Item 8.01 Other Events

CLARIFICATION OF ACCOUNTING TREATMENT OF SALE OF AUTOMOTIVE
PRODUCT LINES DURING THIRD QUARTER OF 2006

On September 29, Eaton filed a Current Report on Form 8-K describing certain material plant closures, as well as an after-tax gain of $38 million from the sale of certain European automotive transmission and engine controls product lines and a $29 million income tax benefit resulting from the favorable resolution in the third quarter of 2006 of multiple international and U.S. income tax items. These items are part of the Company's Excel 07 program, which is the Company's program to address resource levels and operating performance in businesses which underperformed in 2005 and businesses in which markets are expected to soften during the second half of 2006 and in 2007. The Excel 07 program includes the costs of actions as well as funding sources such as savings generated from the actions, sales of non-strategic product lines, and benefits from corporate actions such as resolution of tax audits.

The after-tax gain from the sale of the European automotive transmission and engine controls product lines will be classified as a gain from a discontinued operation, and accordingly, will not be shown as a gain within the Company's Automotive segment. As a result, the third quarter Automotive segment operating profit will be reduced by the costs of the two material plant closures described in the September 29 Current Report, as well as the costs of several smaller Excel 07 actions taken during the quarter, with the only offsetting items shown in the Automotive segment being the savings generated from the Excel 07 actions that have been taken so far this year. However, the classification of the after-tax gain from the sale of the European automotive transmission and engine controls product lines as a gain from a discontinued operation does not impact the guidance regarding the overall net impact of Excel 07 in the third quarter the change will only affect the category in which the gain will appear.
