FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LendingTree Improves Outlook for Third Quarter to $0.06 Earnings Per Share

Management expects to achieve positive GAAP earnings per share (EPS) for the first time in the third quarter 2002, one quarter earlier than previous guidance

GAAP EPS for the third quarter is currently projected to be $0.06, versus previous guidance of a $0.01 loss per share

Net income attributable to common shareholders for the third quarter is currently projected to be $1.4 million, an improvement from previous guidance of a loss of $0.2 million

CHARLOTTE, N.C., September 9, 2002 - LendingTree, Inc. (NASDAQ: TREE), the leading online lending exchange, today announced that it has revised its financial guidance upward for the third quarter ended September 30, 2002.

The Company expects earnings per share (EPS) of $0.06, calculated in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), for the third quarter of 2002, compared to its previous guidance of a $0.01 loss per share, marking the first time the Company would post positive GAAP earnings. Net income attributable to common shareholders for the third quarter is currently estimated now to be $1.4 million, improved from the previous guidance of a net loss of $0.2 million.

Founder and CEO Doug Lebda stated, "Today we are announcing that we expect to achieve a significant milestone in our Company's history, EPS profitability on a GAAP basis, one quarter earlier than we previously anticipated. One of our major goals when we started LendingTree was to leverage our scalable business model to achieve significant growth and long-term profitability. We are very pleased to be delivering on this goal."

Lebda continued, "We are experiencing continued strength in the mortgage refinance product, as well as the home equity, auto, and realty services products, which are all benefiting from a series of new operating initiatives implemented this year. By implementing these initiatives, we have increased the capacity of our lending exchange, and the conversion metrics across our loan products have remained strong. These initiatives are resulting in a better consumer experience with improved closing rates through our exchange, which we should continue to benefit from in the future. Consequently, we remain optimistic on our business outlook."

The Company is currently estimating the potential impact the anticipated third quarter results will have on its future outlook and will discuss its projections for the remainder of 2002 and 2003 at its next quarterly earnings conference call in late October.
