions are required, those approvals or actions will be sought. There can be no assurance, however, that any additional approvals or actions will be obtained.

Transactions Between Commerce and South Tulsa

No shares of South Tulsa common stock are presently owned by Commerce or by any of its subsidiaries or principals, or by trustees for the benefit of Commerce or any of its subsidiaries, shareholders or employees as a class or by an escrow arrangement instituted by Commerce.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

The following general discussion sets forth the anticipated material United States federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders (as defined below) of South Tulsa common stock that exchange their shares of South Tulsa common stock for shares of Commerce common stock in the merger. This discussion does not address any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or foreign jurisdiction, or under any United States federal laws other than those pertaining to income tax. This discussion is based upon the Code, the regulations promulgated under the Code and court and administrative rulings and decisions in effect on the date of this document. These laws may change, possibly retroactively, and any change could affect the continuing validity of this discussion.

This discussion addresses only those South Tulsa shareholders that hold their shares of South Tulsa common stock as capital assets within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code. Further, this discussion does not address all aspects of United States federal income taxation that may be relevant to you in light of your particular circumstances or that may be applicable to you if you are subject to special treatment under the United States federal income tax laws, including if you are:

a financial institution;

a tax-exempt organization;

- an S corporation or other pass-through entity (or an investor in an S corporation or other pass-through entity);
- an insurance company;
- a mutual fund;
- a dealer in stocks and securities, or foreign currencies;
- a trader in securities that elects the mark-to-market method of accounting for your securities;
- a holder of South Tulsa common stock subject to the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code;
- a holder of South Tulsa common stock that received South Tulsa common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option, through a tax qualified retirement plan or otherwise as compensation;
- a person that is not a U.S. holder (as defined below);
- a person that has a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar; or
- a holder of South Tulsa common stock that holds South Tulsa common stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale or conversion transaction.

Determining the actual tax consequences of the merger to you may be complex. They will depend on your specific situation and on factors that are not within our control. You should consult with your own tax advisor as to the tax consequences of the merger in your particular circumstances, including the applicability and effect of the alternative minimum tax and any state, local, foreign or other tax laws and of changes in those laws.

For purposes of this discussion, the term "U.S. holder" means a beneficial owner of South Tulsa common stock that is (i) an individual citizen or resident of the United States, (ii) a corporation or partnership organized in or under the laws of the United States or any state thereof or the District of Columbia, (iii) a trust, if a United States court can exercise primary supervision over it, and one or more United States persons have authority to control substantial decisions that affect it, or (iv) an estate subject to United States income tax on its worldwide income.

Tax Consequences of the Merger Generally

The parties intend for the merger to qualify as a reorganization for United States federal income tax purposes. The consummation of the merger is conditioned on the delivery, by Blackwell Sanders Peper Martin LLP, of an opinion to Commerce and to South Tulsa to the effect that (1) the merger will be a tax-free reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, and (2) no gain or loss will be recognized by the shareholders of South Tulsa to the extent they receive Commerce common stock in exchange for shares of South Tulsa common stock.

This opinion will be based on representation letters provided by Commerce and South Tulsa and on customary factual assumptions, all of which must continue to be true and accurate in all material respects as of the Effective Time. None of the opinions described above will be binding on the Internal Revenue Service. Commerce and South Tulsa have not sought and will not seek any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service regarding any matters relating to the merger, and as a result, there can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will not disagree with or challenge any of the conclusions described herein.

As a result of the merger qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, if you exchange your South Tulsa common stock exclusively for Commerce common stock, you will recognize no gain or loss.

Cash in Lieu of a Fractional Share

If you receive cash in lieu of a fractional share of Commerce common stock, you will be treated as having received the fractional share of Commerce common stock pursuant to the merger and then as having exchanged the fractional share of Commerce common stock for cash in a redemption by Commerce. As a result, assuming that the redemption of a fractional share of Commerce common stock is treated as a sale or exchange and not as a dividend, you generally will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the basis of the fractional share of Commerce common stock as set forth above. This gain or loss generally will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the merger, the holding period for the shares is greater than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Backup Withholding

If you are a non-corporate holder of South Tulsa common stock you may be subject to information reporting and backup withholding at a rate of 28% if the cash payment is $20 or more. You generally will not be subject to backup withholding, however, if you:

furnish a correct taxpayer identification number and certify that you are not subject to backup withholding on the substitute Form W-9 or successor form included in the election form/letter of transmittal you will receive; or are otherwise exempt from backup withholding.

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules will generally be allowed as a refund or credit against your United States federal income tax liability, provided you timely furnish the required information to the Internal Revenue Service.

Reporting Requirements

If you receive shares of Commerce common stock as a result of the merger, you will be required to retain records pertaining to the merger and you will be required to file with your United States federal income tax return for the year in which the merger takes place a statement setting forth certain facts relating to the merger.

THE FEDERAL INCOME TAX DISCUSSION SET FORTH ABOVE IS INCLUDED FOR GENERAL INFORMATION ONLY. EACH SOUTH TULSA SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CONSULT HIS OR HER OWN TAX ADVISOR AS TO THE SPECIFIC TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER TO HIM OR HER, INCLUDING THE APPLICATION AND EFFECT OF FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND OTHER TAX LAWS.

BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP OF SECURITIES

The following table sets forth certain information as of March 2, 2007, regarding the beneficial ownership of South Tulsa common stock by (a) the directors of South Tulsa, (b) the chief executive officer South Tulsa, (c) the four other most-highly compensated executive officers of South Tulsa or its subsidiary, Bank South, (d) any person (including any group) who is known to South Tulsa to be the beneficial owner of more than 5% of South Tulsa common stock; and (e) the directors and executive officers of South Tulsa or its subsidiary, Bank South, as a group.

Under the rules of the SEC, beneficial ownership includes voting or investment power that is sole or shared. Unless otherwise indicated in the footnotes, the percentage beneficial ownership for the following table is based upon 72,189 shares of South Tulsa common stock outstanding as of the record date. To South Tulsa's knowledge, unless indicated in the footnotes to this table, each person named in the table has sole voting and investment power with respect to all shares of stock attributed to him or her. The references to ownership are derived from South Tulsa's share transfer records. The business address of each person listed is 6130 East 81st Street, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74137.

FINANCIAL INTERESTS OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

Certain members of management of South Tulsa and the Bank, and their Boards of Directors, may have interests in the transaction in addition to their interests as shareholders of South Tulsa which are summarized below. The South Tulsa Board of Directors was aware of these factors and considered them, among other matters, in approving the Agreement and Plan of Merger.

Officer Agreements

As a condition to Commerce's willingness to enter into the Agreement and Plan of Merger, R. Carl Hudgins, Steven H. Austin and Bruce C. Humphrey, each of whom is an executive officer of South Tulsa and/or Bank South, entered into agreements with Commerce and South Tulsa that will become effective upon the consummation of the merger. These agreements are referred to in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as the Officers Agreements. Under the Officer Agreements, following consummation of the merger, each of the executives are expected to serve as an officer of Commerce or an affiliate and will receive a one-time stock award pursuant to the Commerce 2005 Equity Incentive Plan for restricted shares of Commerce common stock with a fair market value in the following amounts: R. Carl Hudgins $400,000, Steven H. Austin $300,000 and Bruce C. Humphrey $300,000. One-third of the restricted shares will vest each year beginning on the first anniversary date of the grant; provided that an executive will forfeit any unvested restricted shares in the event that the executive is terminated for Cause or the executive terminates his employment under circumstances not constituting Good Reason, each as defined in his respective Officer Agreement.

The Officer Agreements also provide that these executives are subject to certain non-compete, non-solicitation and confidentiality restrictions. Generally, the executives are subject to the non-compete and non-solicitation restrictions while employed by Commerce or an affiliate and for at least six months after the date on which employment is terminated; provided, the restriction period will not be less than three years in the event that the executive is terminated for Cause or the executive terminates his employment under circumstances not constituting Good Reason. The non-competition and non-solicitation restrictions do not apply to any period after the seventh anniversary of the Officer Agreements. In addition, after the third anniversary of the consummation of the merger, in order for the restrictions to apply in the six-month post-termination period, Commerce must continue to pay to the executive his base salary during that six-month period. If Commerce elects not to pay this amount, the non-competition and non-solicitation restrictions will expire.

The Officer Agreements are intended to replace agreements entered into by South Tulsa with Messrs. Hudgins, Austin and Humphrey in August 2006 in contemplation of the acquisition of South Tulsa. Those agreements provide for cash payments to Messrs. Hudgins, Austin and Humphrey in the same amounts specified in the Officer Agreements with the payments to be made on the first, second and third anniversaries of a change in control of South Tulsa. Although these agreements also included non-competition and non-solicitation restrictions, these restrictions did not extend after termination of each executive's employment. Upon consummation of the merger, those agreements are being terminated and replaced by the Officer Agreements.

Director Agreements

As a condition to Commerce's willingness to enter into the Agreement and Plan of Merger, the directors of South Tulsa and Bank South, each of whom is a shareholder of South Tulsa, entered into agreements with Commerce and South Tulsa that become effective upon the consummation of the merger. These agreements are referred to in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as the Director Agreements. Pursuant to the Director Agreements, following completion of the merger, each of the directors will serve, at the election of Commerce, as an advisory board member of Commerce's Tulsa banking operations and will receive compensation that Commerce pays to similarly situated advisory board members. In accordance with the Director Agreements, the directors are subject to certain non-compete, non-solicitation and confidentiality provisions for three years following the consummation of the merger.

Other Executive Agreements

In February 2007, Bank South, South Tulsa, Commerce, and M. Paige Miller, South Tulsa's Treasurer and Bank South's chief financial officer, entered into an agreement pursuant to which the following payments will be made, in addition to Ms. Miller's salary, at the following times: (i) $72,700 at the Effective Time; (ii) $72,700 on September 30, 2007; and (iii) $20,000 on January 15, 2008. A payment will be forfeited if certain events occur before that payment is due, including Ms. Miller's resignation without Good Reason.

The agreement with Ms. Miller replaces two previous agreements entered into by her with Bank South. The first of these agreements was entered into in May 2004, and provided for a lump sum cash payment to Ms. Miller under certain conditions in the event of a change in control of South Tulsa or Bank South. The second agreement was entered into in August 2006, and provided for a cash payment to Ms. Miller if she remained as an employee of Bank South for a six-month period following a change in control of South Tulsa or Bank South. However, under the terms of the August 2006 agreement, Bank South was not obligated to make the payment if it also became obligated to make the payment to Ms. Miller under the May 2004 agreement. Under the terms of the new agreement with Ms. Miller, the May 2004 agreement and the August 2006 agreement are terminated and replaced by her new agreement. If the merger is not consummated, Ms. Miller's new agreement will terminate and the May 2004 and August 2006 agreements are subject to reinstatement.

Accelerated Vesting of Stock Options

South Tulsa currently has outstanding stock options to purchase 7,970 shares of South Tulsa's common stock at a weighted exercise price of $131.41 per share. These options were granted under South Tulsa's Stock Option Plan which was adopted by South Tulsa in March 1998. No options have been awarded under this Plan by South Tulsa since July 2004.

Of these 7,970 options outstanding, all but 733 options were fully vested prior to approval by South Tulsa's Board of Directors, of the Agreement and Plan of Merger on November 20, 2006. At that meeting, and without conditioning the vesting upon the consummation of the merger, South Tulsa's Board of Directors elected to immediately vest these remaining options which are held by two employees of Bank South, one of which is M. Paige Miller, an executive officer of South Tulsa. At that time, the vesting of 333 stock options previously awarded to Ms. Miller was accelerated. Based upon the merger consideration to be paid under the Agreement and Plan of Merger, the estimated value of these 333 options, the vesting of which was accelerated by the Board, is $61,785.

Indemnification

The bylaws for South Tulsa provide for the indemnification of each officer and employee, of South Tulsa against any liabilities and expenses related to his or her capacity as a director, officer or employee of South Tulsa, subject to certain exceptions.

The Agreement and Plan of Merger provides that Commerce will indemnify the present directors, officers, employees and agents of South Tulsa and the Bank following the Effective Time against all damages in connection with any action arising out of actions or omissions occurring prior to the Effective Time to the fullest extent permitted under Missouri law. The Agreement and Plan of Merger further provides that CBI-Kansas will cause all persons covered under South Tulsa's directors' and officers' liability insurance at the Effective Time to be covered for a period of at least three years following the Effective Time by CBI-Kansas' directors' and officers' liability policy, or any equivalent substitute for that policy.

DIFFERENCES IN RIGHTS OF SHAREHOLDERS

General

South Tulsa is incorporated in the State of Oklahoma, while Commerce is incorporated in the State of Missouri. As a result of the merger, South Tulsa shareholders, whose rights are currently governed by the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation, as amended (the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation), Amended and Restated Bylaws (the South Tulsa Bylaws) and the OGCA, will, upon consummation of the merger, become Commerce shareholders. Following the merger, their rights will be governed by Missouri law (rather than Oklahoma law), and will also be governed by the Commerce Articles of Incorporation, as amended (the Commerce Articles of Incorporation) and Bylaws, as amended (the Commerce Bylaws). The material differences between the rights of South Tulsa s shareholders and Commerce s shareholders result from differences in the governing state law and the companies governing corporate documents.

The following summary is not intended to be an exhaustive description of the provisions discussed. It is qualified in its entirety by reference to the OGCA, the General and Business Corporation Law of Missouri (the MGBCL), the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation, the South Tulsa Bylaws, the Commerce Articles of Incorporation and Commerce Bylaws.

Authorized Capital Stock

South Tulsa is authorized under the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation to issue 100,000 shares of common stock, $1.00 par value per share.

Commerce is authorized under the Commerce Articles of Incorporation to issue 102,000,000 shares of capital stock, consisting of 100,000,000 common shares, $5.00 par value per share, and 2,000,000 preferred shares, $1.00 par value per share.

Dividends and Liquidation Preference

Pursuant to the OGCA and the Commerce Articles of Incorporation, holders of shares of South Tulsa common stock and Commerce common stock are entitled to dividends when and if declared by the Board of Directors of their respective corporations; upon liquidation, such holders are entitled to share pro rata in the assets of their respective corporations remaining after payments to creditors and any preferred shareholders.

Preemptive Rights

Under the OGCA, no shareholder of a corporation shall have any preemptive right to acquire additional shares of the corporation unless, and to the extent that, such right is expressly granted in the certificate of incorporation. The South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation does not include any provision regarding preemptive rights.

Under the MGBCL, the preemptive right of a shareholder to acquire additional shares of a corporation may be limited or denied to the extent provided in the articles of incorporation. The Commerce Articles of Incorporation provide that no holder of any of the shares of any class of stock shall have any preemptive rights.

Number of Directors

Under the OGCA, a corporation shall have a board of directors consisting of one or more members (who need not be shareholders unless required under the certificate of incorporation or bylaws), the number of which is to be fixed by the certificate of incorporation or bylaws. The South Tulsa Bylaws provide that the South Tulsa Board of Directors shall have not less than 5 nor more than 25 directors consisting of shareholders of South Tulsa or shareholders of any holding company of South Tulsa, the exact number of which is to be fixed by resolution of a majority of the South Tulsa Board of Directors or shareholders at any meeting thereof. Currently the South Tulsa Board of Directors consists of six directors.

Under the MGBCL, a corporation shall have a board of directors consisting of one or more members, the number of which shall be specified in the corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws. Under the Commerce

Bylaws, the Commerce Board of Directors consists of 12 directors; however, the Commerce Board of Directors has the authority to increase or decrease the number of directors, provide that the number of directors shall not fall below three. Currently, the Commerce Board of Directors consists of 12 directors.

Classification of Directors and Term

The OGCA permits classification of an Oklahoma corporation's board of directors into one, two or three classes, if the corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws so provide. Neither the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation nor the South Tulsa Bylaws provide for more than one class of directors. OGCA and the South Tulsa Bylaws provide that a shareholders' meeting shall be held each year to elect directors.

The MGBCL permits classification of a Missouri corporation's board of directors, with as equal of number in each class as possible, if the corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws so provide. The Commerce Articles of Incorporation and Commerce Bylaws provide for a staggered board of directors comprised of three classes as equal in size as possible. The MGBCL permits a corporation to elect each director to a term of between one and three years. The Commerce Articles of Incorporation and the Commerce Bylaws provide that directors are elected to a three year term.

Removal of Directors

The OGCA provides that one or more directors of a corporation may be removed, with or without cause, by a vote of the holders of a majority of the shares then entitled to vote at an election of directors, except in certain circumstances, including for corporations having cumulative voting, that no director may be removed without cause if the votes cast against such director's removal would be sufficient to elect that director if cumulatively voted at an election of the entire South Tulsa Board of Directors. Neither the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation nor the South Tulsa Bylaws provide any provision regarding the removal of directors.

The MGBCL provides that, unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, one or more directors of a corporation may be removed, with or without cause, by a vote of the holders of a majority of the shares then entitled to vote at an election of directors. The MGBCL also provides that any director may be removed for cause by action of a majority of the entire board of directors if the director, at the time of removal, fails to meet the qualifications stated in the articles of incorporation or bylaws for election as a director or is in breach of any agreement between such director and the corporation relating to such director's services as a director or employee of the corporation. The Commerce Articles of Incorporation provide that the entire Commerce Board of Directors may be removed only by a vote of 80% of the holders of the shares then entitled to vote generally in the election of directors, voting together as one class.

Director Vacancies

The OGCA and the MGBCL each provide that, unless otherwise provided in the corporation's certificate or articles of incorporation or bylaws, the board of directors can fill vacancies by a majority vote until the next election of directors by shareholders at regular or special meeting. The South Tulsa Bylaws provide that any vacancy shall be filled by a vote of a majority of the remaining South Tulsa Board of Directors, at any regular meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose, or by a majority of the shareholders, at a special meeting called for that purpose. The Commerce Bylaws provide that any vacancy or newly created directorship shall be filled by a vote of the majority of the Commerce Board of Directors.

Special Meetings of Directors

The South Tulsa Bylaws provide that special meetings of the South Tulsa Board of Directors may be called by South Tulsa or at the request of three or more of the members of the South Tulsa Board of Directors.

The MGBCL provides that special meetings of the board of directors shall be held upon such notice as prescribed by the bylaws. The Commerce Bylaws provide that special meetings of the Commerce Board of Directors shall be called by the Secretary of Commerce at the written request of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, President or a majority of the Commerce Board of Directors and that such request shall state the purpose of the proposed special meeting.

Indemnification; Limitation of Liability

Under the OGCA and the MGBCL, a corporation may indemnify any person made or threatened to be made a party to any legal proceeding (under the OGCA, other than, and under the MGBCL, including, any suit by or in the name of the corporation) by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation in any such capacity with respect to another enterprise, against expenses and other amounts reasonably incurred by him in connection with such legal proceeding if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interest of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The foregoing notwithstanding, no indemnification may be made in respect to any claim brought by or in the name of the corporation as to which such person is adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that a proper court determines that in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses that the court deems proper. A corporation is required to indemnify its directors or officers, and also under the MGBCL, its employees or agents, to the extent that such persons have been successful in defending an action, suit or proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein. These indemnification rights are not exclusive of any other rights to which the person seeking indemnification is entitled and do not limit a corporation's right to provide further indemnification.

The South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation and South Tulsa Bylaws provide rights of indemnification generally as set forth in the OGCA as described above, except that the right of indemnification in the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation is limited to directors. The Commerce Bylaws provide rights of indemnification generally as set forth in the MGBCL as described above, except that the right of indemnification is limited to directors and officers.

Insofar as indemnification of directors, officers or persons controlling Commerce for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted pursuant to the foregoing provisions, Commerce has been informed that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is therefore unenforceable.

Shareholder Voting

Cumulative voting. The OGCA provides for cumulative voting of directors if a corporation's certificate of incorporation so states. The South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation does not provide for cumulative voting; however, the South Tulsa Bylaws provide for cumulative voting at a special meeting of shareholders to fill vacancies of directors if the number of directors then in office is not sufficient to constitute a quorum.

The MGBCL provides for cumulative voting of directors; however, a corporation's articles of incorporation may limit or eliminate cumulative voting rights. The Commerce Bylaws provide that there shall be no cumulative voting by shareholders for the election of directors.

Quorum. The OGCA and the MGBCL each provide that, unless provided in the corporation's certificate or articles of incorporation or bylaws, a majority of votes of shares entitled to vote on a matter shall constitute a quorum. Under the OGCA, a quorum must be at least 1/3, and under the MGBCL, a quorum must be at least a majority. The South Tulsa Bylaws and the Commerce Bylaws each state that a majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy at a meeting of shareholders, constitutes a quorum at such meeting.

Majority voting. The OGCA and the MGBCL each provide that the affirmative vote of a majority of the holders of the shares represented at a meeting where a quorum is present shall constitute the act of the shareholders, unless a greater number or percent is required by the corporation's certificate or articles of incorporation, bylaws or by statute. The South Tulsa Bylaws and the Commerce Bylaws both contain provisions requiring majority voting on all matters except for those where otherwise specified in the company's certificate or articles of incorporation, bylaws or by statute.

Special voting. Special voting provisions apply in the case of a merger or change in control. See Shareholders Vote for Mergers on page 40 and Anti-takeover Statutes on page 41.

Special Meetings of Shareholders

Under the OGCA, a special meeting of shareholders may be called by the board of directors or by the person or persons that may be authorized in the certificate of incorporation or bylaws. The South Tulsa Bylaws provide that special meetings of shareholders may be called for any purpose at any time by the South Tulsa Board of Directors or by any three or more shareholders owning, in the aggregate, not less than 25% of the stock of South Tulsa. The South Tulsa Bylaws also provide that the shareholders (or the South Tulsa Board of Directors) may call a special meeting to amend the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation or the South Tulsa Bylaws, whether or not such bylaws may be amended by the South Tulsa Board of Directors in the absence of shareholder approval.

Under the MGBCL, a special meeting of shareholders may be called by the board of directors or by such other person or persons as may be authorized by the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. The Commerce Bylaws provide that special meetings of Commerce shareholders may be called only by the Chairman of the Commerce Board of Directors (or any Vice-Chairman or President in the Chairman's absence) or by a majority of the Commerce Board of Directors.

Shareholder Inspection

Under the OGCA, any shareholder shall have the right to examine, in person or by agent, during the usual hours of business, the corporation's stock ledger, list of shareholders and its other books and records (and the books and records of a subsidiary, to some extent), and to make copies and extracts therefrom, but only if for a proper purpose. In order to exercise this right, a shareholder must make written demand upon the corporation, under oath, stating the records sought to be examined and the purpose of the examination.

Under the MGBCL, any shareholder may at all proper times inspect the corporation's amount of assets and liabilities, minutes, officer information, stock ledger, shareholder list and other books and records as may be regulated by the corporation's bylaws. Missouri statutory law and Missouri case law, however, do not provide specific guidance as to whether a shareholder may appoint an agent for the purpose of examining books and records or the extent to which a shareholder must have a proper purpose.

Amendment of Articles of Incorporation

Under the OGCA, a corporation may amend its certificate of incorporation upon (i) a resolution of the board of directors (setting forth the proposed amendment, declaring its advisability and either calling a special meeting of shareholders entitled to vote or directing that the proposed amendment be considered at the next annual meeting of shareholders) and (ii) an affirmative vote of at least a majority of all of the outstanding shares entitled to vote on the amendment and a majority of the votes of the outstanding shares of each class entitled to vote as a class on the proposed amendment. The South Tulsa Bylaws provide that a special meeting may be called by the shareholders or the South Tulsa Board of Directors to amend the South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation.

Under the MGBCL, a corporation may amend its articles of incorporation upon a resolution of the board of directors, proposing the amendment and its submission to the shareholders for their approval by the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock entitled to vote thereon. The Commerce Articles of Incorporation provide that provisions of the Commerce Articles of Incorporation dealing with the number, term, and removal of directors, and certain business combinations may not be repealed or amended without the affirmative vote of holders of at least 75% of the outstanding shares of voting stock. The Commerce shareholders may otherwise amend, alter, change or repeal any provision of the Commerce Articles of Incorporation as provided by the MGBCL.

Amendment of Bylaws

Under the OGCA, the bylaws of a corporation may be adopted, amended or repealed by the board of directors. The South Tulsa Certificate of Incorporation and South Tulsa Bylaws provide that the South Tulsa Board of Directors may adopt, amend or repeal the South Tulsa Bylaws by a vote of a majority of the board of directors. The South Tulsa Bylaws further state that the shareholders may also amend or repeal the South Tulsa Bylaws. The South Tulsa Bylaws also allow the shareholders or the South Tulsa Board of Directors to call a special meeting to amend the South Tulsa Bylaws, whether or not such bylaws may be amended by the South Tulsa Board of Directors in the absence of shareholder approval.

Under the MGBCL, the bylaws of a corporation may be made, altered, amended or repealed by the shareholders, unless and to the extent that such power is vested in the board of directors by the articles of incorporation. The Commerce Articles of Incorporation and Commerce Bylaws authorize the Commerce Board of Directors to make, alter, amend or repeal the Commerce Bylaws, subject to the rights of shareholders at any regular or special meeting to alter or repeal bylaws made by the Commerce Board of Directors.

Notice of Shareholder Proposals; Nominations of Directors

The South Tulsa Bylaws provide that any shareholder who intends to nominate a director for election to the South Tulsa Board of Directors must deliver written notice of such nomination to the president of South Tulsa. Such notice must be delivered or mailed to the president not less than 14 nor more than 50 days prior to any meeting of shareholders called for the elections of directors. Such written notice must set forth (i) the name and address of each proposed nominee, (ii) the principal occupation of each proposed nominee, (iii) the total number of shares of capital stock of South Tulsa that will be voted for each proposed nominee, (iv) the name and residence address of the notifying shareholder, and (v) the number of shares of capital stock of South Tulsa owned by the notifying shareholder.

The Commerce Bylaws provide that any shareholder who intends to bring a matter before the annual meeting of shareholders must deliver written notice of such shareholder's intent to the Secretary of Commerce. Such notice must be received by the Secretary not less than 60 days nor more than 90 days in advance of such meeting. Such written notice must set forth (i) a brief description of the business to be brought before the meeting and the reasons for it, (ii) the name and address of the shareholder, (iii) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock of Commerce which are beneficially owned by the shareholder, (iv) any arrangement between such shareholder and any other person in connection with the proposal and any material interest of the shareholder in the proposed business described in the notice, and (v) a representation that such shareholder will appear in person or by proxy at the annual meeting. Such written notice with respect to nominations for the election of directors shall set forth (i) the name, age, business address and residential address of the nominee, (ii) the principal occupation or employment of the nominee, (iii) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock of Commerce which are beneficially owned by the nominee, and (iv) any other information about the nominee that is required by Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, to be disclosed in the proxy materials for the meeting involved as if he or she were a nominee of the corporation for election as one of its directors.

Shareholders' Vote for Mergers

Under the OGCA, an Oklahoma corporation must obtain the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote thereon to approve a merger or consolidation. Under the MGBCL, a Missouri corporation must obtain the affirmative vote of the holders of 2/3 of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote thereon to approve a merger or consolidation.

Neither the OGCA nor the MGBCL require a vote of a corporation's shareholders if such corporation is merged with and into a parent corporation that owns 90% or more of such corporation's stock.

Dissenters' Rights

Dissenters' rights, also known as appraisal rights, are rights afforded to shareholders who dissent from specific transactions.

The OGCA and the MGBCL each provide dissenters' rights to shareholders entitled to vote in mergers and consolidations. The dissenting shareholders, if they comply with the procedural requirements of the respective statutes, are entitled to elect not to participate in the subject transaction and to receive instead the fair value of their shares in cash.

Anti-takeover Statutes

The OGCA and the MGBCL each have statutes known as a business combination statute. These statutes restrict certain business combinations between a corporation in that state and an interested shareholder. For this purpose, a business combination means one of various types of transactions, including mergers, that increases the proportionate voting power of the interested shareholder. Under the OGCA, an interested shareholder means any person who owns or controls 15% or more of the outstanding shares of the corporation's voting stock. Under the MGBCL, an interested shareholder means any person who owns or controls twenty percent (20%) or more of the outstanding shares of the corporation's voting stock.

Under the OGCA, a corporation may not engage in a business combination with an interested shareholder for a period of three years following the time that the shareholder became an interested shareholder unless:

prior to such time the board of directors of the corporation approved either the business combination or the transaction which resulted in the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder;

upon consummation of the transaction which resulted in the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder, the interested shareholder owned at least 85% of the voting shares of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced (excluding voting shares owned by directors and officers and employee stock plans for purposes of determining the outstanding voting shares, but not the outstanding voting shares owned by the interested shareholder); or at or subsequent to such time the business combination is approved by the board of directors and authorized at a shareholder meeting by the affirmative vote of at least 2/3 of the outstanding voting stock not owned by the interested shareholder.

Under the MGBCL, a corporation may not engage in a business combination with an interested shareholder for a period of five (5) years following the time that the shareholder became an interested shareholder other than:

a business combination approved by the corporation's board of directors prior to the date on which the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder;

a business combination approved by the holders of a majority of the outstanding voting stock not owned by the interested shareholder at a meeting called no earlier than 5 years after the date on which the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder; or a business combination that satisfies certain fairness and procedural requirements.

Both the OGCA and the MGBCL provide that a corporation in that state may opt out of coverage by the business combination statute by including a provision to that effect in its governing corporate documents. Neither South Tulsa nor Commerce has done so.

Control Share Acquisition

The OGCA provides procedures for control share acquisitions; however, the statute does not apply to South Tulsa.

The MGBCL provides certain procedures for control share acquisitions to be followed unless the corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws provide that the statute does not apply. The Commerce Bylaws specifically provide that the provision in the MGBCL regarding control share acquisitions shall not apply to Commerce.

INFORMATION ABOUT SOUTH TULSA FINANCIAL CORPORATION

General

South Tulsa was incorporated in 1998 for the purpose of acquiring all of the outstanding capital stock of Bank South upon the issuance of a charter to Bank South's predecessor bank, Bank South, National Association, by the Comptroller of the Currency. That charter was issued in July, 1998. South Tulsa is a registered bank holding company under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended, and owns all of the capital stock of its subsidiary bank, Bank South. South Tulsa does not conduct any separate business operations other than its ownership of Bank South.

Bank Products and Services

Bank South is an Oklahoma state-chartered bank regulated and examined by the Oklahoma State Banking Department and the Federal Reserve. Originally, Bank South was organized as a national bank regulated by the Comptroller of the Currency. Following the issuance of its charter in July 1998, it operated under the name Bank South, National Association until May 2000, at which time it converted to a state-chartered institution operating under the name Bank South. References to Bank South in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus include, where applicable, its predecessor, Bank South, National Association.

Since it commenced business in July 1998, Bank South has conducted a general banking business embracing the customary functions of commercial banking, including commercial, industrial and consumer lending, safe deposit operations, and other services tailored to individual customer needs. It has specialized in serving the credit and deposit needs of professionals and executives, small to medium size businesses, and builders and developers. At September 30, 2006, Bank South had total assets of $124.2 million, total deposits of $100.7 million and total loans (net of allowance for loan losses of $849,000) of $106.4 million.

Bank South offers similar types of deposit accounts to those offered by other financial institutions. The categories of deposit accounts within the Bank's portfolio include non-interest bearing demand deposits, interest bearing demand deposits, savings and money market deposits, time deposits of less than $100,000 and time deposits of $100,000 and more.

Core deposits continue to be the Bank's most reliable and most important source of funds. Deposit products are offered to individuals, partnerships, corporations, public entities and not-for-profit organizations. Within each deposit category, customers have a variety of product options to choose from, each of which may have characteristics specifically suited to their needs. These product options may have variations in service fees, minimum balance requirements and interest rates. In the case of time deposits, Bank South offers a wide variety of products with varying maturity terms and rates. Bank South operates in a highly competitive market place for deposits and strives to price its deposit products accordingly. Bank South has no brokered deposits.

Market Served

Bank South's primary geographic market area consists of the Tulsa metropolitan area which is comprised of Tulsa County and portions of Okmulgee County to the south, Creek County to the west and Wagoner and Rogers Counties to the east. It maintains its main office and one full-service branch location in Tulsa. Its main office is located at 6130 E. 81st Street in a facility which is owned by the Bank. Its full-service branch facility was opened in April 2001, to serve the Bank's mid-town customers. It is located at 2054 Utica Square in the Utica Square Shopping Center.

South Tulsa believes that the area in which Bank South operates is experiencing growth in both commercial and residential populations. Its strategy has been to operate as a niche institution emphasizing relationship banking with professionals and executives, small to medium size businesses, and builders and developers located in its market areas. Its commitment is to provide a broad range of personalized products and services in order to meet the needs of its customers.

Competition

As of June 30, 2006, Bank South ranked 31st in total deposits within its market area, with .62% of the total deposits within the Tulsa metropolitan statistical area. Each activity in which Bank South is engaged involves competition with other banks, as well as with non-banking financial institutions and non-financial enterprises. In addition to competing with other commercial banks within and outside its primary service area, Bank South competes with other financial institutions such as savings and loan associations, credit unions, finance companies, mutual funds, insurance companies, brokerage and investment banking companies, and other financial intermediaries. Most of these competitors have substantially greater resources and lending limits, and may offer certain services that Bank South does not currently provide. In addition, many of Bank South's non-bank competitors are not subject to the same extensive federal regulations that govern federally-insured banks.

Employees

As of December 31, 2006, Bank South had 24 full-time equivalent employees. South Tulsa does not have any separate employees and utilizes the employees of Bank South.

Legal Proceedings

South Tulsa is not currently involved in any litigation. From time to time, Bank South is involved in litigation as part of the normal conduct of its business. However, Bank South is not currently involved in any litigation that management believes, either individually or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition or results of operations of either South Tulsa or Bank South.

South Tulsa

There is no established public trading market for South Tulsa common stock, and no market for South Tulsa common stock is expected to develop if the merger does not occur. As of March 1, 2007, there were 110 holders of record of South Tulsa common stock.

During the period commencing January 1, 2005 through March 1, 2007, South Tulsa is aware of only one transaction involving its common stock. That transaction occurred in April 2005, when a South Tulsa shareholder sold a total of 1,200 shares of South Tulsa common stock in two separate transactions at a sales price of $141.00 per share.

The shareholders of South Tulsa's common stock are entitled to dividends when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, subject to the restrictions imposed by law. However, South Tulsa has not paid any dividends to its shareholders since it was organized. There are no contractual restrictions that currently limit South Tulsa's ability to pay dividends.

The Federal Reserve Board generally prohibits a bank holding company from declaring or paying a cash dividend that would impose undue pressure on the capital of subsidiary banks or would be funded only through borrowing or other arrangements that might adversely affect a bank holding company's financial position. The Federal Reserve Board's policy is that a bank holding company should not initiate or continue cash dividends on its common stock unless its net income is sufficient to fully fund each dividend and its prospective rate of earnings retention appears consistent with its capital needs, asset quality and overall financial condition. A bank holding company is expected to act as a source of financial strength for each of its subsidiary banks and to commit resources to support its banks in circumstances when it might not do so in the absence of such policy.

LEGAL OPINION

The legality of the Commerce common stock offered hereby will be passed upon by Blackwell Sanders Peper Martin LLP. Blackwell Sanders Peper Martin LLP will also render an opinion to Commerce and South Tulsa regarding the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger.

ARTICLE I

1.5 Further Assurances. If at any time after the Effective Time, Sub shall consider it advisable that any further conveyances, agreements, documents, instruments or assurances of law or any other actions or things are necessary or desirable to vest, perfect, confirm, or record in Sub the title to any property, rights, privileges, powers, or franchises of Company, the Board of Directors and officers of Sub shall, and will be authorized to, execute and deliver in the name and on behalf of Company or otherwise, any and all proper conveyances, agreements, documents, instruments, and assurances of law and do all things necessary or proper to vest, perfect, or confirm title to such property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises in Sub, and otherwise to carry out the provisions of this Agreement.

Company agrees to cooperate with Commerce and Sub and take all reasonable steps in order to effectuate the Bank Merger. All out of pocket expenses incurred by Company and Bank in consummating the Bank Merger, shall be paid by Sub.

1.7 Tax Consequences. It is intended that the Merger shall constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the Code) and that this Agreement shall constitute a plan of reorganization for the purposes of Section 368(a) of the Code.

(h) Litigation. There are no actions, suits, claims, demands or other proceedings or investigations (either judicial or administrative) pending or, to the knowledge of Commerce, threatened against or affecting the properties, assets, rights or business of Commerce or its subsidiaries or the right to carry on or conduct their respective businesses, nor are there any grounds therefor, which would in the aggregate materially and adversely affect the business, operations, properties or financial condition of Commerce and its subsidiaries or which will or could prevent or materially impair the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(i) Taxes. Commerce and its subsidiaries have filed with the appropriate governmental agencies all federal, state and local Tax and information returns and Tax Returns due in respect of any of their business or properties in a timely

(j) Defaults. Neither Commerce nor any of its subsidiaries is in material breach or material default under any agreement or commitment to which Commerce or any of its subsidiaries is a party, or under any loan agreement, note, security agreement, guarantee or other document pursuant to or in connection with Commerce or any of its subsidiaries' extension of credit; and there has not occurred any event which, after the giving of notice, the lapse of time or otherwise, would constitute any such default under, or result in any such breach of, any such agreement, commitment or extension of credit.

(k) Information Supplied. None of the information supplied or to be supplied by Commerce and Sub for inclusion or incorporation by reference in (a) the Registration Statement (as defined in Section 5.1(a)) will, at the time the Registration Statement is filed with the SEC and at the time it becomes effective under the Securities Act, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, or (b) the Proxy Statement (as defined in Section 5.1(a)) will, at the date of mailing to stockholders and at the times of the meetings of stockholders to be held in connection with the Merger, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, other than information supplied by Company.

(l) Welfare Benefit Plans. No group health or dental plan maintained by Commerce contains a pre-existing condition exclusion.

4.2 Cooperation With Commerce.

(a) Between the date hereof and the Closing Date and upon reasonable notice, Commerce and its authorized representatives shall be permitted full access during regular business hours to all properties, books, records, contracts and documents of Company and its Subsidiaries, reasonably requested by Commerce. Company shall furnish to Commerce and its authorized representatives all information with respect to the affairs of Company and its Subsidiaries as Commerce may reasonably request. During such period, Company shall (and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to) make available to Commerce and Sub and their representatives and advisors, as reasonably requested, a copy of each report, schedule, registration statement and other document filed or received by Company during such period pursuant to the requirements of Federal securities laws or Federal or state banking laws (other than reports or documents which such party is not permitted to disclose under applicable law or reports or documents which are subject to an attorney-client privilege or which constitute attorney work product). Commerce and Sub will hold any such information with respect to Company and its Subsidiaries which is nonpublic in confidence to the extent required by, and in accordance with, the provisions of the letter dated August 7, 2006 between Company and Commerce (the Confidentiality Agreement). No investigation by Commerce or Sub shall affect the representations and warranties of Company.

(b) Company and its Subsidiaries shall, unless the Board of Directors of Company determines, in good faith, that the exercise of its fiduciary duties to Company's shareholders under applicable law, as advised by outside counsel, prohibits the taking of such action (i) allow a representative of Commerce to attend as an observer all meetings of the Boards of Directors of Company and Subsidiaries and all meetings of the committees of each such board, including, without limitation, the audit and executive committees thereof and any other meeting of Company and its Subsidiaries officials at which policy is being made; provided, that representatives of Commerce shall not be permitted to attend any portion of any meeting at which officers or directors of the Company or any Subsidiary discuss this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby; (ii) Company and its Subsidiaries shall give reasonable notice to Commerce of any such meeting and, if known, the agenda for business to be discussed at such meeting; and (iii) Company and its Subsidiaries shall provide to Commerce all information provided to the directors on all such boards and committees in connection with all such meetings or otherwise provided to the directors and shall provide any other financial reports or other analyses prepared for senior management of the Company or its Subsidiaries. All such information provided to Commerce or discussed at any of the meetings described herein at which a Commerce observer is present shall be maintained as confidential information in accordance with the Confidentiality Agreement.

(c) Company shall cooperate with Commerce in taking those planning actions necessary to be in a position to convert its data processing procedures and formats to procedures and formats used by Commerce as of the Effective Time. Commerce shall provide such assistance and consultation as Company may reasonably require in such planning process.

4.3 Covenants of Commerce and Sub.

(a) Regulatory Approvals. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Commerce and Sub agree to use their reasonable best efforts to secure as expeditiously as practicable all the necessary approvals, regulatory or otherwise, needed to consummate the transactions contemplated herein. (c) Tax-Free Reorganization Treatment. Neither Commerce nor Sub shall intentionally take or cause to be taken any action, whether before or after the Effective Time, which would disqualify the Merger as a tax-free reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

A-21

ARTICLE V

ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS

5.1 Regulatory Matters.

(a) Registration Statement and Proxy Statement. Commerce shall as soon as practicable prepare and file a registration statement on Form S-4 to be filed with the SEC pursuant to the Securities Act for the purpose of registering the shares of Commerce Common Stock to be issued in the Merger (the Registration Statement). Company, Commerce and Sub shall each provide promptly to the other such information concerning their respective businesses, financial conditions, and affairs as may be required or appropriate for inclusion in the Registration Statement or the proxy statement for the special stockholders meeting of Company to be called for the purpose of considering and voting on the Merger (the Proxy Statement). Company, Commerce and Sub shall each cause their counsel and auditors to cooperate with the other s counsel and auditors in the preparation and filing of the Registration Statement and the Proxy Statement. Commerce shall not include in the Registration Statement any information concerning Company to which Company shall reasonably and timely object in writing. Commerce, Sub and Company shall use their reasonable best efforts to have the Registration Statement declared effective under the Securities Act as soon as may be practicable and thereafter Company shall distribute the Proxy Statement to its stockholders in accordance with applicable laws not fewer than 20 business days prior to the date on which this Agreement is to be submitted to its stockholders for voting thereon. If necessary, in light of developments occurring subsequent to the distribution of the Proxy Statement to Company or stockholders, Company shall mail or otherwise furnish to its shareholders such amendments or supplements to the Proxy Statement materials as may, in the reasonable opinion of Commerce, Sub, or Company, be necessary so that the Proxy Statement materials, as so amended or supplemented, will contain no untrue statement of any material fact and will not omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or as may be necessary to comply with applicable law. Commerce and Sub shall not be required to maintain the effectiveness of the Registration Statement after delivery of the Commerce Common Stock issued pursuant hereto for the purpose of resale of Commerce Common Stock by any person. For a period of at least two years from the date of the conversion of shares described in Section 2.2 hereof, Commerce shall make available adequate current public information within the meaning of and as required by paragraph (c) of Rule 144 adopted pursuant to the Securities Act.

(b) State Securities Laws. The parties hereto shall cooperate in making any filings required under the securities laws of any state in order either to qualify or register the Commerce Common Stock so it may be offered and sold lawfully in such state in connection with the Merger or to obtain an exemption from such qualification or registration.

(c) Affiliates. Certificates representing shares of Commerce Common Stock issued to affiliates (as defined in Rules 145 and 405 adopted under the Securities Act) of Company pursuant to this Agreement will be subject to stop transfer orders (as reasonably required in connection with Rule 145) and will bear a restrictive legend set out in Exhibit 5.1(c); provided, however, that following receipt of an opinion of counsel reasonably satisfactory to Commerce that a proposed sale, pledge, transfer or other disposition of a specified number of shares of Commerce Common Stock by an affiliate will comply with or will be exempt from the Securities Act, Commerce shall, as promptly as practicable after receipt of the stock certificates representing such affiliate s Commerce Common Stock (and in any event within seven (7) business days after such receipt), direct the Transfer Agent for the Commerce Common Stock to remove the stop transfer order related thereto and reissue a stock certificate evidencing such shares to the affiliate without such restrictive legend.

(d) Indemnification. Commerce agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Company and its directors, officers, employees, representatives and agents from and against any and all claims, liabilities, damages and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), whether arising under federal or state securities or Blue Sky laws or otherwise, which may be asserted against any of them and which arise as a result of any alleged act or failure to act, or any alleged statement or omission, of Commerce done or made in connection with the Merger, Registration Statement, Proxy Statement, or any other statement or form filed or required to be filed with the SEC or any state securities department or delivered or required to be delivered to the holders of Company Common Stock.

(e) Governmental Entity Communications. Commerce, Sub and Company shall promptly advise each other upon receiving any communication from any Governmental Entity whose consent or approval is required for consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement which causes such party to believe that there is a reasonable likelihood that any Requisite Regulatory Approval (as defined in Section 6.1(b)) will not be obtained or that the receipt of any such approval will be materially delayed.

5.2 Shareholders Meetings.

(a) Company shall call a meeting of its shareholders for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of this Agreement. Company will, through its Board of Directors, recommend to its shareholders adoption of this Agreement unless the Board of Directors of Company determines in good faith, based upon the written advice of outside counsel, that making such recommendation, or failing to withdraw, modify or amend any previously made recommendation, would constitute a breach of fiduciary duty by Company's Board of Directors under applicable law. In addition, nothing in this Section 5.2 or elsewhere in this Agreement shall prohibit accurate disclosure by Company of information that is required to be disclosed in the Proxy Statement, or otherwise required to be disclosed by applicable law or regulation or the rules of any securities exchange or automated quotation system on which the securities of Company may then be traded.

(b) Company shall use all commercially reasonable efforts to cause such meeting of its shareholders to take place as soon as is reasonably practicable after the Registration Statement is declared effective by the SEC.

(c) Except as set forth herein, neither the Board of Directors of Company nor any committee thereof shall withdraw or modify, or propose to withdraw or modify, in a manner adverse to Commerce or Sub, the approval or recommendation by the Board of Directors of Company or any such committee of this Agreement or the Merger. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board of Directors of Company, to the extent required by its fiduciary obligations, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of Company based on advice of independent counsel, may (subject to the following sentences), withdraw or modify its approval or recommendation of this Agreement or the Merger, approve or recommend any Superior Proposal (as defined herein), enter into an agreement with respect to such Superior Proposal or terminate this Agreement, in each case at any time after the receipt by Commerce or Sub of a written notice advising Commerce or Sub that the Board of Directors of Company has received a Superior Proposal, specifying the material terms and conditions of such Superior Proposal.

5.3 Acquisition Proposals. Company and each Subsidiary shall not, directly or indirectly, and shall instruct and otherwise use its best efforts to cause their respective officers, directors, employees, agents or advisors or other representatives or consultants not to directly or indirectly, solicit or initiate any proposals or offers relating to any Acquisition Proposal (as defined below). Company shall, unless the Board of Directors of Company determines, in good faith, that the exercise of its fiduciary duties to Company shareholders under applicable law, as advised by outside counsel, prohibits the taking of such action, promptly advise Commerce orally and in writing of any request for information relating to, or of any, Acquisition Proposal, or any inquiry with respect to or which could lead to any Acquisition Proposal, the material terms and conditions of such request, Acquisition Proposal or inquiry and the identity of the Person making any such request, Acquisition Proposal or inquiry. Company shall, unless the Board of Directors of Company determines, in good faith, that the exercise of its fiduciary duties to Company shareholders under applicable law, as advised by outside counsel, prohibits the taking of such action, keep Commerce fully informed of the status and details (including amendments or proposed amendments) of any such request, Acquisition Proposal or inquiry. For purposes hereof, Superior Proposal shall mean any bona fide written Acquisition Proposal by a third party on terms determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of Company to be reasonably capable of being completed, taking into account all legal, financial, regulatory and other aspects of the proposal and the Person making the proposal and, if consummated to be more favorable to the shareholders of Company from a financial point of view than the Merger. For purposes hereof, Acquisition Proposal shall mean any inquiry, proposal or offer to acquire in any manner 15% or more of any class of equity securities of, or a merger, consolidation, business combination, sale, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or other disposition or similar transaction involving 15% or more of the assets of, Company or any Significant Subsidiary of Company, or any tender offer or exchange offer that if consummated would result in any person beneficially owning 15% or more of any class of equity securities of Company or any Significant Subsidiary of Company (other than pursuant to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement). A Significant Subsidiary means any Subsidiary of a person that would constitute a Significant Subsidiary of such person within the meaning of Rule 1-02 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC.

5.4 Legal Conditions. Each of Company, Commerce and Sub shall, and shall cause its respective Subsidiaries to, use all reasonable efforts (i) to take, or cause to be taken, all actions necessary to comply promptly with all legal requirements which may be imposed on such party or its Subsidiaries with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and as promptly as practicable, and (ii) to obtain (and to cooperate with the other party to obtain) any consent, authorization, order or approval of, or any exemption by, any Governmental Entity and or any other public or private third party which is required to be obtained or made by such party or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Each of Company, Commerce and Sub will promptly cooperate with and furnish information to the other in connection with any such burden suffered by, or requirement imposed upon, any of them or any of their Subsidiaries in connection with the foregoing.

(a) Each of Company, Commerce and Sub agrees to use all reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary and proper or advisable to consummate, as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, the transactions contemplated hereby, including, without limitation, using all reasonable best efforts to (i) lift or rescind any injunction or restraining order or other order adversely affecting the ability of the parties to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby, (ii) defend any Litigation seeking to enjoin, prevent or delay the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or seeking material damages, (iii) provide to counsel to the other party hereto representations and certifications as to such matters as such counsel may reasonably request in order to render the opinion referred to in Section 6.2(j).

5.5 Plan Termination. Company's 401(k) Plan shall be terminated by Company pursuant to the appropriate corporate action undertaken prior to the Effective Date, which termination shall be contingent upon receipt of a determination from the Internal Revenue Service that such termination does not adversely affect the qualified status of the Plan. If a favorable Internal Revenue Service determination letter is received, then the 401(k) Plan accounts shall be distributed pursuant to the Plan.

5.6 Additional Agreements. In case at any time after the Effective Time any further action is necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this Agreement, the proper officers and directors of each party to this Agreement shall take all such necessary action.

5.7 Fees and Expenses. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties in writing or as otherwise provided herein, each party hereto shall bear and pay all costs and expenses incurred by it incident to preparing, entering into and carrying out this Agreement and to consummating the Merger, including fees and expenses of its own financial advisors, accountants and counsel, all printing, filing, mailing and other incidental fees. Commerce will bear and pay all costs and expenses related thereto associated with the Registration Statement and the Proxy Statement.

5.8 Cooperation. During the period from the date of this Agreement to the Effective Time, each of Company, Commerce and Sub shall, (i) confer on a regular and frequent basis with the other, report on operational matters, policies and banking practices and promptly advise the other orally and in writing of any change or event having, or which, insofar as can reasonably be foreseen, could have, a Material Adverse Effect on Company or Commerce or Sub, as the case may be, or which would cause or constitute a material breach of any of the representations, warranties or covenants of such party contained herein, (ii) cause each Subsidiary of Company and Commerce and Sub that is a bank to file all call reports with the appropriate Bank Regulators and all other reports, applications and other documents required to be filed with the applicable Governmental Entities between the date hereof and the Effective Time and (iii) coordinate with the other the declaration of any dividends in respect of Commerce Common Stock and Company Common Stock and the record dates and payment dates relating thereto, it being the intention of the parties hereto that holders of Commerce Common Stock or Company Common Stock shall not receive two dividends, or fail to receive one dividend, for any single calendar quarter with respect to their shares of Commerce Common Stock and/or Company Common Stock and any shares of Commerce Common Stock any such holder receives in exchange therefor in the Merger.

5.9 Advice of Changes. Commerce, Sub and Company shall promptly advise the other party of any change or event which, individually or in the aggregate with other such changes or events, has a Material Adverse

Effect on it or which it believes would or would be reasonably likely to cause or constitute a material breach of any of its representations, warranties or covenants contained herein.

5.10 Dissenters Rights. Company shall include in the notice of shareholder s meeting required by Section 5.2 hereof a description of appraisal rights as contained in Section 1091 of the OGCA.

5.11 Indemnification; Directors and Officers Insurance.

(a) Commerce shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the present directors, officers, employees, and agents of Company and its Subsidiaries (each, an Indemnified Party) after the Effective Time against all damages in connection with any action arising out of actions or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time (including the transactions contemplated by this Agreement) to the full extent permitted under Missouri Law.

(b) With respect to all persons who are currently covered by Company s directors and officers liability insurance, or will become covered by such insurance prior to the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation shall maintain in effect for a period of not less than three years following the Effective Time directors and officers liability insurance in an amount not less than the current coverage with respect to matters occurring prior to the Effective Time; provided, that in no event shall the Surviving Corporation be required to expend under this Section 5.11(b) more than an aggregate of 150% of the current annual premium expended by Company to provide such coverage (the Maximum Premium Amount). In the event the Surviving Corporation would be required to expend more than the Maximum Premium Amount to provide such coverage, it shall maintain under this Section 5.11(b) the greatest amount of such insurance which it can obtain for the Maximum Premium Amount.

5.12 Certain Financial Statement Adjustments. The Company agrees to make such pre-closing adjustments to its stub financial statements as shall be reasonably requested by Commerce (the Requested Adjustments); provided that such Requested Adjustments shall not be required to be made more than three (3) Business Days prior to the Closing, the Company shall not be required to make any Requested Adjustments which are not consistent with GAAP and such Requested Adjustments shall not be taken into account in the calculation of the Company s stockholders equity or in the calculation of the Company s loan loss reserve referenced in Section 6.2(f). In the event that this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 7.1 and Company is not able to reverse such Requested Adjustments, Commerce agrees to reimburse Company for any loss or expense incurred as a result of such Requested Adjustments. No action taken by the Company pursuant to the provisions of this Section 5.12 shall constitute an acknowledgment by the Company or create any implication, for any purpose, that such action was necessary for any purpose other than to comply with the provisions of this Section 5.12.

ARTICLE VI

(d) Registration Statement. The Registration Statement shall become effective under the Securities Act, no stop orders suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall have been issued and no proceedings for that purpose shall have been initiated or threatened by the SEC.

6.2 Conditions to Obligations of Commerce and Sub. The obligation of Commerce and Sub to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions unless waived by Commerce and Sub:

(a) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of Company set forth in this Agreement shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and (except to the extent such representations and warranties speak as of an earlier date) as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date, and Commerce and Sub shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of Company by its Chief Executive Officer to such effect.

(d) The Company acknowledges that the agreements contained in this Section 7.5 are an integral part of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and that, without these agreements, the Company would not enter into this Agreement; accordingly, if the Company fails to pay in a timely manner the amounts due pursuant to this Section 7.5 and, in order to obtain such payment, Commerce makes a claim that results in a judgment against the Company for the amounts set forth in this Section 7.5, the Company shall pay to Commerce, in addition to the amount of such judgment, Commerce's reasonable costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) in connection with such suit, together with interest on the amounts set forth in this Section 7.5 at The Wall Street Journal prime rate in effect on the date such payment was required to be made. Whenever the words include, includes or including are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words without limitation. The phrase made available in this Agreement shall mean that the information referred to has been made available if requested by the party to whom such information is to be made available.

8.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when two or more counterparts have been signed by each of the parties and delivered to the other parties, it being understood that all parties need not sign the same counterpart.

Any term or provision of this Agreement which is invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to that jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such invalidity or unenforceability and, unless the effect of such invalidity or unenforceability would prevent the parties from realizing the major portion of the economic benefits of the Merger that they currently anticipate obtaining there from, shall not render invalid or unenforceable the remaining terms and provisions of this Agreement or affect the validity or enforceability of any of the terms or provisions of this Agreement in any other jurisdiction. If any provision of this Agreement is so broad as to be unenforceable, the provision shall be interpreted to be only so broad as is enforceable.

8.8 Assignment. EXHIBIT 5.1(c)

FORM OF AFFILIATE LETTER

Commerce Bancshares, Inc.
1000 Walnut
Kansas City, Missouri 64106

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have been advised that as of the date hereof I may be deemed to be an affiliate of South Tulsa Financial Corporation, an Oklahoma corporation (South Tulsa), as the term affiliate is defined for purposes of paragraphs (c) and (d) of Rule 145 of the rules and regulations (the Rules and Regulation) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the Commission) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Act). I have been further advised that pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger dated as of , 2006 (the Merger Agreement), by and between Commerce Bancshares, Inc., a Missouri corporation (Commerce), CBI-Kansas, Inc., a Kansas corporation (CBI), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Commerce, and South Tulsa, South Tulsa shall be merged with and into CBI (the Merger). All terms used in this letter but not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Merger Agreement.

I represent, warrant and covenant to Commerce and CBI as follows:

(a) I shall not make any sale, transfer or other disposition of Commerce Common Stock in violation of the Act or the Rules and Regulations.

(b) I have carefully read this letter and the Merger Agreement and discussed its requirements and other applicable limitations upon my ability to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of Commerce Common Stock to the extent I believed necessary with my counsel or counsel for South Tulsa.

(c) I have been advised that the issuance of Commerce Common Stock to me pursuant to the Merger will be registered with the Commission under the Act on a Registration Statement on Form S-4. However, I have also been advised that, since at the time the Merger will be submitted for a vote of the stockholders of South Tulsa I may be deemed to have been an affiliate of South Tulsa and the distribution by me of Commerce Common Stock has not been registered under the Act, I may not sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of Commerce Common Stock issued to me in the Merger unless (i) such sale, transfer or other disposition has been registered under the Act, (ii) such sale, transfer or other disposition is made in conformity with the volume and other limitations of Rule 145 promulgated by the Commission under the Act, or (iii) in the opinion of counsel reasonably acceptable to Commerce, such sale, transfer or other disposition is otherwise exempt from registration under the Act.

(d) I understand that Commerce is under no obligation to register the sale, transfer or other disposition of Commerce Common Stock by me or on my behalf under the Act or to take any other action necessary in order to make compliance with an exemption from such registration available.

(e) I also understand that stop transfer instructions will be given to Commerce s transfer agent with respect to Commerce Common Stock and that there will be placed on the certificates for Commerce Common Stock issued to me, or any substitutions therefor, a legend stating in substance:

The securities represented by this certificate have been issued in a transaction to which Rule 145 promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 applies and may only be sold or otherwise transferred in compliance with the requirements of Rule 145 or pursuant to a registration statement under said act or an exemption from such registration.

(f) I also understand that unless the transfer by me of my Commerce Common Stock has been registered under the Act or is a sale made in conformity with the provisions of Rule 145, Commerce reserves the right to put the following legend on the certificates issued to my transferee:

The shares represented by this certificate have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and were acquired from a person who received such shares in a transaction to which Rule 145 promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 applies. The shares have been acquired by the holder not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any distribution thereof within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 and may not be sold, pledged or otherwise transferred except in accordance with an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933.

It is understood and agreed that the legends set forth above shall be removed by delivery of substitute certificates without such legend, and/or the issuance of a letter to Commerce's transfer agent removing such stop transfer instructions, and the above restrictions on sale will cease to apply, if (A) one year (or such other period as may be required by Rule 145(d)(2) under the Securities Act or any successor thereto) shall have elapsed from the Closing Date and the provisions of such Rule are then available to me; or (B) if two years (or such other period as may be required by Rule 145(d)(3) under the Securities Act or any successor thereto) shall have elapsed from the Effective Date and the provisions of such Rule are then available to me; or (C) I shall have delivered to Commerce (i) a copy of a letter from the staff of the Commission, or an opinion of counsel in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Commerce, or other evidence reasonably satisfactory to Commerce, to the effect that such legend and/or stop transfer instructions are not required for purposes of the Securities Act or (ii) reasonably satisfactory evidence or representations that the securities represented by such certificates are being or have been transferred in a transaction made in conformity with the provisions of Rule 145 under the Securities Act or pursuant to an effective registration under the Securities Act.

I recognize and agree that the foregoing provisions also apply to (i) my spouse, (ii) any relative of mine or my spouse occupying my home, (iii) any trust or estate in which I, my spouse or any such relative owns at least 10% beneficial interest or of which any of us serves as trustee, executor or in any similar capacity and (iv) any corporate or other organization in which I, my spouse or any such relative owns at least 10% of any class of equity securities or of the equity interest.

It is understood and agreed that this Letter Agreement shall terminate and be of no further force and effect if the Merger Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms.

Execution of this letter should not be construed as an admission on my part that I am an affiliate of South Tulsa as described in the first paragraph of this letter or as a waiver of any rights I may have to object to any claim that I am such an affiliate on or after the date of this letter.

Very truly yours,

The provisions of this Section 2 shall not restrict (i) Transfers by will or by operation of law (in which case this Agreement shall bind the transferee) (ii) Transfers by gift made by the Shareholder, subject to the donee expressly assuming the obligations of the undersigned arising under this Agreement, or (iii) Transfers as Commerce may otherwise permit in writing.

(b) Subject to the provisions set forth in Section 8 hereof and as security for the Shareholder's obligations under Section 3(a), the Shareholder hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints each of Commerce, Merger Sub and J. Daniel Stinnett, acting together or separately and its or his designees as its or his attorney and proxy in accordance with the OGCA, with full power of substitution and resubstitution, to cause the Shareholder's Shares to be counted as present at the Company Shareholders' Meeting or any other meeting of shareholders of Company, to vote the Shares at the Company Shareholders' Meeting or any other meeting of shareholders of Company, however called, and to execute consents in respect of the Shares as and to the extent provided in Section 3(a).

(c) The Shareholder represents that any proxies heretofore given in respect of the Shares, if any, are revocable, and have been revoked. The Shareholder hereby agrees not to grant any subsequent proxy or power of attorney with respect to the Shares.

The Shareholder hereby agrees that, if for any reason the proxy granted herein is not irrevocable (subject to the terms of this Agreement), then the Shareholder agrees to vote the Shares in accordance with Section 3(a) hereof as instructed by Commerce in writing.

Section 4. Fiduciary Duties. OPINION OF SOUTH TULSA FINANCIAL ADVISOR

December 4, 2006

Board of Directors
South Tulsa Financial Corporation
6130 East 81st Street
Tulsa, OK 74137-2101

Dear Members of the Board:

We understand that South Tulsa Financial Corporation, an Oklahoma corporation (South Tulsa), on the one hand, and Commerce Bancshares, Inc., a Missouri corporation (Commerce), and CBI-Kansas, Inc., a Kansas corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Commerce (Sub), on the other hand, are about to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger to be dated December 4, 2006 (the Agreement) pursuant to which South Tulsa will merge with and into Sub and become a wholly owned subsidiary of Commerce (the Merger). In connection with the Merger, subject to certain adjustments and except as provided for in the Agreement, each outstanding share of common stock, $1.00 par value per share, of South Tulsa (the Common Stock) issued and outstanding at the Effective Time shall be converted into such number of shares of common stock, $5.00 par value per share, of Commerce (Commerce Common Stock) as shall be equal to the quotient of $340.54 (the Company Per Share Value) divided by the Commerce Stock Price if the Commerce Stock Price is greater than or equal to $45.30 and less than or equal to $50.06; that number of shares of Commerce Common Stock equal to the Company Per Share Value divided by $45.30 if the Commerce Stock Price is less than $45.30; and that number of shares of Commerce Common Stock equal to the Company Per Share Value divided by $50.06 if the Commerce Stock Price is greater than $50.06 (collectively, the Merger Consideration). Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein, shall have the same meaning ascribed to them in the Agreement. In connection with the Merger and the Agreement, you have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to be paid to the holders of Common Stock of South Tulsa.

Hovde Financial, Inc. (Hovde), as part of its investment banking business, is continually engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive bidding, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes.

We were retained by South Tulsa to act as its financial advisor in connection with the Agreement and the Merger. We will receive compensation from South Tulsa in connection with our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the Merger. Additionally, South Tulsa has agreed to indemnify us for certain liabilities arising out of our engagement.

During the course of our engagement and for the purposes of the opinion set forth herein, we have:

- (i) reviewed the Agreement and all attachments thereto;

Board of Directors
December 4, 2006

- (ii) reviewed certain historical publicly available business and financial information concerning South Tulsa and Commerce;
- (iii) reviewed certain internal financial statements and other financial and operating data concerning South Tulsa;
- (iv) analyzed certain financial projections prepared by the management of South Tulsa;
- (v) held discussions with members of the senior management of South Tulsa and Commerce for the purpose of reviewing the future prospects of South Tulsa and Commerce;
- (vi) reviewed historical market prices and trading volumes of Commerce Common Stock;
- (vii) reviewed the terms of recent merger and acquisition transactions, to the extent publicly available, involving banks and bank holding companies that we considered relevant;
- (viii) evaluated the pro forma ownership of Commerce Common Stock by the holders of Common Stock of South Tulsa relative to the pro forma contribution of South Tulsa's assets, liabilities, equity and earnings to the combined company;
- (ix) analyzed the pro forma impact of the Merger on the combined company's earnings per share, consolidated capitalization and financial ratios; and
- (x) performed such other analyses and considered such other factors as we have deemed appropriate.

We also took into account our assessment of general economic, market and financial conditions and our experience in other transactions as well as our knowledge of the banking industry and our general experience in securities valuations. In rendering this opinion, we have assumed, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of the financial and other information and representations contained in the materials provided to us by South Tulsa and Commerce and in the discussions with the managements of South Tulsa and Commerce. In that regard, we have assumed that the financial forecasts, including, without limitation, the projections regarding under-performing and nonperforming assets and net charge-offs have been reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best currently available information and judgments and estimates of South Tulsa and Commerce and that such forecasts will be realized in the amounts and at the times contemplated thereby. We are not experts in the evaluation of loan and lease portfolios for purposes of assessing the adequacy of the allowances for losses with respect thereto and have assumed that such allowances made by South Tulsa, Commerce or their respective subsidiaries are in the aggregate adequate to cover such losses. We were not retained to and did not conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or facilities of South Tulsa or Commerce or their respective subsidiaries. In addition, we have not reviewed individual credit files nor have we made an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities of South Tulsa, Commerce or any of their respective subsidiaries and we were not furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals.

We have assumed that the Merger will be consummated substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the Agreement. We have further assumed that the Merger will be accounted for as tax free reorganization under generally accepted accounting principles. We have assumed that the Merger is, and will be, in compliance with all laws and regulations that are applicable to South Tulsa, Commerce and their subsidiaries. In rendering this opinion, we have assumed that there are no factors that would impede any necessary regulatory or governmental approval of the Merger and we have further assumed that, in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory and governmental approvals, no restriction will be imposed on Commerce or the surviving corporations that would have a material adverse effect on the surviving corporations or the contemplated benefits of the Merger. We have also assumed that no change in applicable law or regulation would occur that would cause a material adverse change in the prospects or operations of Commerce or any of the surviving corporations after the Merger.

Our opinion is based solely upon the information available to us and the economic, market and other circumstances, as they exist as of the date hereof. Events occurring and information that becomes available after the date hereof could materially affect the assumptions and analyses used in preparing this opinion. We have not undertaken to reaffirm or revise this opinion or otherwise comment upon any events occurring or information that becomes available after the date hereof, except as otherwise agreed in our engagement letter.

We are not expressing any opinion herein as to the prices at which Commerce Common Stock issued in the Merger may trade if and when they are issued or at any future time, nor does our opinion constitute a recommendation to any holder of Common Stock of South Tulsa as to how such holder should vote with respect to the Agreement at any meeting of holders of the Common Stock of South Tulsa.

This letter is solely for the information of the Board of Directors of South Tulsa and is not to be used, circulated, quoted or otherwise referred to for any other purpose, nor is it to be filed with, included in or referred to in whole or in part in any registration statement, proxy statement or any other document, except in each case in accordance with our prior written consent which shall not be unreasonably withheld; provided, however, that we hereby consent to the inclusion and reference to this letter in any registration statement, proxy statement, information statement or tender offer document to be delivered to the holders of Common Stock of South Tulsa in connection with the Merger if and only if this letter is quoted in full or attached as an exhibit to such document and this letter has not been withdrawn prior to the date of such document.

Subject to the foregoing and based on our experience as investment bankers, our activities and assumptions as described above, and other factors we have deemed relevant, we are of the opinion as of the date hereof that the Merger Consideration to be paid to the holders of Common Stock of South Tulsa pursuant to the Agreement is fair, from a financial point of view.

Sincerely,
/s/ Hovde Financial, Inc.

Each shareholder electing to demand the appraisal of the shares of the shareholder shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger or consolidation, a written demand for appraisal of the shares of the shareholder. The demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the shareholder and that the shareholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of the shares of the shareholder. A proxy or vote against the merger or consolidation shall not constitute such a demand. A shareholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within ten (10) days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation shall notify each shareholder of each constituent corporation who has complied with the provisions of this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger or consolidation as of the date that the merger or consolidation has become effective; or

If the merger or consolidation is approved pursuant to the provisions of Section 1073 or 1083 of this title, either a constituent corporation before the effective date of the merger or consolidation or the surviving or resulting corporation within ten (10) days thereafter shall notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of the constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of the constituent corporation, and shall include in the notice a copy of this section. The notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, shall, also notify the shareholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation. Any shareholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within twenty (20) days after the date of mailing of the notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting corporation the appraisal of the holder's shares. The demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the shareholder and that the shareholder intends to demand the appraisal of the holder's shares. If the notice does not notify shareholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation either:

a. each constituent corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger or consolidation notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of the constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger or consolidation, or

b. the surviving or resulting corporation shall send a second notice to all holders on or within ten (10) days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation; provided, however, that if the second notice is sent more than twenty (20) days following the mailing of the first notice, the second notice need only be sent to each shareholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of the holder's shares in accordance with this subsection. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation that is required to give either notice that the notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the shareholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than ten (10) days prior to the date the notice is given; provided, if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the record date shall be the effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

E. Within one hundred twenty (120) days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation or any shareholder who has complied with the provisions of subsections A and D of this section and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may file a petition in district court demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such shareholders; provided, however, at any time within sixty (60) days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any shareholder shall have the right to withdraw the demand of the shareholder for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation. Within one hundred twenty (120) days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any shareholder who has complied with the requirements of subsections A and D of this section, upon written request, shall be entitled to receive from the corporation surviving the merger or resulting from the consolidation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger or consolidation and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of the shares. The written statement shall be mailed to the shareholder within ten (10) days after the shareholder's written request for a statement is received by the surviving or resulting corporation or within ten (10) days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal pursuant to the provisions of subsection D of this section, whichever is later.

F. Upon the filing of any such petition by a shareholder, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon the surviving or resulting corporation, which, within twenty (20) days after service, shall file, in the office of the court clerk of the district court in which the petition was filed, a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all shareholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements regarding the value of their shares have not been reached by the surviving or resulting corporation. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving or resulting corporation, the petition shall be accompanied by such duly verified list. The court clerk, if so ordered by the court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing on the petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving or resulting corporation and to the shareholders shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. Notice shall also be given by one or more publications at least one (1) week before the day of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, or other publication as the court deems advisable. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving or resulting corporation.

G. At the hearing on the petition, the court shall determine the shareholders who have complied with the provisions of this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The court may require the shareholders who have demanded an appraisal of their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the court clerk for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any shareholder fails to comply with this direction, the court may dismiss the proceedings as to that shareholder.

H. After determining the shareholders entitled to an appraisal, the court shall appraise the shares, determining their fair value exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger or consolidation, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining the fair value, the court shall take into account all relevant factors. In determining the fair rate of interest, the court may consider all relevant factors, including the rate of interest which the surviving or resulting corporation would have to pay to borrow money during the pendency of the proceeding. Upon application by the surviving or resulting corporation or by any shareholder entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the court may, in its discretion, permit discovery or other pretrial proceedings and may proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the shareholder entitled to an appraisal. Any shareholder whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving or resulting corporation pursuant to the provisions of subsection F of this section and who has submitted the certificates of stock of the shareholder to the court clerk, if required, may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that the shareholder is not entitled to appraisal rights pursuant to the provisions of this section.

I. The court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving or resulting corporation to the shareholders entitled thereto. Interest may be simple or compound, as the court may direct. Payment shall be made to each shareholder, in the case of holders of uncertificated stock immediately, and in the case of holders of shares represented by certificates upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates representing the stock. The court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the district court may be enforced, whether the surviving or resulting corporation be a corporation of this state or of any other state.

J. The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the court and taxed upon the parties as the court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a shareholder, the court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any shareholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all of the shares entitled to an appraisal.

K. From and after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, no shareholder who has demanded appraisal rights as provided for in subsection D of this section shall be entitled to vote the stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on the stock, except dividends or other distributions payable to shareholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger or consolidation; provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal shall be filed within the time provided for in subsection E of this section, or if the shareholder shall deliver to the surviving or resulting corporation a written withdrawal of the shareholder's demand for an appraisal and an acceptance of the merger or consolidation, either within sixty (60) days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation as provided for in subsection E of this section or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of the shareholder to an appraisal shall cease; provided further, no appraisal proceeding in the district court shall be dismissed as to any shareholder without the approval of the court, and approval may be conditioned upon terms as the court deems just.

L. The shares of the surviving or resulting corporation into which the shares of any objecting shareholders would have been converted had they assented to the merger or consolidation shall have the status of authorized and unissued shares of the surviving or resulting corporation.
