Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

On February 7, 2007 at 8:00 p.m. eastern time, Hugh Sawyer, President and Chief Executive Officer of Allied Holdings, Inc. (Allied or the Company), will host a listen-only conference call that will be open only to employees of the Company and certain representatives of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (the U.S. Teamsters) to discuss the motion filed by the Company with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia to reject the collective bargaining agreement between certain subsidiaries of the Company and the U.S. Teamsters. Information provided by Mr. Sawyer on the conference call may include information that is material and that has not previously been disclosed by Allied to the public. As a result, the Company is furnishing as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report, the talking points to be used by Mr. Sawyer in connection with the conference call. A copy of the motion was previously furnished by the Company as Exhibit 99.1 to the Company's Current Report on form 8-K filed on February 5, 2007.

Statements included in Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report that are not strictly historical are forward-looking statements. Such statements include, without limitations, any statements containing the words believe, anticipate, estimate, expect, intend, plan, seek, and similar expressions. These forward-looking statements involve a number of risks and uncertainties including risks and uncertainties relating to the following: Allied's ability to negotiate a new collective bargaining agreement with its employees in the U.S. represented by the U.S. Teamsters; the impact on the Company if the court denies Allied's motion to reject the collective bargaining agreement with the U.S. Teamsters; labor disputes involving Allied or its significant customers; the impact of the Chapter 11 proceedings and the related circumstances which could materially affect the amounts of assets and liabilities included in the consolidated financial statements or the Company's market share; risks associated with Allied's ability to obtain approval of and/or to implement its plan of reorganization; risks associated with Allied's ability to obtain exit financing to replace the Debtor-In-Possession Credit Facility; sufficient cash availability for the Company to meet its working capital need; the ability to comply with the terms of our current debt agreements and customer contracts; economic recessions or downturns in new vehicle production or sales; the highly competitive nature of the automotive distribution industry; dependence on the automotive industry and ongoing initiatives of customers to reduce costs; loss or reduction of revenues generated by the Company's major customers or the loss of any such customers; the variability of OEM production and seasonality of the automotive distribution industry; Allied's highly leveraged financial position; Allied's ability to obtain financing in the future; Allied's ability to fund future capital requirements; increased costs, capital expenditure requirements and other consequences of the Company's aging fleet of Rigs as well as Rig purchasing cycles; dependence on key personnel; and the availability of qualified drivers.

Many of these factors could cause Allied's actual results to differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements and are beyond the Company's ability to control or predict. Allied cautions readers not to place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements and Allied also disclaims any obligation to update or review forward-looking statements, except as may be required by law.
